Many Offer Their Eyes To Ailing Billy Graham

HONOLULU (AP)—One offer came from a 65-year-old woman in Kentucky. Another came from a Jewish businessman in New York City. They were offering their eyes to evangelist Billy Graham, afflicted with an ailment in his left eye.

Mark Orders 'Half Mast'

SALEM (AP)—Gov. Mark Hatfield Wednesday ordered flags on all state buildings to fly at half mast in memory of Maj. Gen. Thomas E. Rilea, Oregon adjutant general who died Tuesday.

The flags will stay at half mast until after the funeral. The governor said: "General Rilea's long service to his state and country extends over many years and over a large part of the globe. The Oregon National Guard enjoys an excellent reputation for its accomplishments in war and in peace."

Col. Carl Cooter, Salem, has been acting adjutant general since last Friday. He resigned his position as Senate chief clerk in order to go back on active duty with the guard.

Hatfield said he would name a permanent successor until after the funeral.

His doctors prescribed complete rest. Graham and his wife came to Hawaii January 18 for a three-week stay. He will leave about February 8 for Australia where he is to open a religious crusade a week later.

"The vision in my left eye has improved some," Graham said. "I'm still taking the medication my doctor gave me."

Graham spent most of his time in Hawaii relaxing at the beach playing golf and deep sea fishing.

Graham said a number of people wrote him that they wanted to pay for his vacation.

Graham said he accepted the offer of C. A. Pitts of Miami, Florida, who is footing the vacation bill.

Graham said he is overwhelmed and humbled. Many persons, he says, write that they are praying for him.

The evangelist, nearing the end of a three-week rest in Hawaii, says: "I am convinced that God does answer prayer. Although I don't consider my condition critical, it did something to me spiritually to know that so many people all over the world were praying and were interested."

Of the letter from the elderly woman in Kentucky offering her eye, Graham said: "I was so overwhelmed, I was moved to tears over it. I never had anything like that happen to me before."

Graham said one Catholic seminary wrote that special prayers were being offered for his recovery. "I thought that was a very wonderful thing," he said.

Among those who sent letters or telegrams were Vice President Richard M. Nixon, labor leader Walter Reuther and the late film producer Cecil B. De Mille. Graham said De Mille's letter was written only four days before the movie producer died last month.

Graham was stricken with an ailment in his left eye late last year. Doctors described it as a nervous disorder, probably due to overwork and strain.

"My general physical condition is excellent. I don't think that I've ever felt better in my life."

PIONEER FIRM of Chilcote and Smith, real estate, 111 North Ninth Street, has a big window display saluting Oregon's 100th birthday anniversary. The covered wagons, miners' equipment, buckets and other props were provided by Mrs. Edmund M. Chilcote, wife of the founder of the business which will observe its 50th birthday anniversary in October this year.

Local Firm To Observe Anniversary

The oldest real estate business in the Klamath area, Chilcote and Smith, will observe the 50th anniversary of its founding in October this year.

Edmund M. Chilcote has been in the real estate business in Klamath Falls, continuously, for more than 49 years.

After he had been in business nearly 15 years, a partnership was formed with David M. Smith which lasted "as a very pleasant relationship" for nearly 20 years.

Smith decided he wanted to retire when he was 75 years old, so he sold out to his partner and Mr. and Mrs. Smith moved to Amity, Oregon, to be nearer some of their grandchildren. He is 93 years of age this year, still active and enjoying life, according to the latest reports.

In the company now are the Chilcote sons, Robert B. Chilcote, head of the firm, and William E. Chilcote, with their father as associate broker. Homer Stiles is a salesman with the firm and Mrs. Thomas R. Skien has run the office for the last 14 years.

Oregon's Centennial year prompted Mrs. Edmund M. Chilcote to collect some of the covered wagons and other decorations used at a lodge entertainment for a window display. Fresh Oregon grape provides evergreen interest in the window which is causing much traffic-stopping on North Ninth Street.

Group To End Annual Meet

GEARHART, Ore. (AP)—The Oregon Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee ends its annual conference here Wednesday after a three-day review of administration of federal agriculture programs.

Price supports, wheat allotments, marketing quotas, agricultural conservation, the sugar beet payment program and the soil bank were among topics discussed, said Arnold Bodtger of Portland, state administrative officer of the committee.

Tuesday's speakers included Phil Schneider, director of the Oregon Game Commission. He told of plans for using farm lands withdrawn from production under the soil bank program for wildlife forage.

PTA NEWS

ROOSEVELT SCHOOL The January meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Arthur Farr. Mrs. Ernest Bishop read a thought for the day, and Mrs. Chet Clark's group of Cub Scouts led the flag salute.

The program, titled "The White Man Comes to Oregon," was written and directed by Caroline Westover. It was presented by the fifth grade pupils and their teachers, Caroline Westover, Mary Van Victor and Esther Deller, following a study of early explorers and pioneers of the Oregon country. It was given in commemoration of our Oregon Centennial celebration this year.

Recommendations by the executive board were read and Mrs. Thelma Reed reported on the sales of savings stamps.

The principal, Gerald Clemens, discussed the problems of the county health departments throughout the state.

Room count was won by Mrs. Esther Deller's room and Mrs. Martha Scroggin's room.

Vehicle Chief Fires Manager

SALEM (AP)—Motor Vehicles Director Vern Hill Tuesday fired Edward J. Kaneshki, manager of the department's Administrative Services Division.

Hill named John C. Kerriek, fired last December by former director James F. Johnson, to succeed Kaneshki. Kerriek has worked for the state for 29 years.

ROCKET TALK A launching site and early rockets were discussed at the Thursday, January 29, meeting of the Klamath Basin Junior Rocket Society at the Henley High School. A membership drive was started. The next meeting will be February 19 when the constitution will be voted upon and officers will be elected.

FARM BUREAU MEET ETNA — The Scott Valley Farm Bureau met Wednesday evening, January 28, in the new Etna Union High School. After the general business meeting Dr. F. A. Andrews talked on leptospirosis in cattle. The evening's activities were concluded with the serving of refreshments by Mrs. Jeanne Dillman.

MUFFIN MIXERS MERRILL—The Muffin Mixers held a meeting on January 29. Audrey Cunningham called the meeting to order. We made Rice Delight. We sang songs, read the pledge and the creed. The meeting was adjourned.

Bones Found At Ashland

ASHLAND, Ore. (AP)—A three-foot-long chunk of bone, believed to be part of a mastodon which died 20 to 40 million years ago, was found Tuesday on the Southern Oregon College campus.

Grounds keeper Dick Jay came upon the find while digging a drainage ditch near the men's dormitory.

Science teachers said they think that the school site is on the edge of what was once a huge inland sea and that the big elephant-like mammal probably had died after becoming caught in quicksand.

Science students started digging at the site after Jay found the bone. They uncovered what is believed to be a tooth. It measured 8 inches by 10 inches by 4 inches. The digging will continue.

RRs Continue Their Case For Demurrage Fees Slash

PORTLAND (AP)—A group of railroads continues presentation of its case for reduced demurrage charges at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing here Wednesday.

The railroads are asking the ICC to extend from 24 hours to 15 days the period during which lumber-loaded freight cars may be in transit without incurring demurrage charges ranging from $4 to $8 a day.

A group of lumber operators will oppose the plan when their turn comes to testify. The lumber operators believe such shipping procedures contribute to the freight car shortage.

However, lumber wholesalers are backing the railroad request. The wholesalers frequently start lumber-loaded cars to the east before buyers are obtained. The railroad program would reduce the cost of such sale-in-transit shipments.
