

Commies Meet Trouble In Kingdom Of Tibet

KALIMPONG, Sikkim (UPI)—Communist China has failed to wipe out a two-year-old revolt in Tibet with bombs and guns and is trying to cripple it through starvation, rebel sources disclosed here.

Target of the Red action is the Khamba tribe of eastern Tibet, one of the world's fiercest fighting groups.

Failing to best or even match the Khambas in tricky mountain guerrilla warfare, the Communist Chinese have resorted to indiscriminate night and day bombings of villages and temples, driving the people from their land.

Some of the rebels have fled to towns along Tibet's southern border with Nepal and the Indian protectorates of Bhutan and Sikkim. Others have taken refuge in mountain-top caves or in the jungles.

But the fight still goes on. "It's a deliberate attempt to starve out our entire race," said one Khamba leader. "But this is not going to help them, just as their military campaign did not."

No authoritative figures on casualties are available, but authoritative Tibetan sources estimate that from 12,000 to 20,000 persons have been killed in Khaim Province alone in the last two years.

Chinese Communist deaths are estimated at from 7,000 to 10,000. "They have taken our homes and lands because we do not like them," said one Khamba rebel. "We go out now. But we come again and then they will know whose homes they are defiling in Khaim. We shall never like them. Never, never, never."

The Khambas began their resistance in 1956 with hit-run guerrilla tactics, isolated and disorganized. But by last summer they had refined their tactics and coordinated them in concentrated efforts against Chinese Communist troops.

They claim that last year they destroyed more than 50 Red military convoys in ambushes and harassed another 50.

Surprise is the main element in the Khamba strategy. Attacks are carried out at night and on difficult mountain roads.

First they roll huge boulders down the mountain sides onto a convoy or Communist Chinese bivouac. Then they fall on the Red troops with guns and daggers, shouting fearsome war cries.

Often the Chinese have been bottled up in a narrow pass with the Khambas attacking from both directions. Khamba rebel leaders claim proudly that the Chinese Communist is no match for a Khamba in hand-to-hand fighting.

The struggle has taken a heavy toll of both sides, but the Khambas are particularly elated at their successes against a supposedly better-equipped and better trained opponent.

Rebels here saw the next phase of their operation as a two-pronged effort — to stir up the rest of Tibet against the Chinese through propaganda, and to continue hit-run guerrilla attacks that will keep the Communists from getting too firm a foothold.

NEW PLANE SERVICE
LONDON (UPI) — Turkey will open a new Istanbul-London airline service in the spring, officials said today.

KLAMATH COUNTY DENTAL ASSOCIATION installed new officers for the 1959-1960 term at its last meeting recently. From the left are Dr. M. E. Cooper, vice president; Dr. Robert Jensen, editor; Dr. Don Noel, president; and Dr. George Nitschelm, secretary. WORTH HER WEIGHT IN 'GOLD' is Karen Theresa Van Lawick, who weighed 8 lbs. 1/2 oz. at birth on New Year's Day. Karen and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Van Lawick, Yreka, were presented a piece of beef, weighing the exact amount, by the Siskiyou County Cow Belles. The presentation of the beef was made on January 19 by Mrs. Blair Smith of Callahan, left, beef promotion chairman of the Cow Belles, to Karen and her mother. Van Lawick arrived in Bakersfield on January 16, 1956, as a Dutch immigrant and was joined in Bakersfield a year later by his bride-to-be. In 1958 they moved to Yreka where he is employed as a serviceman for Montgomery Ward. The couple has one other child, Douglas, who is 11 months old.

BIG HURRY in a downtown store Thursday he left so fast he didn't bother to open the glass door — just ran police spotted a man shoplifting through it and got away.

Salem Lawyer Given Post

SALEM (AP)—The Republican State Central Committee has its third chairman in less than a year. He is Peter M. Gunnar. Gunnar, a Salem attorney, was elected Saturday to succeed James Short of Salem, who resigned. Short took over from Wendell Wyatt of Astoria last spring. Gunnar was unopposed and ran with the support of Gov. Mark Hatfield and Short. He was nominated by Clackamas County Chairman Don Quisenberry, who earlier dropped out as a candidate.

Reply Given By Neuberger

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) expressed regret Saturday that Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) "has felt it necessary to challenge my requesting introduction of a bill... which would authorize a much-needed Oregon project."

His statement answered Morse's accusation that Neuberger was engaged in "legislative cribbing" in asking Sen. Frank Church (D-Idaho) to introduce a bill authorizing construction of Bully Creek Dam and Reservoir in Oregon.

Sen. Neuberger, in Portland undergoing medical treatment, said "The vital question is enactment of greatly needed legislation, not pride of authorship. Senator Morse's support will be most welcome in obtaining this goal."

Morse charged the bill was the same one he and Neuberger introduced at the last session. Neuberger said it was identical with that introduced in the House Jan. 7 by Rep. Al Ullman (D-Ore.).

Air Model Fan Survives Jolt

LAKEWOOD, Colo. (AP) — A model airplane enthusiast survived a 115,000-volt electric charge Sunday.

The clothes were burned off Peter Warren 19, who suffered burns over 80 per cent of his body. He was hospitalized in critical condition.

Warren was flying a plastic model airplane controlled by copper wires. The plane struck the power line and the charge coursed down the wires to Warren, standing on moist ground.

His wife, Janis, and their 4-month-old daughter were in a car 100 feet away.

Anti-Racket Bill Eyed By Green

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Edith Green (D-Ore.) said she will introduce in the House today a companion bill to that offered in the Senate by Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass.) to curb labor-management racketeering.

Mrs. Green, a member of the House Labor Committee, said the proposal would protect both labor and management. It would require disclosure of certain expenditures, correct abuses in administration of union trusteeships and set up election standards for labor union officials, she said.

Mrs. Green said she feels legislation to curb labor-management racketeering should be a primary goal of the 86th Congress.

Lost 3-Year-Old Discovered Dead

LEBANON, Mo. (AP) — The body of Willard Eugene Jones Jr., 3, was found 2 1/2 miles from his home Sunday, eight days after he wandered off in freezing weather.

Two soldiers, among 450 searchers from Ft. Leonard Wood, found the body in dense brush in a valley.

Coroner Stanley Palmer Jr. said Willard died of exposure, probably 24 hours after leaving home.
