

MR. AND MRS. MARTIN WAYNE CLARK cut the first slice of their cake at the reception held in the church parlors following their wedding December 27 in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

Clark-Smith Vows Spoken In Church Rites

Red carnations and white chrysanthemums provided a colorful setting for the December 27 wedding of Janet Kaye Smith to Martin Wayne Clark, son of Mrs. Velma Clark and Harold Clark. The marriage was performed in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints by the Bishop Wesley Clark in the presence of 150 guests.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. A. R. Cheyne of Klamath Falls and M. R. Smith of Whittier, California, was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace with long pointed sleeves. Scattered sequins and pearls outlined the scalloped neckline. The long full skirt featured tiers of net with front and back panels of Chantilly lace. A shoulder length veil of tulle was held by a beaded headband. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Peggy Brown was maid of honor and she wore a ballerina length dress of red velvet made with three-quarter length sleeves and a scoop neck. She wore a white fur headband and carried a matching muff centered with red carnations.

Alexis Cheyne, sister of the bride, and Ruth Ann Halvorsen, cousin of the bride were flower girls. Ringbearer was Carol Dawn Cheyne, sister of the bride. They wore matching white lace dresses with red velvet boleros and white fur headbands.

Keith R. Sexton was best man and ushers were James F. Smith, brother of the bride from Whittier, and Jay Montgomery.

Linda Olson was the organist. Soloist was Kirk Fiedler.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Cheyne selected a navy blue sheath dress which she wore with pink accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Clark wore a frock of fuchsia pink and a white carnation corsage.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. Jim Brown, Mrs. Gary McGaughey, Mrs. Keith Sexton, Mrs. Jay Montgomery and Mrs. Everett Metter. The guest book was passed by Mary Lou Engleke.

Both of the young people graduated from KUHS. They are making their home in this city where he is employed at Dugan and Mest and she at Moty and Van Dyke.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Peters, great aunt and uncle of the bride from The Dalles; Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Smith, James F. Smith all of Whittier; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Self, Las Vegas; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Cherry, aunt and uncle of the bridegroom from Macdonald; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Josephson, aunt and uncle of the bride, Gary and Joyce Josephson, cousins of the bride, all of Central Point.

Pre-nuptial events included a shower given in the Elks party room by Barbara Anderson, Mrs. Keith Sexton and Mrs. Jay Montgomery. Also hostesses at a shower were Mrs. R. J. Halvorsen, Mrs. Jim Brown and Peggy Brown. The couple was honored with gifts at the annual Christmas party of Dugan and Mest Company at Reames Golf Club.

SOUND-PROOFING

Kitchen chatter certainly jars mother's nerves. Especially when there are several children underfoot, too. One way to contribute to silence, since you can't lock the children in a closet, is to install sound-proofing material. A rubber tile floor, for example, muffles sound and it also is easy on the feet.
