Agent Tells Bank Total

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — An Internal Revenue Service agent says Dave Beck's bank deposits totaled $1,813,190 over the four-year period of 1950-53 during which he is accused of cheating the government out of $240,000 in income taxes. Paul Garrett spent most of the day before the eight-man, four-woman jury Wednesday concentrating on Beck's dealings with banks. He is the next to last government witness. Garrett was able to trace all but $12,156 of the money, he said. It came from many other sources besides the former Teamsters president's salary, and included almost a dozen different union funds. He did not have access to Beck's books but had to go to banks and other sources to trace the money, Garrett said. In several cases he found books of several unions had been destroyed. Non-taxable deposits such as loans from banks and other sources in the four years came to $1,320,000, the agent testified. The deposits totaled slightly above $350,000 in 1950 and in 1951 were $647,000, Garrett said. The 1953 deposits came to $647,000 and in 1952 were $436,731. Garrett is one of three tax agents who are summing up the government's case in the trial which began Nov. 10. The last one is due to testify next week.

UF Chapter To Hear Portlander

The guest speaker at Thursday's annual meeting and awards banquet of the Klamath County United Fund, which begins at 6:45 p.m. at the Willard Hotel, is a Portland resident who has been active in Community Chest and United Fund work for more than 20 years.

Ray Vester, associated with the City Finance Company, Portland, was chairman of the 1958 United Fund drive in that city. Rollin A. Cantrill, president of the local United Fund, says that Vester has been through many years of rough sledding with the fund in Portland, and will have "some real words of wisdom" for Klamath County.

A native of Portland, Vester graduated from the University of Oregon in 1921. He was president of the Portland United Fund in 1956 and 1957, and is now a member of its board of directors. Vester served as chairman of the fund drive of the Portland-Multnomah County Chapter of the American Red Cross in 1949, and as chairman of the chapter itself in 1953, 1954 and 1955. He is now a member of the Red Cross chapter's board, and national vice chairman for fund raising of the Red Cross. He is also on the board of trustees of Linfield College and the board of the Portland Symphony Society, and is a trustee for the University of Oregon development fund.

The public is invited to attend Thursday evening's no-host banquet, at which Outstanding Citizenship Awards will be presented to representatives of the employees of 11 establishments. These groups of employees each made exceptional showings during the 1958 United Fund-Red Cross drive. Reservations for the dinner may be made by telephoning the United Fund office, TU 2-5558.

Twenty board vacancies will be filled by election during the course of the meeting.

Ike 'Quails' In Georgia

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (UPI) — President Eisenhower hoped to go gunning for south Georgia quail today with an end to the monsoon-like weather that marred his arrival late Wednesday.

Torrential rains forced the President's plane into an alternate landing field after a bumpy ride from Washington. Eisenhower then had to motor 67 miles through the rain to reach the milestone plantation of former Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey outside Thomasville. Once inside his comfortable guest cottage, the President spent the evening playing bridge with friends while keeping tabs on weather reports which will govern today's activities. The forecast was for clearing weather today with the temperature about 60, but a drop to near freezing was expected tonight. The clearing weather and colder temperatures will be ideal for quail hunting.

Pan-American Reaches Pact

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pan American World Airways reached agreement Wednesday on a new labor contract with the Air Line Pilots Association (ALP-CIO), ending 18 months of negotiations. Sources close to the negotiations said the agreement provides top pay of $33,000 a year for jet pilots if they put in 85 hours flying time every month. Pilots of the plane would average about $29,000 a year, compared to $23,000 now, these sources said. The contract runs for 18 months.

Americans drink an average of 16 cups of coffee, five cups of tea and two cups of soft drinks weekly.

Art Federation Chairman Suggests Exhibit Browsing

NEW YORK (UPI)—Brush up on art by browsing through at least one art exhibit during the year, suggests Hudson Walker, chairman of the American Federation of Arts' approaching golden jubilee. Walker also suggests that you shop for good art to cover bare walls in your living room, dining room, and bedrooms.

He defines good art as "anything that stirs you." "Most persons are in the dark about art," he says, "and have a notion that 'art appreciation' means reading about art. This isn't so. Art appreciation is a feeling."

Reds May Get Dakota Oil

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—A Sioux Indian said Wednesday night he will offer to sell nine million acres of oil rich land in North Dakota to Soviet Russia if the U.S. government refuses to help his people. Al La Fontaine, head of the Indian Trades Council here, earlier telephoned the Soviet Embassy in Washington to plead for a loan. But he changed his plans and decided to sell because "I'm not going to the Russians and beg."

La Fontaine contends that the land, comprising about one-third of North Dakota, legally belongs to the Indians because it was never turned over to the U.S. government by treaty. He promised America first chance at the acreage in the state's north-central section. If the government turns him down, La Fontaine warned he will ask the Russians for bids on North Dakota.

La Fontaine plans to lead a delegation of Indians to Washington Saturday and hopes to appear personally before the House and Senate to demand government aid in "putting industries on the reservations."

"When I get to Washington I'm going to file a claim under a special claims commission for nine million acres in North Dakota," he said. "These fellows think it's a joke. But I'm not fooling."

Home Ec Club Holds Meeting

SUMMER LAKE—The Summer Lake Home Economics Club held their January meeting at the home of Mrs. S. D. Harris on Wednesday afternoon, January 28. Mrs. H. C. Harris was co-hostess. It had been decided at a previous meeting to have an assistant hostess because of the increasing number of small children who attend with their mothers.

Mrs. George Carlon, chairman, presided at the meeting and distributed yearbooks to each member. The club will hold a masquerade square dance and box social on February 13 at the Grange Hall. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

OFFICIAL WORKMAN'S COMPENSATION FILES SHOW AMAZING TREND
By Dr. C. W. Davis

According to official statistics low back injuries rank third among compensable injuries. The sacrospinous joints, situated where the base of the spine joins the large hip bones are the seat of much pain and trouble. Statistics taken from the Iowa Workman's Compensation files reveal a startling trend. Approximately 19,000 cases were involved in the survey. The data covers all low back cases between February 1946 and 1948 which were treated through strapping and sprains. In general the statistics reveal that under Chiropractic care total work days lost average cost of professional care per case average cost compensation paid per case average loss of wages to worker per case was 33% less than when treated by other methods. Many industrial firms find it profitable to have their workers kept in "shape" by Chiropractic health service.

Benson Suggests Program To Aid Migrant Laborers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson suggested today that a rural development program for low-income migrant farm workers might improve their efficiency and living conditions.

Benson raised the possibility in a message to the opening session of a two-day conference sponsored by the National Advisory Committee on Farm Labor.

"In many cases," Benson said, "these people don't have skills and training to secure non-agricultural employment. If agricultural employment were not available, some of them might be dependent on various types of welfare programs."

Along this line, 10 Democratic congressmen urged Congress in a joint statement to do something to raise the wage and living standards of two million poor farm workers and their families.

The lawmakers were Reps. Frank Thompson Jr. (N.J.), Lee Metcalf (Mont.), James Roosevelt (Calif.), John Blatnik (Minn.), Thomas L. Ashley (Ohio), George M. Bailey (W.Va.), and Charles Porter (Ore.).

The co-chairman of the farm labor conference, Frank Graham, former Democratic senator from North Carolina, said the sessions were designed to focus public attention on the plight of "forgotten" farm hands.

Speakers will try to discover why hired farm workers received an average annual wage of $892 in 1957, below the level the Labor Department says is required for subsistence, Graham said.

The need for minimum federal standards on wages, hours, housing, health and transportation will be explored, he added.

Mickey Cohen Pleads Fifth

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Ex-gambler Mickey Cohen put in another appearance Wednesday before a special federal grand jury attempting to learn where he gets his money.

The exchange between Cohen and his questioner, Robert Jensen, chief of the criminal section in the U.S. Attorney's local office, went like this:

"Where do you live," asked Jensen.
"I refuse to answer on the grounds that it might incriminate me," said Jensen.

"I refuse to answer because it might incriminate me," replied Cohen, "and anyway I don't trust you."

Cohen was excused and ordered to reappear in two weeks.

Faith In Jets Unshaken

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A fatal crash and a "near emergency" involving America's latest jet-powered airliners left the aviation industry's faith in its new planes unshaken today.

In one accident, a turbo-prop (jet engines hitched to conventional propellers) Lockheed Electra crashed in the water short of a LaGuardia Field runway in New York Tuesday night. Sixty-five died in the American Airlines plane.

In the second incident, a Pan American World Airways jetliner suddenly dropped 24,000 feet to 6,000 feet altitude over the North Atlantic when its autopilot went haywire.

The New York accident prompted the House Commerce Committee to schedule an inquiry Friday into air safety problems connected with the jet age. Gen. E. R. Quesada, head of the new federal aviation agency, was called to testify at a closed-door session.

Industry officials here pointed out that neither the American Airlines nor Pan American accidents involved the operating characteristics of a jet transport. "Both could have occurred just as easily to a piston-engine aircraft," an official of the Air Transportation Association said.

Orb Will Spin For 2,000 Years

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy's 3.25-pound Vanguard satellite will spin around the earth for 2,000 years, instead of the some 200 years previously forecast.

Rear Adm. John T. Hayward, Navy research chief, predicted the greatly increased life span for the grapefruit-sized satellite in testimony Wednesday before the House Space Committee. He gave no reason for the increase.
