

FBI, Wife Relax Now

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—The FBI and a worried wife are relaxed today, now that Robert Ayers Franklin is back home. Mrs. Franklin called the FBI and newspapers early Tuesday, saying she hadn't heard from her husband since he left April 1 carrying "classified documents."

Victorious Chicago Chief Has Formula For Success

CHICAGO (AP)—If the reason for Mayor Richard J. Daley's success could be boiled down to a single word, it would be: work.

Officials Mull Vote Results

BENSON, Ariz. (AP)—City election officials were still trying to figure out today who was elected what in the primary. Voters were to choose nominees for five council seats Monday. Only 118 of about 700 eligible voters showed up. But here's what they did: They voted for three Republicans on the Democratic ticket. Five Democrats got votes on the Republican ballot. One Democrat got 15 GOP votes, but none from his own party.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Rabbi Max Nussbaum of Temple Israel, Hollywood, Calif., cannot marry Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher in Nevada. He is Miss Taylor's selection but three Las Vegas judges informed her Tuesday the rabbi isn't qualified to perform marriages in this state because he doesn't have a congregation in Nevada.

Harry Thumps Tom-Tom; Wants Dick To Run

The mayor, elected Tuesday to his second term, strides into his office between 8:30 and 9 and usually works until 6. Three nights a week on the average, he attends banquets and meetings. Daley bustled through the four years of his first term without benefit of a vacation of more than a few days. The toll took no visible toll. He is 56 now. His slick hair is dark. He is an erect 5 feet, 8. He weighs about 200—a plump testimonial to his wife's cooking. Daley's work habits probably have their roots in necessity, as well as nature. He had to support Mrs. Daley and their seven children.

The eldest child, Patricia, is a nun. Mary Carol, 29, is away at college. The others—Eleanor, 18, Richard, 17, Michael, 15, John, 12, and William, 10—are in school. The Daleys live in a plain house at 3336 Lowe Ave., in the same block of the back-of-the-yards neighborhood where Daley was born May 13, 1902. While he didn't go very far geographically, he went places politically. He spent the 1936-46 period in the Illinois Legislature, worked as state director of revenue 1948-50, and served as Cook County (Chicago) clerk from 1950 until he was elected mayor in 1955. During his first term there has been an expansion of expressways, thousands of new street lights, a buildup of the police department and other improvements. But crime has been a persisting problem, documented by daily newspaper accounts of robbers, burglars, musclemen or gunslingers at work. Daley has been Democratic county chairman since 1953. His Democrats won 27 of the 30 county races in the November 1958 election. They took 45% of the 30 seats in the City Council in the February 1959 aldermanic election—a record sweep. Victory doesn't prompt him to live it up. He takes an occasional drink, but doesn't smoke. He makes short, simple speeches couched in short, simple words. Duty requires him to speak frequently. man in his audience asked about his dual role of mayor and Democratic chief. "An individual is not worth his salt as mayor, governor or president," Daley snapped. "If he is not a political leader."
