Land Use Request Made

Proposed withdrawal of approximately 152 acres of public land in the Siskiyou National Forest was announced recently by Virgil T. Heath, Oregon State supervisor of the Bureau of Land Management at Portland.

The land is along or adjacent to the Illinois River a couple of miles upstream from its confluence with the Rogue River in east central Curry County. The land varies in elevation from 300 to 1,200 feet. Other than sand bars and beaches along the river, the lands are rough and mountainous.

The U.S. Forest Service, which requested the withdrawal, said the purpose is to preserve the natural scenic and recreational values of the land for the public. The withdrawal will be subject to valid existing rights, existing withdrawals, and will bar the future location of mining claims.
