Over The Garden Gate

EVERGREEN GARDEN CLUB The April meeting of the Evergreen Garden Club was held on Wednesday evening, April 8, at the home of Mrs. Dolly Cox of 2138 Ward Street. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Robert Luscombe, who introduced the speaker of the evening, Ray Peterson. His topic was "Soil Conservation." Peterson, an authority on this subject, said the fact that soil is a living thing, composed of many living organisms, bacteria, and molds, besides the mineral content was brought out.

Organic materials in fertilizers are very important and both compost and stable manure are still the best sources of these materials. A two to four inch layer of this material is not generally too much for most crops. Rabbit or chicken manure is stronger than most stable manure and must be used with more care to avoid burning of plants.

Sawdust is a good mulch to keep down weeds and provide organic material, but should be old and brown as the newer sawdust is so light in our bright sunlight the reflection burns tender young plants. Gypsum added to the soil loosens it and can hardly be overdone in most soils. It is more soluble and effective than soil sulphur.

Iron chelates were recommended to counteract an excess of lime in soil which often causes yellowing of plant leaves. Excess lime in the soil near foundations and brick walls often is traced to the lime used in the mortar. Polish is not generally required in most of the soils in the Klamath country and a 16-20-0 commercial fertilizer is generally good for most crops.

A tiller, it was stated, often makes soil too light and fluffy and care should be taken to firm a seed bed after using a tiller to insure the retention of moisture.

After Peterson's talk, an open forum was held and many questions were answered for the group. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Dolly Cox, assisted by Mrs. Elwyn Hill. A business meeting was called to order, with 14 members answering roll call by naming a new rose desired in the garden.

One guest, Mrs. Virginia Brooks, was introduced.

The nominating committee made its report, which was accepted, and since there were no nominations from the floor, the secretary was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot for Verda Urbach, president; Dolly Cox, vice president; Lela Thurman, secretary and Ann Federhart, treasurer.

It was announced that the Junior Club was planning to join the Evergreen Club in a meeting in May, the date to be announced later for joint installation of officers. Announced also was the invitation extended to both Evergreen and Junior to take charge of the sales at Albers Feed Store on Saturday, May 9. The meeting was then adjourned.

MOUNT SHASTA—Spring Creek ranch, a mile west of Mount Shasta, is the country home of Dr. and Mrs. Werner Fletcher Hoyt. It is one of the show places of the Mount Shasta area.

Limited space allows only a 2-hole golf course. The doctor, Mrs. Hoyt, and friends enjoy hole-in-one contests, putting practice, and healthful exercise in their own yard.

Beside this grass covered course is a small lake where wild Mallard ducks nest; where trout swim; and where the water pouring over the spillway, makes music to blend with the rest of the peaceful surroundings.

The doctor, veteran of both world wars, came to this place in 1947. He is the third owner of the property which was homesteaded by Cornelius Alfsten some time during the early 1860's.

They were the parents of Mrs. Harry Lassen, second owner of the place, and for whose husband, Harry, Lassen Lane was named. They were the parents of Mrs. Helen Hines, well known Mount Shasta businesswoman.

Doctor and Mrs. Hoyt are parents of two members of the Mount Shasta professional ranks. So Fletcher is a teacher in the high school, and is a noted mountain climber. Daughter Margaret is an attorney with offices in Mount Shasta and Dunsmuir. Both these young people are noted skiers, members of the Mt. Shasta Ski Bowl Ski Club.
