

MR. AND MRS. JAMES J. BEVANS were married January 10 in the First Methodist Church of Corvallis. The bride is the former Beverly Briggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Briggs of Corvallis. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald W. Bevans of Klamath Falls are parents of the bridegroom.

Corvallis Church Scene Of Bevans-Briggs Rites

Joining the ranks of January brides was Beverly Briggs who became the bride of James J. Bevans at the First Methodist Church of Corvallis on January 10. Baskets of white stock formed the floral setting before which the Rev. Kenneth Mitchell performed the double ring candlelight service. Tom Roberts served as organist. David Kieck sang "At Dawning" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Briggs of Corvallis and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald W. Bevans of Klamath Falls.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a bridal gown of white lace over satin fashioned with a butterfly collar, a fitted bodice and a bouffant skirt. Her fingertip veil was held by a pearl encrusted lace cap. She wore a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and feathered fern centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Nancy Florschutz, matron of honor for her sister, wore a gown of red chromespun taffeta fashioned with a red tulle sash. Her hat was a red circlet of net and she carried a crescent shaped bouquet of red and white carnations and eucalyptus.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Leon Kambak, a sister of the bride, Carolann Milliken and Carlene Hise. Their identical dresses were of red taffeta with white sashes worn with hats of white net circlets. They carried crescent shaped bouquets of gaily carnations and eucalyptus.

Flower girls were Leslie Easton, a cousin of the bride, and Kimberly Kambak, a niece of the bride, who wore frocks of red nylon with white sashes. Two nephews of the bride, Chris and Kevin Kambak, served as ring-

June Matney Is Bride Of Patrick O'Sullivan

Baskets of pink and white carnations banked the altar and bouquets of white chrysanthemums and pink gladioli were placed about St. Pius The Tenth Church on January 10 when June Matney became the bride of Patrick O'Sullivan. The Rev. George A. Murphy officiated at the ceremony. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Leona Amsby at the organ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vance I. Matney and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Nora O'Sullivan and the late Michael O'Sullivan of Knocknagrove, County Cork, Ireland.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown fashioned with a bodice of Chantilly lace with net yolk and stand up collar of lace and long sleeves pointed at the wrist. The full skirt was of satin with overskirt of net. A beaded headband held a waist length veil of net. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Mary Herlihy, cousin of the bride was maid of honor and Mrs. Jim Kenneally, the bride's sister, was bridesmaid. They wore frocks of a light aqua shade with pink and white headbands and carried bouquets of pastel flowers.

Philip O'Sullivan, Plush, Oregon, was best man. Ushers were Bill Fitzgerald, Jim Kenneally and Tim McCarthy.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Matney selected a navy blue dress with a matching hat and a pink and white rosebud corsage.

The Shasta View Community Hall was the scene of the reception which followed the wedding service. The cake was served by Mrs. Julia Barry, cousin of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Neil Hurley, cousin of the bride. Mrs. Maynard Nelson served punch and Mrs. Joe Brandesky, aunt of the bride, poured coffee. Guests were registered by Mrs. Don Jensen.

For the wedding trip to San Francisco the new Mrs. Sullivan wore an aqua and white suit with black accessories. The newlyweds are making their home at 317 Pine Street in this city.

Out-of-town guests included Philip and Tim O'Sullivan, Plush; Mrs. Dan Fitzgerald and daughters, Mary Lou and Roselle and Mr. and Mrs. Tim Mahoney, all of Lakeview.

EULALONA DAR

Eulalona Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met Monday evening, February 2, in the Fireside Room of the First Presbyterian Church, with the regent, Mrs. Albert O. Roenicke, presiding.

As this was the date for annual committee reports, Mrs. Roenicke condensed them into a chapter summary, indicating wide activity of the members in chapter and civic work.

The state genealogical records chairman, Mrs. Wayne E. Gurley, announced this year's centennial project will be the copying of local church records under the direction of the local chairman, Mrs. Arch Proctor. Mrs. Proctor also stated that the city library is establishing a genealogical shelf for the use of the Klamath community. Flag chairman, Mrs. Dick Owens, reminded members that the flag should be flown on February 12, Lincoln's birthday; February 14, Oregon admission day; and February 22, Washington's birthday. A greater awareness of the need for civil defense planning on a local and statewide basis was urged by Mrs. Raymond Hall, chairman.

Speaker of the evening was H. A. Hurlbut, resident representative of the company in charge of construction under J. C. Boyle of the California Oregon Power Company. While in charge of the Big Bend construction, he took extensive moving pictures of the day to day development of the project. DAR husbands and friends were invited to see the pictures and enjoy the discussion. Mrs. Hurlbut and daughter Nancy accompanied him from Medford.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. M. E. Cooper, Eva Burkhalter, Mrs. Aletha Shannon, Mrs. R. S. Loosley, Mrs. Charles J. Martin and Mrs. Roberta Blomquist.

REGINA MASSEY, left, chose pink poodle invitations, and Nancy Hall, right, wanted pink and black records, but both will bring the same invitation to 75 of their friends to come to a teen-age dancing party Friday evening, February 13, in the Y party room.

The young hostesses and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Massey and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hall, are making elaborate plans for decorating with the Valentine theme. Red and white cupid, hearts, balloons and confetti will all help to lend a festive air to the affair where the guests will dance to hi-fi music from 7 until 11:30 o'clock.

Chaperones besides the girls' parents will be Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mathis, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Meyers, Mrs. Wilma Stivers and Esther Storts.

INDOOR GARDENS

Indoor gardeners can get ready for a spring thaw with their own planter or seedbed. Make certain the plants can breathe. A base of vermiculite assures proper moisture and also allows air circulation. Don't drown seedlings with water, and keep them in the proper amount of light.

HAZ-BINS

The Haz-bins met Monday evening, January 26, at the home of Lola Truax. Pinochle was in play with high score going to Mary Eck, second to Sadie Wallace and low to Fannie May Thompson. Betty Ketsdever received the guest prize. Mrs. Hugh Hawthorne will be hostess to the club at the next meeting.

DAC Hear Talk On Colonial Life

At a luncheon meeting of the Daughters of the American Colonists January 24, in the Empire Room of the Winema Hotel, Mrs. Albert O. Roenicke gave a most interesting and educational paper on various phases of early colonial life in America.

Mrs. Arch G. Proctor, regent, spoke of the fine response she is receiving from Basin residents in the centennial project of the chapter, the gathering for cataloging and recording of family Bible records and histories of interesting Bibles.

Two of the most interesting Bibles so far reported are in the possession of Mrs. Guy H. Hancock, niece of George Nurse, founder of Linkville. One of these is Mr. Nurse's small Bible, the other is Mrs. Nurse's large Bible which has attained such age and seen so much service that it is now held together by being tied with cords.

The Daughters believe the records obtained by them will be of great service in the future. Many people desiring such statistics for birth certificates, establishing data for Social Security eligibility, insurance, or other needs may have these records to turn to in case of loss of the originals by fire or other calamity.
