

THE SNOW QUEEN and the Royal Snow Flakes were honored guests at the annual Snowball Formal given December 20 by the Order of DeMolay. For the event, the ceiling of Reames Country Club was given a canopy effect with blue, silver and white streamers. The traditional snowball was mounted and turned slowly on a rod at the side of the ballroom. Glittering balls and snowflakes, loaned by Jesse House, contributed to the winter wonderland atmosphere. Guests danced to the music of the Starlighters Trio.

STEPHANIE WALKER was chosen Snow Queen of the Snowball Formal and is crowned in picture by her escort, Master Councilor Gary Kranenburg. The Royal Snow Flakes and their escorts were (1) Judy Cullimore and Tom Milne, senior councilor; (2) Helen Faulkner and John Cox, junior councilor; (3) Jackie Dahn and Bob Harris, marshal; (4) Carol Taylor and Jim Compton, chaplain. The parents of the queen and her court were also honor guests at the affair.

MR. AND MRS. JACK A. CORRA are pictured following their wedding in the home of the Rev. Kenneth Morgan who performed the service December 23 at 8 o'clock in the evening. The bride wore a maize sheath dress with royal blue accessories. Her corsage was of red roses. Mr. and Mrs. John Mode were the attendants. The Christmas motif was used to decorate the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Florence Fanning, 216 E. Main, for the reception which followed the wedding. A three tiered cake decorated with pink roses and topped with green bells was served to the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Corra spent the Christmas holidays with their parents and friends in Columbia City. They are now at home at 405 North Second Street in this city where the bridegroom is employed at Cascade Home Appliance Company.

Dorothy Danosky Weds In December Ceremony

White stock and red carnations were combined with evergreens in arrangements used December 21 in Zion Lutheran Church when Dorothy Danosky became the bride of Charles Otis Overmiller in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. H. M. Warnke at two o'clock in the afternoon. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Danosky of Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Overmiller of Effingham, Kansas, are parents of the bridegroom.

Robert Danosky gave his daughter in marriage. Her waltz length gown was of white lace over tulle bodice and full skirt. A veil and net coronet held a short veil of illusion. She carried a white Bible topped with red roses tied with white ribbon streamers. Charlotte Kofford, college roommate of the bride from Baker, was maid of honor. She was dressed in a waltz length princess style frock of emerald green and a matching headband. She carried a white velvet muff centered with red carnations from which long red ribbon streamers fell. Jerry Macken of Malin was best man. Marvin Macken, Malin, and Kenneth McAndrews, Klamath Falls, were ushers.

The traditional wedding music was played by Kathleen Moore who also accompanied the soloist, Donna McFarland. Mrs. Danosky, mother of the bride, wore a lavender two piece dress and black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses and white carnations.

Library Women Continue Plans For Benefit Tea

Oregon's 100th birthday of statehood has been chosen as a fitting theme for the 1959 Woman's Library Club benefit bridge party and tea, according to Mrs. W. Don Miller, general chairman for the annual affair, which is scheduled this year for Saturday, January 24.

The library club is the oldest women's organization in Klamath County, Mrs. Miller said. The State Centennial will be observed in decorations and costumes of committee members for the event, to be held in the club rooms at the city library, Fifth and Klamath beginning at 1:30 p.m.

The science section of the children's department of the city library will be the richer in books and pictures following the party, having been designated beneficiary of the bridge-bridge by the project committee of the club. Mrs. Charles Larkin heads this group.

Among those loaning antiques and costumes to create in the library club rooms a setting which will depict early days in Oregon will be Mrs. Bert C. Thomas, Mrs. M. E. Cooper, Mrs. C. F. O'Loughlin, Mrs. Bert Schmidt, Mrs. Henry Gerber and Mrs. E. Jack Warrick.

Mrs. H. A. Nitchelm and Mrs. O. E. Powell, in costumes of the early days, will greet guests at the door on Saturday.

Mrs. Bert Thomas and Mrs. Victor O'Neil will preside at the tea table during the tea hour which begins at 3:30 p.m. Saturday. Assisting about the rooms will be a group of high school girls in pioneer costume.

Cards will be played beginning at 1 o'clock. Mrs. Marshall Cornett is in charge of card tables, assisted by Mrs. L. E. Spence, Mrs. A. H. Patterson Jr. and Mrs. Harry Glesin are in charge of tallies. Mrs. F. S. Kelsay and Mrs. H. R. Waggoner are members of the calling committee.

Reservations may be made, also, with Mrs. Alan Baker, TU 2-3167, or Mrs. Loren Palmerton, TU 4-6624.

REFINISHING HINT

Refinishing furniture is a favorite hobby in U.S. homes since do-it-yourself came upon the scene. One problem confronting painters is "bleeding." To prevent the running in of one coat into another, seal the first coats. You may use a coat of shellac to do this or use a special paint sealer.

THE ENGAGEMENT of Gerry Griffin and Edwin H. Erland has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Griffin of Lakeview. A May wedding is planned when the future bridegroom will return from Japan where he is presently stationed with the Navy.

Lakeview Couple Wed In St. Patrick's Church

LAKEVIEW—A bride of January 3 was Norine Mary Cosgrove daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Cosgrove, whose wedding to Bert Swingle was an event of 2 o'clock at St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Lakeview, with the Rev. James O'Connor officiating at the single ring ceremony. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Swingle of Lakeview.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore an ankle length dress of Chantilly lace and tulle. The close fitting bodice was all over lace with long sleeves pointed at the wrist and high neckline with slightly turned lapels. The full skirt was fashioned in alternate layers of lace and tulle over white satin. The shoulder length veil of illusion was held by a half crown of seed pearls. She carried a white orchid on her prayer book.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Richard Pitcher of Klamath Falls, sister of the bride. Other attendants were a sister, Joanna Cosgrove, and Mrs. Ray Michaelson. They wore similar dresses of all over lace, street length, with full skirts gathered on a cummerbund of matching satin forming an empire waistline. The neckline, boat style in front, descended to a deep V in back, ending in a bow of the satin. Nosegays and headbands were of yellow shatterd carnations, with tallman roses in Mrs. Pitcher's nosegay and yellow roses in the others.

The church was decorated with poinsettias on the altars and baskets of yellow stock at the altar rail. Mrs. William Le Blanc was soloist and Mary Lee Scoville was organist. Frank Cannon was best man. Ushers were Patrick Cosgrove and Richard Pitcher, brother and brother-in-law of the bride.

Lace afternoon dresses were chosen by the mothers of the bridal couple. Mrs. Cosgrove was in pale blue with pink accessories and Mrs. Swingle in dusty rose with matching accessories. Their corsages were of pink frill roses.

The baskets of stock were used as background for the bride's table at the reception held at the parish hall. Cutting the cake were Mrs. Michael Guiney, an aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Charles Young. Mrs. Ronald Daron and Mrs. Patrick Cosgrove presided at the tea and coffee services and Mrs. Le

Blanc served the punch. In charge of the guest book was Mrs. Donald McDougall. Charcia Lantz arranged the gifts. The bride changed to a white knit suit with red accessories when the couple left for a short wedding trip. They are at home at 822 South 5th Street in Lakeview. Both are graduates of Lakeview High School. She is employed as chief operator for the West Coast Telephone Company. He attended the University of Portland and is now employed by the Lakeview Mining Company.
