Board May Close Talks

In answer to a request for a closed, rather than a public, meeting when teacher salary matters are to be discussed Monday night, the budget committees of School Districts 1 and 2 decided to grant a closed hearing only if they receive a written request for one from teachers' representatives.

J. C. Rennie, chairman of the joint budget committees, said Friday afternoon that no written request had yet been received. The matter came up at Monday night's meetings of the school boards, when Roderick Groshong, chairman of the Classroom Teachers' Salary Committee, expressed preference for a closed discussion of the matter.

Monday night has been set as the occasion to hear salary representations from all groups of school employes. Representatives of the cooks, janitors, and maintenance and secretarial personnel will be heard, time permitting.

Good Life Pays Off

NEW YORK (AP)—Joseph J. Hogan has found that leading a good life does pay off. He also discovered that a public agency has a heart.

Hogan, now 52, has been a fugitive for almost 32 years. In 1928 he stole a car in Cleveland. Sent to a federal road camp at Alderson, W.Va., in 1927, he escaped after serving three months of a three-year sentence.

Hogan got a job and married. In World War II he served as a tank driver and was awarded the Silver Star. Five years ago his wife died. Since then Hogan has been both father and mother to his live children.

Last month the FBI seized Hogan as a fugitive. He was sent to the Federal House of Detention.

Hogan appealed to the Legal Aid Society for help. Attorney Bernard Moldow took the case. Moldow went before U.S. District Judge Archie O. Dawson Friday and cited a proclamation issued by President Truman in 1945. Truman granted full pardon to any convict who served honorably in American forces for at least one year during World II.

Dawson freed Hogan on his own recognizance, pending a hearing on a full pardon Monday. The hearing is regarded as a technicality.

Beck Trial Recessed

TACOMA (AP)—The Dave Beck income tax evasion trial recessed for the weekend Friday after a day devoted to testimony concerning unreported income accounts turned in by the former Teamsters' Union president.

Asst. U. S. Atty. John S. Oenour submitted to evidence several Beck memos together with a number of salary and expense statements. These were in addition to Beck's monthly expense account statements.

The government contends much of the money, coming from the union to cover these expenses, can be established as income unreported by Beck.

Earlier testimony has shown that Beck, charged with evading $240,000 in income taxes, ran up thousands of dollars in expenses while traveling as a union executive. These bills subsequently were paid with Teamster funds.

Shortly before the recess, William Mullenholz, comptroller of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, told the federal jury that Beck's books are set up on a voucher system which requires supporting data for all salary and expense statements referred to the international.

Mullenholz and John English, international secretary-treasurer, are expected to give further testimony Monday concerning the international's records and their relation to Beck's expenses.

Dunsmuir Chamber Wants Utility Values Unchanged

DUNSMUIR—Directors of the Dunsmuir Chamber of Commerce will ask Siskiyou County and state officials to hold public utility assessments at their present levels.

The directors voted Thursday morning to write letters urging a firm stand to L. D. "Babe" Taylor, county assessor, with copies to the board of supervisors, Assemblywoman Pauline Davis and Senator Randolph Collier.

California Oregon Power Company, the county's largest utility, had paid its $437,923 tax bill without protest. Southern Pacific Company and Pacific Gas and Electric Company are protesting their taxes on the basis that assessments are not made on the same basis as individually owned properties.

Southern Pacific's Siskiyou County tax bill is $137,139. PG&E, with small holdings in the county, has a tax bill of only $674.

The directors also approved requesting the State Division of Highways to deed its unused land lying between U.S. 99 freeway and the Sacramento River to Shasta County for recreational development. Don Sirianni noted these parcels of land constitute a valuable public asset.

Jim Hanratty reported excellent progress on the membership drive. He is currently working renewing last year's memberships and contacting delinquent chamber members. He was promised membership statements and also a list of all those doing business in Dunsmuir and therefore potential chamber members.

The breakfast meeting at the Travelers Hotel was attended by 15 chamber directors and Chap Wentworth, chamber president.

Beefeaters OK Rent Agreement

LONDON (AP)—The Beefeaters will continue to appear in religious parades and perform other extra chores besides guarding and decorating the Tower of London.

The Beefeaters—yeoman wardens of the tower whose Tudor costumes of red and blue are well known to tourists—had threatened to stop doing traditional extra duties because the government wanted to raise rents on their quarters in the tower.

The Civil Service Union announced Friday "a very satisfactory settlement." Rents will go up as scheduled from the equivalent of 70 cents a week to $2.80, but at the same time a supplemental allowance will be raised from $1.12 to $4.90.

So the Beefeaters will come out $1.68 ahead.

Movies May Aid Search

PORTLAND (AP)—Police are turning to movies the Ken Martins made in earlier outings in hopes of finding the Portland family, missing since they went out to look for Christmas greens Dec. 7.

Movies taken by Mr. and Mrs. Martin will be shown to Oregon and Washington police next Thursday, although the formal search has been called off for lack of leads.

Ard Pratt of the Multnomah County Sheriff's office says he hopes the pictures might give leads to areas overlooked in the six-week search.

The couple vanished along with their three pretty young daughters.

Delinquency Tide Varies

PORTLAND (AP)—More youngsters got into trouble in Multnomah County last year, but the tide of delinquency was stemmed in several of the more serious categories, Circuit Judge Virgil Langtry said Friday.

In a detailed summary of Juvenile Court activity for 1958, Langtry said there were declines in the numbers of juveniles arrested for auto thefts, burglaries, sex offenses, injuries to persons, mischief and vandalism, liquor and curfew violations and trancies.

But there were increases in robberies, runaways, ungovernable children and thefts—especially shoplifting.

Langtry said the rise in the ungovernable children and runaway categories indicated that "our family situations are still bad and getting worse."

Vet Families Need Studied

DUNSMUIR—"Why Do You Belong to the American Legion Auxiliary?" was the subject of a brief message to the unit by Mrs. Myrtle French, unit president, at a breakfast meeting Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. Sidona Beagan.

The concern for hospitalized veterans and the concern for the needs of veterans and their families within the community were given as the basic reasons for Legion Auxiliary membership.

The Girls State program, the child welfare and education programs, Americanism essays and other patriotic project and community service makes membership and participation a satisfying experience, Mrs. French noted.

In other business, the members voted to adopt a minimum budget. Mrs. Signe Ahlstrom was asked to plan a hospital supply sewing quota.

"DENNIS THE MENACE"

AREN'T WE GETTIN' PRETTY FAR AWAY FROM A BATHROOM?!

'Hot Pepper' Slowing Down

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—Luis Carrizales, 100, "red hot pepper" father of six children in the last 14 years, said he plans on "living slow."

The part-Cherokee Indian, whose wife was 21 when they were married in 1945, said on his 100th birthday he didn't plan to have any more children.

But, he said, he had never been "sorry about our marriage."

"Living slow" didn't mean a rocking chair idleness, though, he said, celebrating the turn of his own century by walking a mile to the county courthouse for a new gun permit.

The lusty oldest, who daily skipped rope until he broke his foot at 85, still walks four or five miles a day.

After three marriages and 13 children, ranging from 7 to 80, Carrizales wasn't likely to consider 100 old. His mother, he said, lived to be 118.

He was born in Sapulpa, Oklahoma territory, on Jan. 14, 1859, he said, of Spanish and Cherokee Indian parents.

He met his present wife, Mary, at a tire and rubber plant here where they helped produce wartime B-29 bullet-proof tanks. He switched to painting in his later years.

Carrizales' wife said he used to take "peppers in his lunch" every day to work. A foreman said he was "as strong and tough as any of our men."

A father when Grover Cleveland was president, Carrizales still appears well under the century mark.

Rejected on grounds of age after he passed an Army physical at 84, he still cuts his hair GI fashion.
