To Drink Or Not To Drink (Legally) To Be Solved

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Oklahomans wind up a short but hard campaign Tuesday by deciding whether to swap 51 years of prohibition for legal liquor.

Observers predict up to 700,000 voters will have their say.

One question determines whether to repeal constitutional prohibition, in effect since statehood, and substitute legal liquor. The amendment provides for private package stores, with sales by the drink banned.

The second question, determines if county option will be adopted if repeal passes. If both are approved, counties will vote May 12 on whether to go wet or stay dry.

The election follows by two days a huge effort by state law officers to dry up Oklahoma. Led by 33-year-old Safety Commissioner Joe Cannon, city, county and state officers raided 13 Tulsa bootleggers and 14 Tulsa nightclubs Saturday night.

Then at midnight a vast network of roadblocks was set up over most of the state for six hours.

Neither raids nor roadblocks netted much—30 bottles of liquor and 22 persons arrested on liquor charges—but Cannon termed it a success.

He has headed the three-month crackdown which Gov. J. Howard Edmondson promised voters in his campaign last summer.

The crackdown had the announced aim of giving voters a clear choice between repeal and enforced prohibition.

It also was seen as an effort to stir up thousands of wet voters who in past years have either voted dry or stayed home Election Day. Registrations, especially in wet Tulsa and Oklahoma City, are up considerably.

The United Dry Assn., financed mostly by churches, pitched the prohibition campaign to the evils of alcohol and weaknesses in the amendment.

Dry hopes for victory in the state's sixth repeal election rest on a far superior organization through a majority of the state's churches.

However, not all faiths or even all churches of some faiths have supported prohibition. A few are actively working for repeal.

Wet optimism stems from several factors. Repealists contend there are several thousand young adults favoring repeal who could not vote in the last election in 1949.

They point to the 1957 defeat of a dry sponsored amendment for county option on 3.2 beer.

Wets say voters no longer fear buying a "pig in a poke" since for the first time the repeal bill has been authored by the Legislature and spells out certain sales controls and revenue division.

Rangers Make Medicine Lake Snow Survey

The annual snow survey at Medicine Lake was taken March 31 by Elmo A. Brough, Wesley Hamilton and Jerry Chapman, who came upon the first snow approximately one mile from the south end of the new road, or 10 miles from Medicine Lake via the north entrance.

An army weasel was used for transportation to Medicine Lake and return.

The Medicine Lake snow course was established in 1940. Snow depth and water content are listed for the period of 1940 through 1959: 1940, 84.5, 36.8; 1941, 89.5, 40.1; 1941, 89.5, 40.1; 1942, 66.3, 29.4; 1943, 76.0, 33.3; 1944, 44.0, 18.3; 1945, 77.0, 29.8; 1946, 100.0, 41.0; 1947, 62.0, 22.3; 1948, 60.0, 20.4; 1949, 81.0 25.6; 1950, 69.0, 25.1; 1951, 71.3, 31.3; 1952, 108.5, 48.3; 1953, 79.0, 33.3; 1954, 90.1, 35.2; 1955, 59.5, 21.9; 1956, 115.0, 51.7; 1957, 55.6, 21.6; 1958, 160.0, 60.0; 1959, 54.3, 20.9.

Average for period 1940 - 1959, 80.1 snow depth; 32.3 water content.

Many Guests Greet Ingrid

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"It seems that I have never been away."

So said Ingrid Bergman, beaming, as the top stars of Hollywood gathered to honor her on her first visit to the film capital in a decade.

The occasion was a dinner dance at the home of film executive Buddy Adler and his wife, actress Anita Louise. Ingrid personally greeted each of the 300 guests.

The Saturday night affair lasted well into Sunday morning. A feature of the late hours: Sir Laurence Olivier doing a jitterbug routine to "Turkey in the Straw."

Among those present were Jenny Ann Lindstrom, Ingrid's 19-year-old daughter by her first marriage, and her third husband, Swedish theatrical producer Lars Schmidt.

Miss Bergman is in Hollywood to present one of the Oscars at tonight's Academy Awards presentation.

HST In LA; Talks Slated

LOS ANGELES (AP)—After a flying trip to a desert resort, Harry Truman is back in Los Angeles for two talks and a touch of prognostication.

The former president is expected to outline the qualifications he thinks the Democrats 1960 presidential candidate will have to have to win at a meeting of a Democratic group today. He will speak at a Town Hall meeting Tuesday and at UCLA Wednesday.

Truman was flown to Palm Springs and back Sunday in the private airliner of oilman Ed Pauley. He visited the ranch of actor Phil Regan.

Russians Claim America Violated Altitude Rules

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has charged that the United States deliberately violated altitude regulations in the West Berlin air corridor to wreck the forthcoming East-West talks.

The State Department withheld official comment, but U.S. informants in Washington said the United States had no such intention when it sent a C130 transport into West Berlin at 20,000 feet last week.

The U.S. Embassy in Moscow received the latest accusation in a diplomatic note. Meanwhile, U.S. officials in Germany turned down a Soviet complaint that the plane, which was buzzed by Soviet fighters, became a safety hazard when it flew into Berlin March 27. The Soviets claim Allied planes in the corridor are prohibited from going above 10,000 feet.

The new Soviet protest said the Soviet government would not permit anything to hamper the foreign ministers conference opening in Geneva May 11 and "is doing everything to make these negotiations easier."

But the note said it was difficult "not to consider the premeditated violation by American aircraft of the established order of air communication with Berlin as other than the intention of the United States to worsen conditions for the foreign ministers' meeting, if not to wreck altogether the already reached agreement to hold East-West talks."

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia warned that for successful talks "all the interested parties should show will and desire, and also put in their place those who through inertia or evil thinking continue to poison the atmosphere with a miasma proclaiming the policy from a position of strength."

The U.S. position is that there is no legal ceiling in the Berlin air corridors and that planes can fly at any altitude desirable in ferrying supplies for the Allies.

The issue did not arise with older, propeller-driven planes which stayed below 10,000 feet. But the C130 is a turboprop aircraft which operates most efficiently at high altitudes. The United States, determined to establish its right to use any level in the corridor, reportedly plans to send additional high-level planes to and from West Berlin. The C130 could haul considerably more cargo than older planes if the Communists close land routes to West Berlin and the Allies try to supply their garrisons by airlift.

The Soviets say they reserve the air space above 10,000 feet for their jet fighters patroling the corridors and surrounding air space.

New Fuels May Be Gotten By Creation Of 'Hell Fires'

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

BOSTON (AP)—A scientist today declared we ought to create "hell fires" on earth, just to see what happens.

He warned the Soviet Union is probably trying to do it — first.

The hell fires would be laboratory temperatures of 10,000 to 60,000 degrees — 2 to 12 times hotter than those usually produced on earth.

Out of research with them come an entirely new chemistry — perhaps vastly more powerful rocket fuels, strong new materials, strange new chemicals.

A research jump into these "hell fires" was urged by Dr. Aristid V. Grosse, president of the Research Institute of Temple University, at opening sessions of the American Chemical Society's 135th national meeting.

"We simply don't know much about what happens in chemical and physical reactions above about 5,000 degrees," he said. "But temperatures above 10,000 degrees might lead to new fuels, rocket propellents, and materials able to resist tremendous heat."

"Our national security could be involved, if these high temperatures do hold secrets to new fuels and new chemicals.

"The Soviet Union is trying to leapfrog us in the missile race, and probably is working hard on facilities to create ultra-high temperatures."

Really high temperatures can be created by furnaces focusing the sun's rays, by some rocket motors, and by plasma jets, or streams of gases created by electric arcs.

Dr. Grosse urges more such facilities for research into the hell fire range.

He described two new steps into this higher temperature range made at the research institute.

One is creating hot flames, through plasma jets using oxygen, ozone, and other materials, that can produce continuous temperatures up to 60,000 degrees F.

Various chemicals and materials will be exposed to these temperatures to see how they react. New types of chemical reactions might occur.

A second step is discovery of a method of storing pure ozone in laboratory tanks, and then using it in controlled amounts, with no danger of explosions. Ozone, the single-atom form of oxygen, makes anything burn at higher temperature and faster than it does with ordinary oxygen.

Rain Predicted For Nuptials

TOKYO (AP) — The weatherman came up with some bad news today for Crown Prince Akihito.

"Cloudy and occasional rain" is the forecast for April 10, the date of the prince's wedding to Michiko Shoda.

Even showers aren't expected to dampen the public gaiety for the biggest social event in Japan since Akihito's parents were wed 33 years ago. More than a million persons probably will jam the five-mile route along which the couple will be driven after the ceremony.

Police issued special rules for the giant crowd in an attempt to preserve some sort of decorum.

Firecrackers are banned and so are loud music, throwing of streamers, balloons and bouquets(flash bulbs for pictures and jumping into the street.

With a campaign under way now for election of a governor of Tokyo, distribution of pamphlets and speechmaking along the royal route are prohibited.

Police also warned against drinking liquor and said old people and children should be accompanied by escorts or guardians.

Police estimated that only about 300,000 would be able to see the young couple drive by. To help out, 115 television sets will be installed at various spots, nearly 9,000 policemen will patrol the route.

Shoe Lost To Burglar

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Jay Robinson lost a shoe in a wrestling match with a husky intruder wearing a silk-stocking mask.

The shoe, said Robinson, contained $3,200 he had withdrawn from a bank to use on a trip to New York.

The 28-year-old actor said the bandit forced his way into his room at a Hollywood motel Sunday, grabbed him by the throat, and wrestled him to the floor. Robinson weighs 135 pounds. He said the robber outweighed him by 50 pounds.

The actor played Emperor Caligula in the film, "The Robe."
