Interception Set By ROK

TOKYO (AP) — South Korea hinted today that it will try to intercept ships carrying Koreans repatriated by Japan to North Korea.

Korean Minister Yiu Tai Ha informed Japanese representatives that the Seoul government could not guarantee free passage to the repatriation ships.

Yiu also told the Japanese the talks to normalize relations between South Korea and Japan, long in progress, might be broken off if Japan went ahead with the repatriation. President Syngman Rhee's government bitterly opposes the delivery of Koreans to the Communist territory, contending the southern government is the only legal regime.

Japanese Foreign Minister Aichihiro Fujiyama has announced Japan intends to start repatriating some 100,000 Koreans who have expressed a desire to go to North Korea.

Archeologist Locates 'Eden'

BAHRAIN, Persian Gulf (AP) — A British archeologist believes Bahrain may have been the legendary Garden of Eden.

Dr. Geoffrey Bibby told a news conference it was "overwhelmingly likely" the Persian gulf island was once the city of Dilmun mentioned in an ancient epic as the original abode of Adam and Eve.

He cited the Gilgamesh epic, which refers to Eden as a desert spot made fertile through a God-given spring. Bibby said a Danish archeologist had confirmed that Bahrain became fertile several thousand years ago following a period as a desert.

Patrol Chief To Be Tried

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — An Israeli court-martial will try the leader of a patrol which crossed into the Gaza Strip and killed an Arab woman and child.

A U.N. Emergency Force unit found the Israeli patrol in the Egyptian-occupied territory last Wednesday and reported it had fired into an Arab village, killing a woman and her son and wounding another woman.

The U.N. Israeli-Egyptian Mixed Armistice Commission censured Israel for the incident. The Israeli army maintained that its patrol was pursuing infiltrators who had attacked it. But it said the patrol leader violated instructions when he crossed the border. An army spokesman expressed Israel's regret "if there were any innocent casualties."

Scientist Found Dead

MANCHESTER, England (AP) — An electronics scientist working on a secret government project was found dead from poison Sunday night in his laboratory.

Police said they did not suspect foul play but would not give details.

The scientist was Dr. James Darbyshire, 52, chief physicist of a research department at the Ferranti electronics plant. He died in the middle of a series of experiments.

Darbyshire gave up a day off to return to the plant. A colleague found him dead.

The Ferranti plant is working on a rocket guidance system, among other things.

A Ferranti official said: "There is a strict security blackout."

Zeckendorf said the 48-story structure would cost $6 million dollars and would contain 2,000 rooms.

Grassi, who was pardoned last week by Gov. Albert D. Rosellini after spending 35 years in the Washington State Penitentiary for murder.

The 78-year-old man will be deported to Italy next weekend. He requested this when he asked to be judged sane and be paroled. He wanted to spend the few remaining years of his life in his homeland.

Grassi came to the United States as a young man. Instead of making his fortune, he wound up behind bars for killing three men in an argument. He was convicted for one of the killings. Sentenced to hang, he escaped the noose when he was declared insane.

King County Prosecutor Charles O. Carroll read of the old man's case and called Grassi's attorney, Al Bianchi. He said he wanted to contribute to Grassi's meager fortune.

Carroll was joined by Seattle Police Chief H. J. Lawrence and a number of officers.

"Count me in," said Justice of the Peace Evans Manolides.

Meanwhile at Walla Walla, convicts at the state prison called a meeting.

"One of our men is making out after all these years," a convict spokesman told inmates. "Let's see that we remember him."

Warden Bob Rhay's latest report said quite a chunk of money had been collected.

Just how big Grassi's new fortune will be is being kept under wraps. According to the law, Grassi has to be pauper or he can't be sent home at government expense.

Bianchi will send the contributions to Grassi when he settles down in Italy.
