Kathy Halaas played incidental music during the social hour preceding the dinner and Bethel No. 6 Job's Daughters drill team provided the evening's entertainment. Wally Thompson was chairman of the affair assisted by Emil Wells, Elmer Lemler, Don Phelps, John Short, Chef Stenecypher, Homer Ellis, Curley Wilson and Vic Stockebrand. —Photo by Kettler

Manzanita Chapter

Worthy Matron Gladys Chubb and Worthy Patron W. E. Anderson welcomed and escorted 10 Manzanita Chapter past matrons and past patrons at the February 11 meeting of Manzanita Chapter No. 172 OES, in the Scottish Rite Temple.

Past Matrons Virginia Brown, Vera Fritsch, Lois Gueck, Georgianna Clark, Evelyn Biehn, and Past Patrons Walter Brown, Ray Grams, Everett Biehn, Gus Vlahos, and Marion Grant were lined up in the east facing west. Courtesy stars presented them with hearts on pink streamers leading to the altar. They followed their streamers to the altar where they found and read "food-for-thought" mottoes on gifts. The gifts were OES salt shakers and Masonic pepper shakers.

Visiting Past Matrons Bertha Jones, Louisa Segee, Jenny Hurn, and Past Patron Harold Jones were introduced and escorted to a reserved section in the South. Courtesy stars presented them with valentines and miniature gavels.

First time visitors to sign the guest books were Verda Scribner of Silver Ware Chapter No. 18, Tillamook, Oregon, and Louisa Segee of Sylvia Chapter No. 80, Genoa, Nebraska.

Nina Hall, Lorene McCollum, Lois Murphy, Helen Rightmeyer, and Vera Fritsch volunteered to give instructions on the secret work to all members interested in passing the proficiency test and receiving certificates. Members are to contact one of these instructors or the worthy matron.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

MERRILL — A party honoring Susan Moore's fourth birthday was held Thursday afternoon, February 26, at her home. "Susie" is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Moore. Nine small guests accompanied by six mothers enjoyed an afternoon of party games followed by the opening of the birthday gifts. Each of the guests were presented with a small individual cake topped with a candle so that each could join the guest of honor in blowing out the candle and make a birthday wish.

SURPRISE PARTY

RONANZA — A few friends surprised Mrs. Bill Becholdt the morning of February 17, when they came with a birthday cake baked and decorated by Mrs. Ivan

Bold and gifts for her birthday. Attending were Mrs. Bold, Mrs. Christine McCormick, Mrs. Cecil Haley, Mrs. Merrill Stewart, Mrs. Florence Horn, Mrs. Roy Fernlund, Mrs. Owen Peppie, Mrs. Mabel Maxwell and Mrs. Les Leavitt.

COL. AND MRS. JACK WILLIAMS attended the Shrine crab feed. Colonel Williams was a member of India Temple of Oklahoma City before coming to Klamath Falls where he is now affiliated with Hillah Temple. Decorations shown at the head table carried out the marine theme. Al Nyback used fish net as a background for mermaids made of pink styrofoam. Baskets of tulips and candles in pink holders completed the attractive arrangements. —Photo by Kettler

Camp Fire Girls Are Hostesses

CHILOQUIN — The Hightland Camp Fire Girls have served as hostesses at three events recently. The girls working for the rank of fire maker, have given dinners and the entire group gave a sleigh riding party, to which 24 young people were invited.

The snow party was held Sunday afternoon near the reservoir east of Chiloquin with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Jack, Mrs. Dwight Kircher and Mrs. Gerald Wolff acting as chaperons. All the guests were seventh graders. Hot dogs and cocoa around a blazing camp fire relieved the chill of the many sled trips down the hill.

At Klamath Agency Phyllis Sisson, Karen and Sharon Chase and Valerie Mitchell served an attractive dinner to Mr. and Mrs. Victor Sisson, Mr. and Mrs. Red Chase.

Donna Kircher, Micki Wolff, Reda Jack and Shirley Sortwell were hostesses Sunday, February 22, at a George Washington Day dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kuist, Mrs. Henry Spicer and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Kircher.

Farewells Said To Mrs. Wooley

Molly Wooley, J. C. Penney associate since September 1957, was guest of honor at two farewell parties before her departure February 27. The first "going away affair" was given by her fellow associates and was held at Sam's cafe, Tuesday night, February 17. The petite honoree was presented an orchid corsage from the ladies of the store.

The second farewell get-together was an old fashioned potluck supper, given at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Graham, 425 Lagoon, Tuesday, February 26. Potluck meals are a favorite with Molly and the supper, served TV style in the spacious living room of the Grahams, where a glowing fire burned in the fireplace, was enjoyed by 15 well-wishers of the former sports wear department manager.

Mrs. Wooley's husband was transferred to Gold Beach two weeks prior to her departure, and will continue in the trucking business there. Molly will enjoy her new experience of "just being a housewife," with plenty of time to bask in the sunshine and listen to the breaking of the ocean waves.

Those present were: Mary Norman, Martha Hurd, Bland Roller, Ruby Amacker, Marie Fales, Charlene Nichols, Judy Lewis, Pearl Ernst, Marcella Savage, Pauline Parsons, Mr. and Mrs.

Gordon Cogburn and children, Kenneth Graham and children, Gary and Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Judy and Michael.
