Israel Tries To Calm Down

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — The Israeli government worked overtime today to calm new war jitters in the Middle East, caused by a coded broadcast Wednesday night calling up Israeli army reserves. The army said the announcement should have been a routine notice to three reserve units being called for training maneuvers. But the army said the government radio had broadcast it in a way "likely to create panic in the country and misunderstanding abroad." Neighboring Syria had immediately ordered all military men on leave back to duty and put five army reserve formations on 24-hour notice. Damascus radio said Syria had taken "all necessary measures to defend herself" in the wake of the Israeli announcement. Jordan's higher defense council held a late-night emergency meeting and announced it was taking "all necessary measures to protect the Jordan border and security." The communique, broadcast by the government radio in Amman, did not specify what measures were being taken. Shortly after the Israeli broadcast, which gave the impression of a large-scale mobilization order, Finance Minister Levi Eshkol interrupted a budget debate in Parliament to express the government's regret over the misunderstanding. Ben-Gurion named a special committee to find out who was responsible for the broadcast.

Deputies Quit County Post

Sheriff Murray Britton confirmed today the replacement of Jess Bryant and his two sons as deputy sheriffs in the Bly and Beatty areas. Britton said the Bryants submitted their resignations to him Tuesday, effective that day. The resignations were accepted yesterday by the county court. The sheriff said neither Jess Bryant nor his sons, Arthur and Oland, gave reasons for their resignations. The sheriff said, however, that Mrs. Bryant has been ill and that the family intends to move to Myrtle Creek to afford her a lower altitude recommended for her health. Jess Bryant had been on the sheriff's staff for approximately five years, and his sons had been deputies for approximately three years. Replacing Jess Bryant in Bly will be Jim Conroy, a Bly resident for some time and a man experienced as a deputy in previous years. Conroy, who has been active in ranching, is the father of Jim Conroy, principal at Malin High School. Replacing the Bryant brothers in Beatty will be Jim Phipps, a longtime Midland resident and an Air Force veteran, and J. W. Holway, a Beatty resident who has been doing some work on the sheriff's staff. Britton said the appointments were effective yesterday. The Jess Bryant home in Bly was totally destroyed by fire when a stove exploded three weeks ago, the sheriff said. He said Mrs. Bryant was in Myrtle Creek at that time.

SCOUT NEWS

MONTAGUE — Headed by new Scoutmaster Jim Ready, Montague Boy Scout Troop No. 51 has become reactivated, chalking up two outings in the past month. The first trip was a day's jaunt to the Pythian's Cave, and the second, an overnight trip, was taken on Friday, March 27 to Smith's Mill, which is the official camping site for the Montague troop. Boys were provided transportation to Smith's Mill by Bill Swagart Sr., and Paul Meischke, assistant scoutmaster. While there the boys were put through their paces on their tenderfoot second and first class requirements, and passed several tests for the Board of Review, scheduled to be held on April 7 at the Montague elementary school. The boys must appear before the Board of Review in preparation for Court of Honor, sitting on the board are E. M. Martin, Charles Phillips and James B. McAdams, members of the Montague Rotary Club, sponsors of the troop. Court of Honor has been set up for May 7, at which time Mother's Day will be observed with a potluck dinner. Tourists See 1849 Shop

MONTAGUE — Fashions of 1849 or 1859 are equally intriguing to women and one of the latest innovations at the Siskiyou County Museum, Yreka, an old fashioned dressmaking and millinery shop is drawing the attention of many women visitors. The idea for the shop is Mrs. Hazel Pollock's who on April 1 became curator of the museum. A spot was chosen in a corner of the museum basement and the old garments, including displays of stayed corsets, plus an antique sewing machine, dress form, old table, kerosene lamp, a platform rocker and other items that recall the dressmaking shops of yesterday. The tiny room is papered with antique paper. One of the most interesting exhibits is a beautiful wedding gown worn by the late Mrs. Marie Budd Cairns, Montague. The gown was part of Mrs. Cairns' $1,500 trousseau and is a Paris creation of egg shell slipper satin. The skirt sweeps into an elaborate train. Puffed sleeves are oversized. The dress is entirely handmade. The gown was worn in 1885 in New York's Grace Cathedral. The old sewing machine has been loaned by Mrs. Mary Lemos. It was once owned by Mrs. Peter Bossonet and is about 100 years old. It was brought across the plains after being taken apart. It was re-assembled and placed on a wooden stand when the family located on the Shasta River bank near Montague. Other interesting items include long hampins, old dress trimmings, capes and coats, a lap board made in 1888, a drafting board and pattern template, the last three items owned by the late Mrs. Zula Herzog, mother of Frank Herzog, 79, who retired April 1 as museum curator. The kerosene lamp was used by the mother of the late Harry Cash.
