Talk Planned By Chaplain
John M. Humphries, director of chaplaincy services, Oregon State Hospital, Salem, will speak on the "Church's Ministry and Mental Health" at the annual dinner of the Klamath Council of Churches, 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 28, in the First Presbyterian Church of Klamath Falls.

Dinner will be served by the women's association for $1.50 per plate. The public is invited to the dinner and to hear the speaker.

The Klamath Council of Churches is affiliated with the Oregon Council of Churches and the National Council of Churches and within the present membership are most of the major historic bodies of American Christianity which are constituted as autonomous church bodies, possess a history that demonstrates permanency and stability, have an established order of government and ministry, and acknowledge Jesus Christ as Divine Lord and Savior.

Through their appointed representatives, both lay and clergy, participating in the democratic process of the council, these church groups are drawn together into cooperative association. They coordinate many and varied programs such as the migrant labor program in Malin and Tulelake, the use and understanding of the Bible, the annual drive for clothing for Church World Service and the Indian Affairs conference held in Salem last year.
