

EIGHTH GRADERS of Fremont and Altamont junior high schools are currently enjoying being guests of the YMCA in the once-a-month series of dancing parties being held at the headquarters building on Friday nights. The picture is a part of the group that attended one of these affairs.

A council called the Y's Teeners made up of representative students of the two schools has held many meetings for the purpose of planning the dances. In this they are assisted by a group of parents. Another dance is slated for March 13 with the last of the spring series to be held April 24.

CANTON CRATER

The Ladies Auxiliary of Canton Crater No. 7 Patriarchs Militant met for the regular meeting Thursday, February 26, at 8 p.m. in the IOOF Hall.

Business was conducted by Helen McCornack, president. Plans were announced for a St. Patrick's party at the next meeting on March 12. All members are invited to attend. More material on civil defense instruction was discussed and presented to members.

Mary Pope and Sadie Wallace, unable to be present for the regular installation of officers, were installed as right aide to the chaplain and left aide to junior past president by installing officer, Iona May Wells, and adjutant, Frances Munsell.

A surprise announcement was made of honor to the auxiliary by the appointment of Vera Fritsch, who is now junior past president, as chaplain for the association for the coming year, installation to be in Roseburg in May.

After the meeting refreshments were served from tables decorated in the patriotic motif, by the committee, Vera Clemmons, Adeline Cofer and Cordelia Cantrill.

On February 12, a regular meeting was also held with a program on civil defense presented by Helen Blanas and Helen McCornack. Plans were made for participating with the other branches of the order for the pancake and ham supper which was held February 28 in the IOOF Hall, for the benefit of the United Nations pilgrimage fund.

A surprise birthday party for Helen McCornack and George Blanas was held in the dining room. Decorations carried out the valentine theme with a valentine gift box enjoyed by all. Vera Fritsch, Lorene McCollum, Iona May Wells and Helen Blanas were in charge of the arrangements.

Malin Mariners

Hosts At Dinner

MALIN — The Malin Mariners were hosts to the Merrill Mariners at a dinner held Wednesday evening, February 25, in the Presbyterian Church social room. An Italian dinner was served with the tables decorated in keeping with the theme. A lovely fruit centerpiece was on the buffet table.

Following dinner several fun games were played, arranged by Mr. and Mrs. George Brady and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Bloom. On the 1906 committee were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Will and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Brown with the table decorations done by Mr. and Mrs. Francis Street and Mr. and Mrs. George Brady.

Those from Merrill were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Hoskins, and Mr. and Mrs. Chris Story. Those other than the committee members attending were Mr. and Mrs. Hal Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Barbour, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Long and the Rev. and Mrs. Ethen Whitman.

Two Celebrate Golden Wedding

CASTELLA — On Sunday afternoon, February 22, a host of friends and relatives gathered at the old schoolhouse in Castella to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Harding on their golden wedding anniversary.

The couple were married in Smithland, Iowa, on February 23, 1909 and came to Shasta County in 1928. For many years they lived at the Alaska ranch near the Siskiyou County line. Now retired, they live in Castella. Mrs. Harding does intricate crochet work and her husband is busy with caring for their garden.

They have one daughter, Mrs. Yette Clark of Alturas who was present for the occasion. There are six grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

The refreshment table was centered with a tiered cake made by Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wilcox. The gold theme was carried out with roses and enshrined nuns. Members of the Castella Fire Department Auxiliary were hostesses for the affair.

PLAYERS CLUB

Members and guests of Players Club were entertained Wednesday, February 18, in the Library Club rooms by Mrs. Polly Merrill, Mrs. Karen Young and Mrs. Sievie Maguire. Following a short business meeting cards were in play with high score for bridge won by Mrs. Webb and Mrs. Markham. Mrs. June Jones and Mrs. Marie Kilgore were high in pinochle.

THETA RHO

ETNA — The regular meeting of the Etna Theta Rho Girls' Club was held February 19 with Vera Branson, president, presiding. Two delegates, Vera Branson and Linda Starr, were chosen to attend the Grand Assembly to be held in Santa Cruz, March 22 and 24. After the meeting refreshments were served in the banquet hall by Candace Parker and Linda Starr.
