

FOLGER'S INSTANT

Teaser ads have been running prior to today's big announcement about Folger's new Instant Coffee. The new Folger's product is packaged in two and six-ounce jars bearing a label made of copper metallic foil with bright red and yellow lettering. The label and jar designs were chosen after extensive testing on the part of Folger's to determine which colors and patterns carried the greatest appeal for grocery shoppers. Point of purchase materials including "Come home, Joe!" banners and wire hangers, motion displays, etc., are on display at local grocery stores and supermarkets.

The all-new Instant Folger's Coffee is an all-new instant coffee with a fresh - brewed flavor. Instant coffee has taken the guesswork out of coffee-making because it produces uniformly good coffee in every cup, with the choice left to the individual as to whether it shall be stronger than normal or less potent. Follow the instructions on the jar for best results.

NEW FOLGER'S Instant is announced today. Buy it in the jar with the new copper metallic foil label with bright red and yellow lettering at your favorite market.

Party-Perfect

Party-perfect for a luncheon are these Cheese Balls with Tomato Sauce that will certainly testify to any hostess' culinary prowess.

The delectably flavored cheese balls combine eggs, cream cheese, grated cheddar cheese and oven-toasted rice cereal crumbs. When the mixture has been shaped into small balls, they are dipped in egg whites, rolled in remaining cereal crumbs and then fried until a rich, golden brown. The simple-to-make tomato sauce, subtly flavored with bay leaf and parsley, adds the final fillip.

To complete the party touch, serve the cheese balls with diced potatoes, asparagus spears and a crisp, tossed salad.

CHEESE BALLS
2 eggs, separated

1 3-ounce package cream cheese
2 cups (1/2 lb.) grated cheddar cheese
5 cups Rite Krispies
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon worcestershire sauce

1-3 cup butter or margarine
1-3 cup flour
2 cups milk
1 cup (1 8-oz. can) tomato sauce
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon sugar
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon baking soda

Beat egg yolks slightly. Blend with cheese, salt, paprika and Worcestershire sauce. Crush Rice Krispies into fine crumbs. Add half the crumbs to the cheese mixture, mixing well. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold in half the egg whites, shape into balls about 1 1/2 inches in diameter. Roll balls first in remaining egg whites, then in remaining Rice Krispies crumbs. Set aside until shortly before serving time. Fry cheese balls in heated shallow fat turning until balls are browned on all sides. Serve immediately accompanied by tomato sauce.

To make sauce, melt butter in saucepan; stir in flour. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly over low heat until thickened. Set aside. Combine tomato sauce, bay leaf, sugar and parsley; simmer about 15-20 minutes. Remove bay leaf. Just before serving stir in soda. Add to hot white sauce and serve at once.

Yield: 6 servings, 3 balls each.

APPETIZERS

Pour California port or other sweet red wine over fresh, pitted dates. Let stand several hours or overnight in the refrigerator. Drain and stuff each date with a cube of American or jack cheese. Arrange on canape tray or use as a salad with slices of bananas or other fruit. Fruit appetizer trays are fun and popular. Rounds of bananas, dipped in lemon juice and rolled in powdered sugar or coconut and stuck on picks are a nice addition to such a tray.

FISH

If fish dinners rate little enthusiasm at your house, you can add interest by serving a good tartar sauce along with the fish. Flavor mayonnaise with a little minced onion, add chopped pickle, a pinch of curry powder and plenty of meaty ripe Wyandotte olive wedges. You can buy the olives already pitted for ease in serving. Garnish each fish serving with a pickle slice and a whole ripe olive on a pick and sprinkle with finely chopped parsley.
