No Criminal Intent Found In MacLaren Youth's Death

WOODBURN (AP)—The death of William James, 16-year-old inmate of the MacLaren School for Boys, was not due to criminal intent, a six-man jury ruled Friday.

But the jury, impeached by Lee Edwards, Marion County deputy coroner, failed to fix the blame for the boy's death.

Edwards said an autopsy showed the boy died of a skull fracture and brain hemorrhage between the skull and the brain. He said the wound did not appear to have been caused by a blow from a fist.

Dr. Gerald Smith of Woodburn, the school physician, was called 10 hours after the boy had been hurt in a fight.

Prior to the arrival of the doctor, staff members testified, the boy's treatment consisted of aspirin and cold packs.

"It would have helped me a lot if we could have got the boy into the University of Oregon hospital," Dr. Smith said.

He explained the difficulty he encountered "trying to get someone to allow the youth to be admitted."

He said he called five numbers at the hospital, explained the seriousness of the case each time and received the runaround from each of the sources.

"We lost a whole hour," he said. "That's a poor way to operate."

Finally Dr. Smith received permission from Amos Reed, superintendent of the school, to take the boy to Providence Hospital in Portland, where a specialist had been alerted. The boy died en route to the hospital.

Another witness, Donald Paul Long, 15, told how he hit the James boy. Long, who weighed about 109 pounds, told how James, about 90 odd pounds, said, "You sure hit hard."

The testimony showed the

James boy was injured in mid-afternoon Wednesday. He complained of head pains about 6 p.m. and went into convulsions about 11 p.m., which was when the doctor was called.

James, who was from Grants Pass, was in MacLaren School for the second time. He was arrested Nov. 10 as a runaway. He previously had been arrested for burglary.

Long, a Toledo youth, was sent to the institution Nov. 14 after police picked him up for burglary, being drunk on the highway and running away.

Damage Suits Name KF Man

Four separate damage suits, seeking more than $48,500, have been filed in circuit court as a result of an automobile accident on South Sixth Street last November 22.

Defendant in the four suits is Ronald Frank Kling, driver of a car that collided with a car driven by Milton L. Anderson in the 2900 block of South Sixth Street.

The similarly styled suits seek damages of $25,000 for Anderson, $15,000 for Mrs. Anderson, $5,000 for Gladys Jean Anderson, the couple's 13-year-old daughter, and $3,500 for Richard Lee Anderson, 17, a relative.

Four other suits have been filed by the State Department of Highways to obtain property in the Buena Vista Addition of Klamath Falls for the west side bypass now under construction. They are styled against John D. and Dorothy Adams, Leftoy and Bessie Brown, William E. and Vivian Henderson, and Don F. and Dorothea M. Nolan.

Another suit resulting from a traffic accident has been filed by Joe Black against Nancy Bell and James G. Elic. The suit seeks $7,500 personal injury damages and $77 property damages.

Martin Greene and Sons have filed suit to recover $1,600, plus interest, said due from sale of 400 sacks of potatoes to J. J. Lasselt last April 3.

Child Program Set

Children of the preschool, primary and junior departments of the First Christian Church will join in the Christmas program at the church starting at 6:30 p.m. Sunday, December 21. The program is one for the entire Bible School family. There will be treats for the children.

"Chimes of the Holy Night," a Christmas cantata will be given at 7:30 p.m. by the church choir under the direction of Everett Peery. A fellowship hour will follow at 8:30.

Firm Figures County Value

Property owned by Klamath County is worth — for fire insurance purposes — $1,540,928.

That's the verdict of the U.S. Appraisal Company, which was asked to evaluate county property by the county court. The court explained that the last appraisal was made 10 years ago, and it thought some changes might have occurred since then.

The court was right. County property is worth considerably more now. Ten years ago property was appraised at $1,098,152.

The difference in valuation results from a number of factors. Among them is a new office and laboratory building at the county experimental farm, valued at $35,000, an increased valuation of the courthouse itself from $249,000 in 1948 to $302,000 now because of improvements and higher property values and another $100,000 in equipment and supplies in the county library-museum.

Not included in the appraisal was the concrete jail. Included, but considered aside from other properties, was the $100,000 cement county shop building.

The appraisal was made under a $1,000 contract.

Man Scolded, Fined By Judge

"You're the type of individual who makes it difficult for decent, respectable parents to raise decent, respectable children," Judge D. E. Van Vactor told Jack Lipberg, 46, when he sentenced him on a charge of giving liquor to a 17-year-old boy, in district court Friday.

The lecture accompanied a sentence of four months in the county jail and a fine of $250. Lipberg pleaded guilty to the charge on Thursday when a second defendant in the same case, Isaac Nalls, 39, was granted until Monday to enter a plea.

Lipberg is the father of five children.

Foresters Get Timber Data

Federal foresters, at a meeting in Klamath Falls Thursday, obtained the basic data on which to formulate plans for offering for sale to the Klamath Basin timber industry sufficient timber from federal lands through 1961.

J. Herbert Stone, regional forester of Portland, expressed confidence after the meeting that offerings of timber from federal lands could be made during the next three years to make up for the volume which would otherwise be available from the Klamath Indian Reservation if it was not in the process of termination.

Stone said that a more complete report on results of the meeting could be expected early next week.

CHRISTMAS PLAY

Children of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the Ferguson School will present "Joseph and the Nativity" on Monday, December 22, at 7:30 p.m. The Christmas story will be told in pictures and songs. This special Christmas program will take place of the regular Parents and Patrons December meeting. All parents and friends are invited.
