Virginia Walkley Weds Charles Duane Dougherty

Virginia Louise Walkley chose the holiday motif for her December wedding to Charles Duane Dougherty. Evergreen trees and large holly wreaths adorned St. Paul's Episcopal Church for the ceremony read by the Rev. Robert L. Greene before an altar banked with white gladioli and stock. The pews on the aisle were marked by white candles set in evergreen boughs.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell A. Walkley, was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of white imported silk tulle, folds of which formed a modified bustle at the back and fell into a chapel train. The neckline was outlined with sequin-trimmed lace. A band of sequins and pearls held the fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a white orchid surrounded by white roses tied with white ribbon streamers on a white prayer book.

Susan Ann Walkley, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Lee McGill, Medford, Mrs. Gary Zehner, and Sandra Lynch, Portland. They wore identical full tulle dresses of poinsettia red tulle made with scoop necklines and three-quarter length sleeves. On their heads they wore a circle of net held by a red velvet clip and flat bow. Each carried a bouquet of red and white candy-striped carnations backed with an evergreen spray.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Dougherty, was attended by Jerry Kirkpatrick. Ushers were Gary Zehner, Ed Gernue, John Johnson and Harold Berry. The bride's family, played the wedding music on the organ and accompanied the soloist, Shariene Finchum, a college roommate of the bride.

Mrs. Walkley chose for her wedding a two piece dress with satin and rhinestone trim which she wore with a sequin hat and white gloves. Mrs. Dougherty wore a black tulle dress with pearl trim, red hat and accessories. Both mothers wore red rosebud corsages.

At the reception in the church parlors Mrs. Nell Elder, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Ernest Trulove, the bride's aunt, served the beautifully decorated cake which was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Mrs. Herbert Pounds and Mrs. Jean Wilkinson presided at the coffee table and Sharron Dougherty, sister of the bridegroom, poured the punch. Mrs. Tim O'Hara was in charge of the guest book.

For traveling the bride changed into an avocado green wool jersey dress with matching plaid coat. Black hat and accessories and the orchid from her corsage completed the ensemble.

The new Mrs. Dougherty graduated from KUHS and attended Southern Oregon College. Her husband also graduated from KUHS and is presently employed at the South Sixth Street Branch of the First National Bank. They will reside at 1428 Pacific Terrace.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Jean Wilkinson, Prineville; Mr. and Mrs. Lee McGill and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Morrow, all of Medford; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Allen, New Pine Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Chase and sons, Jay and Mike, of Salem.

bell. The bride cut the first slice of cake which was then served by Mrs. Ralph Leach. Mrs. Lawrence May poured coffee and Mrs. Carlos Van Fleet presided at the punch bowl. The guest book was passed by Mrs. M. E. Deller of Portland.

For their honeymoon to San Francisco the new Mrs. Deller wore a peacock blue dress with matching hat and a fur jacket. Her accessories were black patent leather and she wore the orchid from her bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Ashland High School and will complete her college course in elementary education at Southern Oregon College in June. Her husband attended Oregon State College for two years and is now a junior at SOC. Both are active in musical circles and in student affairs. They will reside at 415 Holly Street in Ashland.

Relatives of both the bride and bridegroom were among the many out of town guests: Mr. and Mrs. K. Schomp and granddaughter Kathy, San Francisco; Robert Schomp, Orange, California; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Fox and daughter, Ayline of Long Beach, California; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Newport and daughter, Gloria and sons, Robin and LeRoy of Tangent, and daughter, Harry Joy of Covina, California; and daughter, Linda of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Deller, Eugene; Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Deller, Portland and Donna Deller, Roseburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Deller, parents of the bridegroom, were hosts at a rehearsal dinner Tuesday evening, December 30, at the new banquet room of the Plaza Cafe. Their guests were members of the wedding party and their wives and husbands.

Wedding Vows Spoken In Church Ceremony

Peggy Jean Chubbuck, daughter of Mrs. John Tally of Klamath Falls and Muriel Chubbuck of Lincoln, Nebraska, became the bride of Calvin E. Day, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Day, December 31 in the Stewart Lenox Baptist Church.

In the presence of 100 guests the Rev. L. Rowland read the service before the altar which was decorated with white and pink chrysanthemums.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a waltz-length princess style gown of white Chantilly lace over satin fashioned with three-quarter length sleeves. The scalloped neckline was outlined with seed pearls. Her shoulder veil of net was trimmed with lace and held by a pearl bow. She wore a gold cross, loaned to her by Mrs. Donna Hart, and carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Dixie Morgan, maid of honor, wore an orchid frock and carried green carnations. Patricia Dvorak, bridesmaid, was dressed in Nile green and carried orchid carnations. Their gowns were identical in style, fashioned of nylon dotted Swiss with fitted bodices, puff sleeves and bouffant skirts. They wore matching headbands.

Deborah Holliday was flower girl. Joe Day was best man for his brother, and ushers were Bill Cox and Jim Abbe.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. K. E. West at the organ. Mrs. Tally wore a gown of blue Chantilly lace with matching hat of net and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Day chose light rose Chantilly lace for her dress worn with a small hat of a matching shade. Her corsage was of deep rose carnations.

A reception followed in the church parlors. A four tiered cake made by Mrs. Raymond Day and decorated by Mrs. Bea Anderson with pink roses and topped with a bridal pair and lily-of-the-valley centered the lace-covered bride's table. It was served by Mrs. Hazel Carpenter. Mrs. Bea Anderson poured punch and Mrs. Mildred Holmes served coffee. Kay Edwards passed the guest book and Diane Anderson, Fontana, California, and Mrs. Helen Edwards were at the gift table.

The bride graduated from Fontana High School in Fontana, California. Her husband is a Sacred Heart Academy graduate and is employed by the Mt. Pitt Lumber Company in this city where they will reside at 2111 Holly Street.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Barnett and Diane, Fontana, California; Mr. and Mrs. Don Griffin and Don, Macdonel; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Price, Mt. Hebron; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carpenter, Ashland.

Freighter, Plane Take Couple To Land Of Amazon

Rhoda and Elmer Harnden rubbed a genie's lamp, left the realm of prescriptions and pills at the Star Drug which they own and went aboard the Norwegian Harlander for one of those dreamed about trips that few travelers take.

Early this month they hopped aboard a southbound plane for San Francisco to join other seafaring couples aboard the slow boat which will give them time to poke lazily into ports down the south coast of South America, let them take a long, long look at Cape Horn where many an ancestor of West Coast families plowed the early seas, and north again to Buenos Aires where they will change the mode of travel, taking to the air.

The back country up the Amazon, rubber plantations, the old Mayan ruins and last outpost of civilization are all written down in their little black books as "musts" on this trip of trips. They have a pack sack full of film for that 1,200 mile trek up the river, on the sea and home by way of Mexico.

Noomi Shrine Holds Meet

Noomi Shrine No. 5, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, held a stated meeting on Saturday, January 10, at 8 p.m. in the Masonic Temple.

Being "Advance Night" line officers advanced their stations, Ruth Rodenberger acting as worthy high priestess and Elvin Phillips, as watchman of shepherds presiding during the opening and closing ceremonies. Other officers advancing were Luella Chilcote as noble prophetess, Aura Mitchell as chaplain and Lois Murphy as worthy shepherdess. Worthy High Priestess Helen McCormack and Watchman of Shepherds Dale Howell were seated in the east and presided during the business session.

Preceding the meeting the Shrine was entertained by a program of vocal music by Mona Chenoweth, accompanied by Kay Detroit on the piano. Other entertainment during the evening was given by Helen McCormack and Dale Howell giving a discourse on strange Christmas gifts. Jim Hunter related his poem on New Year resolutions and Frank McCormack read a New Year's recipe.

Arrangements were made for a ceremonial on February 14, also a Valentine party and state of Oregon celebration. Members are reminded of practice at 7 p.m. on Sunday, February 8, and of a 4 o'clock business meeting to precede the ceremonial on February 14.

After the meeting refreshments were served in the dining hall with the tables decorated in January motif, zodiac signs with silver moons and stars, the various months designated by fortune readings. Serving on the committee were Betty Hunter, chairman, with Louise O'Brien and Mary Ellen Gastor assisting.

BRIDGE CLUB

BONANZA — Mrs. Claude Bechdoldt entertained her bridge club Wednesday, January 7. High prize for the afternoon went to Mrs. Merrill Stewart and traveling to Mrs. Christine McCormick. Others enjoying the party were Mrs. Birdie Burk, Mrs. Owen Pepple, Mrs. Roy Fornlund, Mrs. Cecil Haley and Mrs. Harold Williams.

Kingsley Wives Form New Club

Kingsley Field Infield Wives Club is the name given to the new organization formed by a group of women who met Tuesday evening, January 13, in the NCO Club at Kingsley Field.

Mrs. Floyd Rieden was elected president. Other officers are Mrs. Gail Knapp, vice president; Mrs. John Compton, recording secretary; Mrs. Michael Duch, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Everett Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Almer English, auditor.

The first project on the agenda for these energetic women is the establishment of a nursery school at the air base. Mrs. Virgil Mast will head the committee to make these plans.

New residents of the base who are arriving daily will be met and welcomed by members of the club.

Meetings will be held twice a month. At the next meeting, which will be a social evening, the group will be entertained by the Sweet Adelines.

Lakeview Couple Weds In Double Ring Rites

LAKEVIEW—Sylvia Lanette Ashcraft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Ashcraft, became the bride of Charles Edward Vandergaw December 31 at the First Baptist Church. The double ring ceremony was read by Dr. Alfred Russell at 10 o'clock in the morning. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Vandergaw.

Christmas decorations were placed throughout the church with the altar massed with blue daisies and white stock surrounded by florist greens.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. George Ashcraft, sang "A Wedding Prayer" and "Oh, Perfect Love" accompanied by Mrs. Herbert Sanderson at the organ.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride was dressed in a princess style gown of crystalline and lace made with close fitting bodice and short gathered sleeves. The fingertip veil of illusion was held by a tiara covered with seed pearls. The bridal bouquet of white rosebuds and carnations was tied with white satin ribbon streamers. A necklace of pearls was the bride's only jewelry.

Three sisters of the bride, Phyllis, Sharon and Joy Ashcraft, were bridesmaids. They were dressed alike in trapeze style frocks of ice blue and headbands of white fur.

A single blue poinsettia centered the white fur muffs which each carried.

Flower girls Kimmy Ewing, cousin of the bride, and Pammy Lasater, niece of the bridegroom, wore frocks of ice blue with bouffant over dresses of blue net, and carried baskets of white and blue daisies. Their headbands were of white fur.

Best man for his brother was Glen Vandergaw and ushers were another brother, Andrew Vandergaw and Con O'Keefe.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ashcraft wore a beige knit suit. Mrs. Vandergaw's dress was navy blue. Both wore corsages of white rosebuds.

A reception was held in the church parlors where the wedding cake was served by Mrs. Irwin Ewing, the bride's aunt, and Mrs. Norman Lasater, sister of the bridegroom. Punch was served by Mrs. Ronald Hawk and coffee by Mrs. Clyde Fenimore. The guest book was passed by Mrs. Con O'Keefe. Mrs. Dan Van Den Berg and Mrs. Charles Crowl were in charge of the gift table. Judy Goss assisted about the rooms. Mrs. Vandergaw wore a white knit suit and black accessories when she and her husband left on their wedding trip. They are now at home at 1411 College Way in Ashland where both are attending Southern Oregon College.

The bride, a 1956 graduate of Lakeview High School, is a senior in elementary education at SOC. Her husband is majoring in pre-dentistry.

OSC Mothers Will Meet

The Oregon State Mothers' Club will meet Thursday, January 22, at 2:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Phil Schroeder, 1321 Pacific Terrace. Refreshments will be served by the senior mothers, according to Mrs. Robert Thompson, president.

Plans for the dinner meeting at which Dean Poling will be the speaker will be formulated and all mothers of Oregon State students or alumni are urged to attend.
