

THE WIND WAS BLOWING hard but Mr. and Mrs. Russell Tisdale at left, and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Gilfillan, right, wear broad grins knowing that in a few hours they will be basking in the sun at Mazatlan, Mexico. The foursome plan to do some deep sea fishing along with sight-seeing and a trip on to Guadalajara. The Gilfillans will return in about two weeks, but Mr. and Mrs. Tisdale will be gone for a month.

Zuleima Nile Elects Officers

Officers for 1959-60 were elected and installed at the Zuleima Nile Club of Klamath Falls for their regular luncheon meeting at the Willard Hotel February 4. Madge McLaren, outgoing president, presented and installed Patricia Lindley, president; Jean Coddington, vice president; Margaret Larkin, secretary; and Mary Totton, treasurer. Following the reading of the official duties, each was presented with a corsage. Officers for 1958, Jean Puckett, treasurer, and Dorothy Cochran, secretary, were thanked for their services to the club.

The Pine Grove Room of the hotel was beautifully decorated with two themes in mind: the Oregon Centennial and the 28th birthday of the Klamath Falls club. A pink and red decor was carried out with bouquets of carnations, tulips and heather on red satin ribbon. Miniature covered wagons, loaned by Luella Chilcote, were flanked by Oregon grape. Pink place mats depicting Oregon being welcomed into the Union by "Uncle Sam" also carried out the Centennial idea. The head table was centered by a pink-bronze figure "28" flanked by Oregon grape and arrangements of tulips and heather and lighted candles completed the picture.

Ninon Nyback was chairman of the day and assisting with the decorations were Faith Brock, Helen McCormack and Lillian Haneline. Dorothea Roenicke who was initiated into Zuleima Temple in January, was welcomed to Zuleima and presented with a corsage by Florence Steinseifer, one of the original members of the club. Helen Olney, president of the Tulelake Nile Club, was presented and she introduced the Tulelake members in attendance.

The flower table arrangements were given as special prizes. Claudine Van Buskirk and Margaret W. B. and the birthday drawing and prizes went to Marguerite Ward, Emma Jane Leatha Murphy, Wyoming Stiles and Ruth Rodenberger.

Chairmen who assisted the president during the year were seated at a separate table and given special thanks for their help in making the past club year a success. Introduced were Louise Estes, sewing chairman; Karen Young, Christmas box chairman; Helen McCormack, Thanksgiving box chairman; Cole Brown, birthday box chairman; Helen O'Neill, musician; Gladys Tennant, in charge of cards; Grace Huls, sickness and distress chairman; and Blanche Schulze and Nell Retherath, Temple hostesses.

In the absence of Harriet Johnson, program chairman, Patricia Lindley introduced the singing trio Betty Kellstrom, Marjorie Dugan and Carol Edge who sang three delightful numbers, accompanied by Lee Stoner at the piano. Rena Oldham acted as chaplain in place of Edith Palmerton, this year's regular chaplain.

President Patricia Lindley, upon accepting the gavel, presented Madge McLaren with a gift from the club and thanked her for her work in leading the Klamath Falls Nile Club through a successful year.

Mary Vlahos will be in charge of the March club meeting at the Willard Hotel when the Bon Bazaar will present a fashion show featuring new spring and summer apparel.
