

Jury Picking Continues

PORTLAND (AP)—Selection of a jury continues here today in the trial of Joseph McLaughlin, a Seattle man charged with conspiracy to bribe an executive officer.

He is accused of planning to offer a bribe to Multnomah County (Portland) Dist. Atty. William Langley so that Langley would not prosecute certain gambling operations. Langley since has been convicted of deliberate failure to prosecute gambling and has been removed from office.

At Monday's opening session in circuit court here, 10 prospective jurors were questioned.

Defense attorney Howard Lonergan told them that disreputable persons would testify against McLaughlin. He said he would ask the jury to judge such witnesses on their moral character and past deeds.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Earl M. Preston, who is one of the prosecutors, said that the state would have to use witnesses who were underworld characters.

Portland gambler Big Jim Elkins, whose disclosures touched off Portland's big vice investigation three years ago, is expected to be a key prosecution witness.

TV Pitches Facing KO

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A first-term state senator got set today for a knockdown fight on dragged-out television commercials.

Sen. Stanford C. Shaw (D-Ontario) said he would introduce a bill in the Legislature this afternoon to cut down the length and number of TV commercials.

Shaw admitted his bill might get sandbagged later in the courts. "But I'm going ahead," he said. "There's nothing wrong with giving it a try."

"Human beings can see we're being abused here and it's time we did something about it," Shaw said.

Shaw's bill would limit the duration of television commercials to two minutes and would require that they be spaced at least 10 minutes apart.

The senator said he was especially interested in "breaking up the logjam of commercials" at station breaks and curbing "long-winded auto huckstering."

He said he had timed some station break commercials at six minutes and felt they should properly be limited to two minutes.

"This is a minimum restriction, as I see it, which stations should have no difficulty at all living with," Shaw said.

The senator's measure would affect only programs telecast within California—local news and variety shows and rerun movies.

"If a show is part of an interstate hookup, you can't touch it," Shaw said. "I'd like to, but I can't."

He said that to supplement his bill, he later would introduce a resolution in the Legislature calling on Congress and the federal government to impose similar standards on network television.

Shaw insisted he was not in favor of subsidized television. "I realize programs have to be paid for," he said, "and I don't recommend government-operated TV, but there should be a modicum of fair play with the customers."

Evangelist Begins Tour

HONOLULU (AP) — Sun-tanned and rested, Billy Graham left by plane Monday night for a five-month religious crusade in Australia and New Zealand.

The 40-year-old evangelist spent three weeks in Hawaii recuperating from a nervous disorder in his left eye which doctors ascribed to overwork and strain.

Graham said that his eye was much improved. "It's about 75 per cent normal," he said, "and far better than I'd hoped for. It gives me no pain."

Graham said he had been confined to bed for two or three days with a virus infection but that he was over it.

He will begin his crusade in Melbourne next Sunday and will conduct meetings there for five or six weeks.

After a two-week rest, he will go to New Zealand for religious meetings in Auckland, Christchurch and Wellington, and then return to Australia for services starting in Sydney about April 15. He plans to return to the United States about July 15.

He described his Hawaii vacation—mostly spent golfing, swimming, deep sea fishing and relaxing on the beach—as the "best rest of my life."

His wife, Ruth, who spent three weeks with him here, left Sunday night for their home in North Carolina and their five children.

To Tie Quilts—Malin American Legion Auxiliary members will meet Thursday afternoon, February 12, at 1 o'clock in the Community Hall to tie quilts. Bess McCauley will be in charge.

Blonde Does Sleepless Bit For March Of Dimes Drive

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP) — Jo Warner, a shapely blonde disc jockey, says "I'm thinking of joining a male choir and singing bass when I'm done with this."

Jo, 22, is heading into the eighth day of a no-sleep stint at the microphone. She hopes to last until noon Friday, when she'll have racked up a record 240 hours of non-stop broadcasting.

"I feel great now," she said Monday night, after rounding out 154 hours. "I was losing my voice. It's back now, but it's gone down about an octave."

Jo is doing her stint for the March of Dimes. She works for KYTE, a station that is on the air 12 hours daily.

She stays awake the full 24 hours, spinning records in the window of a local music store. When KYTE is off the air, she switches to long-playing records. Her mike is hooked to a public address system in front of the store.

"I'm under the constant care of a local physician and also have my own private nurse," says Jo. "This is something I've wanted to do for a long time. I'm not out to prove anything. This isn't one of those women-versus-men bits. This is just something I've kind of thought would be fun to try."

"I followed the marathon in New York pretty closely. You know, when Peter Tripp went 200 hours. It just happens I've got a boss who'll listen to any kind of promotion. He went for this and it's really been swinging in Pocatello."

How did she feel? "Well, I was extremely tired at first. And now I'm just — well, I'm numb now."

Will she make it to the 240-hour mark? "I don't think I will. If I go 240 I'll wind up at noon on Friday. I'd like to go 220, but I want to be all rested up for Saturday."

Saturday? That's Jo's wedding day. She's to marry Benny Farah, 21, another KYTE disc jockey, in the local Faith Lutheran Church.

Setter Settles In Septic Tank; Dogbreeder Sues

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—The owner of a dog that got stuck in a septic tank is suing the tank's owner and several John Does for $12,600 damages.

Edwin C. Sears, a Menlo Park dogbreeder, charged in a Superior Court suit that the tank, hidden in bushes behind Dr. George H. Neumayr's summer home west of Menlo Park, was "carelessly maintained."

His champion Irish setter Hunter's Sun vanished into the tank and was not found for five days, Sears stated.

He wants $5,000 in general damages, $5,000 in punitive damages, $2,000 for loss of the dog's stud services, $500 in veterinary fees, and $100 he paid to the man who extracted Hunter's Sun.
