

South Korean President Sends Message To Class

AUSTIN Tex. (AP)—Fifth grade teacher Bill Bryant had his pupils write letters to world leaders, conveying friendship messages to all children.

He displayed Tuesday an answer to the class. It read:

"My dear American friends: "Your world friendship project is most commendable, and I am pleased to send you a message of advice for all boys and girls everywhere.

"I am about to observe my 84th birthday. To you, I imagine, that is an almost unbelievable age. When I was as old as you, there were no automobiles, no airplanes, no radio, no television, no miracle drugs — and no atom and hydrogen bombs.

"Also, there was no peace, and some of the peoples of the world were trying to push other people around. That is something that has not changed; yet, it is the aspect of our life that most required change.

"The generations that precede you have provided a wonderful heritage of inventions to make life more interesting and comfortable. But to you, they have left the supreme task: that of creating a world order of freedom, of justice and of peace.

"Because you are citizens of the United States, which is the strongest and most democratic country in the world, your own role is especially important. If you don't understand what is going on, and if you are not alert to the intentions of the enemy that we call communism, there won't be much hope for the rest of us.

"My counsel is to stand firm for the values and the actions that have made your nation great. Do not compromise with evil. Do not think that you can live as free and happy men and women when others are enslaved and miserable.

"This is your challenge, and it is one that those who came before have never been able to meet. But I am confident that you will not fail, because you have great opportunity for knowing, for finding out the truth, than any boys and girls of the past.

"My very best wishes to all of you.

The letter was signed Syngman Rhee, president of the Republic of South Korea.

Star Seeks Back Alimony

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Know how to build a swimming pool that doesn't cost a dime?

Actress Rosemary Lane would like to know, too, she said Tuesday in a suit seeking $1,150 in back alimony from her former husband, makeup man George (Bud) Westmore.

She contends she allowed Westmore to lower alimony payments from $100 to $70 weekly after he claimed to be short of cash. Then she learned Westmore was building a new swimming pool.

"The swimming pool didn't cost a dime," she quoted Westmore.

Westmore replied, through his attorney, that he was doing his best — considering he has remarried, has two children and a third on the way.

PTA NEWS

PELICAN SCHOOL

Selections by the Pelican School band were on the program at Pelican PTA, Wednesday afternoon, April 15, in the school auditorium.

Russell Whalen, in presenting the school band and explaining its program, pointed out the need for music and art in a well rounded education.

Superintendent of City Schools, Arnold L. Gralapp talked of the student growth in the community. He spoke briefly on how schools here have been financed in the past few years and reminded listeners of the coming school budget elections on May 4.

Time of the Pelican annual preschool party was announced for Wednesday, May 6, from 9 to 11 a.m.

Business included further discussion of the "Spring Carnival of Fun," the PTA sponsored talent show slated for Friday, April 24, at 8:15 p.m. at the Pelican School auditorium. A good variety of talent has been promised and admission tickets will be sold at the door.

Parents from Mrs. Mildred Merrill's and Mrs. Lela Thurman's fourth grade rooms served as hosts.

DDS Outlines Transplanting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An impacted tooth is an extra and there's no reason a dentist can't transplant one somewhere else in your mouth if he has the proper equipment, says an Alameda, Calif., oral surgeon.

Dr. Sanford Plainfield told the California State Dental Assn. Tuesday a successful transplant provides a three-way benefit:

It disposes of a potentially bothersome tooth, fills a gap in the mouth and does away with a need for bridgework to fill the gap.

The University of California lecturer said he has had only three failures in 60 transplants in patients from 13 to 20 years of age.

'Glance Behind,' Motorists Told

Eighty five drivers in Klamath Falls didn't look back before throwing their cars into reverse last year and as a result they clobbered something.

That is the fruit of an investigation made recently by Acting Police Chief Archie Huff, who says nearly all the accidents could have been prevented with a simple neck twist.

Throughout the state, 4,092 accidents occurred involving cars backing up. One of the accidents produced a fatality, and 83 per cent resulted in injuries. Nearly all caused property damage.

Thirty one accidents involved pedestrians in the path of backing cars.

Two Truckers Receive Awards

Two Klamath Falls truck drivers received awards for a cumulative total of 11 years' safe driving at a buffet luncheon served by the Pacific Motor Trucking Company in honor of 44 safe drivers April 19 in Eugene.

They are William Habinck and Rudolph Carlson. Habinck received a National Safety Council award, a safe driving card and pin for his seven years' driving for the company without a mishap. Habinck's similar award was for four years of safety.

Awards went to men from many Southern Oregon points.

G1 Completes Training Course

Army Pvt. Jerry R. Lumpkin, 17, of Klamath Falls, completed an engineering equipment maintenance helper course April 10 at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri.

He was schooled to assist in repair and maintenance of tractors, graders, bulldozers, air compressors and chain saws.

Lumpkin entered the Army last November after graduation from Klamath Union High School.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester T. Lumpkin of 4100 Washburn Way.

Mate Preparing To Scuttle Plans

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sterling Hayden's ex-wife is trying to take the wind out of the actor's sails — financially speaking. Hayden is on a cruise to China with the couple's four children in defiance of a court order.

Betty de Noon filed suit Tuesday seeking to tie up money she says various movie studios and magazines planned to advance her former husband for a television film-making cruise.

VISITATION DAY

The Shasta School preschool visitation day is planned for Friday, April 24, 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon. All children who expect to enter Shasta School in September, 1959, are invited. The purpose of visitation day is to acquaint beginning students with school facilities; to acquaint their parents with requirements for entering school, such as birth certificates showing that the child is six years old before November 15; and to give the school an idea as to planning for first grader enrollments. There will be a meeting of the mothers of preschool children at 10 to 11 a.m. in the cafeteria.

Sitzmark Club Jamboree Features Young Skiers

CRATER LAKE NATIONAL PARK — Sixteen skiers, ranging from preschool age to the teens, participated in the Sitzmark Ski Club jamboree and exhibition on the ski hill near the park administration building on Sunday.

The three ski classes, which have been instructed by Park Ranger Slim Mabery, represent just about half of the park personnel children and include some of those who have moved into the park within the last six weeks.

Every one of the 16 was a star in his or her own right on that hill. There were a lot of smaller stars, too, from about 18 months of ages to 4 years who made repeated trips down the hill on the seats of their ski pants, obviously looking forward to the future when they, too, could be in ski competition.

Race medals, provided by parents of the ski club members, were presented by Mabery in the recreation hall after luncheon for parents, children and guests.

Gold medals in the beginners' class went to Patty Black, a new skier, for top place, and Robert (Skipper) Williams, as a special award. Patty, daughter of the new park naturalist, Bruce Black and Mrs. Black, also took top place in her class with the greatest combined number of points.

Her race time of 15.3 seconds was the best of the day.

Other beginner race medals went to Claudia Black, Reggie Bowlder and Julie Skevington.

Race medals were won in the following order for the novice class: Judy Trulove, who also took first place in combined points for her division; Nancy Holmes, whose race time of 21.7 seconds was fastest for the day; Dennis Mabery, Jay Bowlder, Joyce Fulton, Sandy Skevington and Jimmy Black.

In the intermediate class, best race time (24 seconds) was made by Kenny Mabery who also placed first in his division; Judy Holmes, Steve Trulove (who placed first in proficiency in his division), and Judy Fulton.

Original Crater Lake Ski Club patches went to Jimmy Black and Dennis Mabery, gifts of Sadie Blake of Fort Klamath.

Winner of the trophy offered by The Gun Store, Klamath Falls, for highest proficiency in the novice class was won by Judy Trulove with 56 out of a possible 65 points. Three trophies went to skiers showing the most progress during the course of instruction. Steve Trulove, who had gotten demerits early in the year on account of an accident (the only one in the year and, fortunately, a minor one, according to Mabery), went on to win one of the coveted trophies.

The second trophy, Mabery announced, had been won by Judy

Holmes who "couldn't even do a snow plow when she started."

The third trophy for greatest progress was presented by Jackie Poole, teacher of the Crater Lake National Park School, to 9-year-old Skipper Williams, son of Park Superintendent and Mrs. Tom Williams.

Mabery had noted the youngster's interest in skiing, so he made special skis for the lad, one for the tip of each crutch and a center one. Skip took his turn in the beginners' class and negotiated the entire hill without a spill.

Bill Jenkins, managing editor of the Herald and News, presented certificates to those skiers who had passed their proficiency tests in the various classes.

The ski classes were held each Friday afternoon at the close of the school day with Mabery contributing his time to the project. The jamboree last Sunday was the culmination of the first regular ski instruction at the park.

Two Top Navajo Leaders On 'Parole' For Crimes

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP) — Two top Navajo leaders, accused of committing crimes of some kind or another, were on "parole" today. And it was no joke — not to those concerned.

A retired Army general strode into Navajo headquarters Tuesday and informed Tribal Chairman Paul Jones and Vice Chairman Scott Preston he, as a citizen, was putting them under technical arrest.

Brig. Gen. Herbert C. Holdridge, of Sherman Oaks, Calif., said he was acting against the tribal leaders at the request of other Navajos.

TNT Blast; Three Die

OROVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Three men were killed and two injured Tuesday when dynamite exploded in a small tunnel at the site of the Oroville Dam on the Feather River.

Donald Goode, 46, job superintendent from Grand Junction, Colo.; Robert Arnold, 45, and Chester Zurich, 45, both of Oroville, were killed.

Fank Shippe and Andrew Canifan of Oroville were injured.

The tunnel was part of geological explorations for the proposed 400-foot high dam, slated to be one of the largest in the world.

Work On Road Given Okay

Klamath County was authorized March 10 by the state Public Utility Commission to run the Kirk-Silver Lake Road across two logging roads owned by the Weyerhaeuser Timber Company.

Crossings will be constructed of 20-foot-wide macadam pavement and adequate shoulders. Trees and brush will be removed for 500 feet on both sides of the crossings to afford better vision. Plans call for warning and stop signs.

The PUC hearing on the matter cost the county $264.85.

Highway Traffic Increase Noted

Highway traffic has increased several per cent in Oregon over traffic counted at this time last year, figures compiled at Highway Department checkpoints reveal. Klamath County traffic has increased more than the state average.

A checkpoint at Midland junction on Highway 97, a few miles south of town, showed that an average of 1,844 cars used Highway 97 daily during March of this year. The checkpoint averaged a daily 1,533 count during March, 1958—20.3 per cent less than this year.

Statewide, traffic increased 5.8 per cent according to figures from 70 checkpoints.

A checkpoint on Highway 97 at Chemult registered a 28.9 per cent increase. A 22.4 per cent increase of use of State Highway 66 between Ashland and Klamath Falls showed.
