BACHELOR COOKIE COOKERS
At the regular meeting of the Bachelor Cookie Cookers 4-H food club on February 4, Chuck Caban and Ronnie Cunningham made muffins. Diane West helped them while Mrs. Poe explained to the other members how to set the table correctly. While the muffins baked, we had our business meeting with Colin Pope calling the meeting to order.

We learned the 4-H Pledge and Motto. After that we ate the muffins and those present were: Charles Caban, Colin Pope, Mike Ratliff, Kenneth Newnam, Robert Worch, Richard Burns, Ronald Cunningham, Frank Swisher, Diane West, and our leader, Mrs. Mildred Poe.

NIMBLE THIMBLE SEWING CLUB

At their February 2 meeting at the high school, the Nimble Thimble Sewing Club of Merrill planned the community project for the month of February. They are going to assist the VFW Auxiliary in working at the skating rink concession stand.

We were happy to welcome Lillian Hoffman and Ruth Gustavson to our meeting. Miss Hoffman passed out several pamphlets and gave pointers or good demonstrations. Miss Gustavson explained important sewing details such as facings, inter-facings, types of button holes, seam finishes, and pattern alterations. She told us that "U shaped" sewing areas are most convenient.

Miss Hoffman then showed examples of a self belt, a hem for a full skirt, and the slip stitch. Each member present learned to make a belt carrier.

Mrs. William Poe of Merrill was with the agents. She is the leader of a Bachelor Sewing group.

State Marks Centennial

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Oregon celebrates its 100th birthday anniversary Saturday with pomp and pageantry.

Vice President Richard Nixon will be the honored guest at ceremonies in Astoria, Salem and Portland to commemorate the 100th anniversary of statehood and start Oregon on its centennial year.

Several thousand persons are expected to be in Salem for the celebration, although few will be able to crowd into the Capitol Rotunda for the ceremonies to be carried by radio and television. Nixon will make the main address at the Capitol ceremonies after a parade through downtown Salem and a 19-gun salute.

The parade, which starts at 3 p.m., will include Nixon, Gov. Mark Hatfield, the Oregon congressional delegation, members of the consular corps, Oregon state officials, legislators and former governors.

The 3:30 p.m. rotunda program includes music by the Portland Symphony Orchestra.

Earlier in the day, the vice president will participate in stamp ceremonies at Astoria at 10:30 a.m. where the first Oregon Centennial stamps will be issued. Following the Salem program, Nixon will attend the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution banquet at the U.S. National Bank in Portland.

More than 1,000 persons are expected to attend the centennial ball in Salem Saturday night.

Talk Given By Appling

OREGON CITY (AP) — Secretary of State Howell Appling told a Lincoln Day dinner at Oregon City Thursday night that "we need to look beneath the party label" to find the most capable leaders.

Appling said the appointments to state jobs now are being made on a basis of demonstrated professional ability.

He said there is a need to encourage capable leaders in government service. He said Oregon is now heading in this direction.

He added that Lincoln's belief in the rights and dignity of the individual has been the foundation of the Republican Party. Appling, who is holding his first political office, said government needs to return to these beliefs.

Appling, a Republican appointed by Gov. Mark Hatfield in January, chided both parties on political insecurity.

Howard Belton, longtime Republican state legislator, was guest of honor at the dinner. Belton is from Canby.

Timber Sale Hits Record

PORTLAND (AP) — The U.S. Forest Service sold more than four and a third billion feet of timber last year from the 19 Oregon and Washington national forests.

In making the announcement, J. Herbert Stone, regional forester, said the total was a record high. The former record year was 1956. The 1956 sale was three times that of eight years ago.

The total sold exceeded the amount harvested, but still the cut was more than three billion feet and considerably more than for either of the two previous years.

The timber brought $62,277,801, an average of $14.25 per thousand feet. The 1957 average was $18.04, although the total value that year was less.

Stone referred to criticism early last year that Mt. Hood and Gifford Pinchot forest sales were lagging behind schedules. He said that by the end of 1958 sales in each forest were greater than the annual allowable cut.

There are fewer foreign-born people in South Carolina than in any other state of the Union, according to Encyclopedia Britannica.

Education Committee Seeks Washington Aid

By PAUL W. HARVEY III
SALEM (AP) — The House Education Committee Wednesday approved 5-4 a memorial asking Congress for federal aid to education.

The committee's four Republicans voted against the measure, while the five Democrats favored it.

The committee heard testimony from opponents of federal aid that it was a state responsibility to provide education.

Supporters called it the answer to education problems in the United States.

Richard S. Boyd, Portland, of the Oregon Education Assn., said the national economy can support educational expansion. He said education has become an economic power.

Boyd told the committee that Oregon would gain one million dollars more than it contributes under current federal aid to education proposals.

And he added that a minimum of federal control is needed. Boyd said the funds could be allocated at the state level, possibly by the state Legislature or the state Board of Education.

Richard Eymann, adviser to the House Taxation Committee, said some states do not have the funds to provide adequate educational opportunities. He called federal aid the only answer.

"Failure to give federal aid to education will mean welfare cases later," Eymann said.

Rep. Fred Meek (R-Portland) told the committee it is "bad philosophy" to go to the federal government for help. He charged that "it will force us to raise more money in Oregon when we can do it ourselves."

"There's only one group wanting federal aid," he added, "and that's the National Education Assn. There's no movement at the grass roots."

Referring to the states with low levels of education, Meek said the government should not "attempt to force money down their throats when they wouldn't use it right."

Gardner Knapp, Salem, speaking for the Oregon School Boards Assn., said that federal aid would mean federal control. "Federal aid is not needed," he added.

Knapp said that other federal programs have demonstrated that this is not the answer.

"I can't see spending our money when they (states with low educational standards) are not trying," he stated.

Knapp said federal aid would give the National Education Assn. more power because the federal government would lean heavily on it.
