REMOVE WASTE- NOT GOOD FOOD

Here's a secret millions have discovered about FEEN-A-MINT, the wonderfully different chewing-gum laxative.

FEEN-A-MINT is different because you chew it. It's different, too, because it removes mostly waste—not good food! FEEN-A-MINT does not work in the stomach, where food is being digested. That's why it does not take away a lot of the good food you need for energy. Doctors know that FEEN-A-MINT works chiefly in the lower bowel...removes mostly waste, not good food! And it's non-irritating, too.

So to feel like a million, chew delicious FEEN-A-MINT. 16 tablets, 37¢—also small and economy sizes.

A young man fell in love with the daughter of a frugal old Yankee trader. "There will be no dowry," snapped the canny father. "Instead, young man, you will have to pay for the trousseau and the wedding yourself."

The much-in-love swain agreed. "What's more," the father added, "you'll have to make an allowance to me for losing a daughter and see to it I'm always in comfort."

"All right! All right!" the young man replied. "I agree to everything. Now may I marry your daughter?"

"You think I'm a fool!" shouted the father, shaking his head. "Let my daughter marry a spendthrift like you? Never!"

When a Woman Reaches 30

"My age? Oh, it's no secret. I'm—well, just how old do you think I am?"

"Candles on the cake? Gracious, no! That's just for children."

"Oh, I don't think you can tell a woman's age by her children. Take George and me—mother always said we were too young to get married."

"I think prematurely gray hair is so sophisticated, don't you?"

"I don't really need one. I just wear it to hold up my stockings."

"Land's sake, George, can't you be like other husbands and forget my birthday just once!"

—George C. Schlegel

A traveler picked up some Scotch tweed and, upon returning home, went to a tailor to have a suit fashioned. "Can't help you," the craftsman said. "Not enough material here."

The traveler went to a second tailor. "Yes," this one said, "I can make you a suit of this tweed in 10 days." On schedule, the suit was ready. As the traveler was admiring it, the tailor's little boy walked into the shop wearing coat and trousers made of the same material. "Yes, I made my lad a suit from the leftover tweed," the tailor admitted with some embarrassment. "But you couldn't have used it anyway."

The traveler agreed; what miffed him was the first tailor, so he went back to his shop. "You told me I didn't have enough material. But your competitor made me a suit plus one for his five-year-old son!"

"So what?" the tailor shrugged. "My son is 18!"
