Music In Plant Aid In Output

NEW YORK (UPI)—The beat of piped-in music has production humming in 20,000 plants and offices across the nation.

But workers aren't the only ones being swayed by the melodious rhythms.

At McKeesport, Pa., experimenters found that music in the cowbarn increased the yield of milk.

In the Springfield, Mass., Animal Hospital, dogs and cats took to fighting when the hospital's music-making apparatus went on the blink.

Soon after music drifted into the roosts of a Dayton, O., chicken farm, egg-laying went up 14 per cent.

And on a poultry farm in Tariffville, Conn., Rock Cornish hens have been putting on more weight since lilting tunes have invaded the hen house.

But with human chicks, music, apparently, has just the opposite effect. It is used by two nationwide chains of reducing salons.

To prove that music has an effect on the senses, medical science has run some strange experiments.

Dr. Charles M. Diserins, of the University of Cincinnati, tested 10 men for strength of grip. Six of them were stronger when music was played.

Another experimenter played the "National Emblem March" and measured physiological response to the beat. Just about every body function was stimulated, including the cardiovascular system, muscular activity, working power, digestion and secretions.

In a six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden, riders who pedaled to music averaged 19.6 miles per hour; those without, 17.9 miles per hour.
