

Henley Lodges Install Officers

Henley Bethel No. 51, International Order of Job's Daughters, and the Lost River Chapter of the Order of DeMolay held their joint installation of officers Saturday evening, January 10, in the girls gym at Henley High School.

The new gym, a beautiful building in itself, made an excellent setting for the beautiful pink and red color scheme. Tall red and silver letters across the east wall spelled out "All the Magic of Youth," on the south wall, "Honored Queen Becky," and on the north wall, "Master Councilor Gary." Two tall baskets of pink and red gladioli and carnations behind the altar were gifts of the Paul Hatchets to retiring Honored Queen Carolyn Hunt and honored councilor-elect, Becky Short. Lovely arrangements of pink carnations and French heather were used, as well as baskets of artistically decorated manzanita boughs bursting with pink and red blooms.

Presiding for Job's Daughters were honored Queen Carolyn Hunt; Guardian Gretchen Thompson; and Associate Guardian Robert Dehlinger. The two candlelighters, Dawn Reeder and Terry Moore, both of Bethel 51, were dressed in matching pink and red taffeta party dresses.

Installing officers for Job's Daughters were retiring honored queen of Bethel 51, Carolyn Hunt; guide, Alice Hatchett, past honored queen Bethel 51; marshal, Jo Anne Groom, honored queen Bethel 47; chaplain, Sharlene Finckh, Bethel 51; recorder, Diane Bannister, past honored queen Bethel 47; junior custodian, Joan Marshall, honored queen Bethel 61; senior custodian, Pat Crawley, honored queen Bethel 6; musician, Becky Mack, Bethel 6; soloist, Cora Enman, Bethel 51.

New officers installed were honored queen, Becky Short; senior princess, Virginia Hunt; junior princess, Sandy Short; guide, Beverly Moffitt; marshal, Julie Rhodes; chaplain, Linda Lanphear; recorder, Cindy Dehlinger; treasurer, Karen Grimes; musician, Chantelle Horsley; librarian, Sara Williams; junior custodian, Marion Roberts; senior custodian, Ann Taylor; first messenger, Marie Breithaupt; second messenger, Barbara Reed; third messenger, Rosalind Warren; fourth messenger, Barbara Kaylor; fifth messenger, Sandra Lister; outer guard, Vicki Fairchild; inner guard, Jeanette Hooper; soloist, Dottie Riker. Choir members installed were Alma Palmer, Virginia Hatchett, Donna Freer, Judy Parker and Lynda Robertson.

Visiting dignitaries from the various Masonic bodies, Eastern Star, and Job's Daughters were introduced and given a welcome. Escorted and introduced in the east by Honored Queen Becky were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Short, and her grandmother, Mrs. Lum Short. Gifts were presented to the present and retiring honored queens.

After a short intermission, the Lost River Chapter, Order of the DeMolay held its installation ceremony with the following installing officers: installing officer, Burrill Gohber; senior councilor, Bruce Durant; junior councilor, Larry Ferguson; marshal, Roger Thompson; senior deacon, Phil Swisher; chaplain, Floyd Stout; standard bearer, Lee Kaylor; musician, Wallace Gohber.

BEAUTY TIP

One woman found that she cut off approaching wrinkles by taking her worries apart instead of letting them tear her apart. When she got the jitters, she sat down and picked over her troubles, reducing each to its just deserts. It's surprising how small each worry is once you see it in proportion to an overall picture.

were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd. Along with many other dignitaries from the various Masonic bodies introduced and welcomed, was Clyde Dehlinger, dad adviser for the local Lost River Chapter.

At the reception for the new officers of both orders, refreshments were served from the beautifully decorated pink and white tables. Wallace Gohber, at the piano, furnished the background music.

Incredible! But anyone can play music in minutes ON THE HAMMOND CHORD ORGAN

Here's How!

One finger plays the melody. If you can't read standard music, you press a simplified "Picture" music that shows you which keys to press.

One finger plays chords. Instead of using 3 to 5 fingers, you press a button with one finger of your left hand to play full, rich organ chords.

The plain unvarnished truth about the Hammond Chord Organ is so remarkable that you probably won't believe it until you play it. Its beauty of tone, its versatility is surprising in an organ so compact. But the remarkable part is that thousands have played the Hammond Chord Organ without knowing music in just a few minutes. No lessons or practice. You progress by playing the music you like.

Gaynor, deputy grand master of District 2 Order of the Eastern Star, and mother of the new honored queen.

Visiting OES worthy matrons introduced were Mrs. Madge Gillion, White Pine, 487, Weed; Mrs. Genevieve Tillotson, Fidelity Chapter, Dunsmuir; and Mrs. Eugenia Astman, Sisson Chapter, Mount Shasta.

Guardian Council members present and introduced included Mrs. Peggy Williams, Weed, guardian treasurer; Mrs. Gladys Cross, Mount Shasta, guardian of paraphernalia; Royal Cross, Mount Shasta, promoter of finance; Mrs. Frances Holden, guardian secretary, Mount Shasta.

A gift was presented to Honored Queen Lani by her sister Cinda Liu, in behalf of her family including her grandfather, C. D. Kopley, and aunt, Mrs. Beatrice Ramsey, of Wichita, Kansas. The gift was a purple lucite gavel and triangle block with inserts of white lily of the valley, a silver star and a silver triangle, and was inscribed with the honored queen's name and her year term.

The honored queen presented a past honored queen pin to Andrea Schneberger from the Bethel and a ceramic honored queen doll in behalf of the Bethel members.

Pink and silver were the predominating colors for the reception table for the serving of refreshments following the ceremonies. The centerpiece was presented by Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Vidricksen.

Mrs. Vidricksen presided at the silver coffee and tea service. Mrs. Russell Bradshaw, and Mrs. Dyson Scribner, Weed, and Mrs. Dale Alter, Klamath Falls, served the punch.
