

Jones - Mouser Vows Exchanged In Tulelake

TULELAKE—Large baskets of daffodils, forsythia, Oregon grape and greens banked the altar of the First Baptist Church, for the wedding of Phyllis Mouser and Jerry Jones, April 9. The Rev. Troy Hall officiated at the evening ceremony.

The petite bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Mouser, was radiant in a white taffeta, ballerina length gown. A short jacket of white embroidered net with stand away collar and long pointed sleeves accentuated the princess lines of the gown. Her fingertip veil cascaded from a wreath of white flowers studded with pearls. She carried a white Bible, covered with a white carnation corsage and long streamers, knotted with stephanotis.

Geraldine Henry, her only attendant, wore a pink lace ballerina length gown with a wreath of pink flowers in her hair. Her flowers were white carnations.

Best man was James Henry and ushers were Jim Henry and Kathy Barton, the bride's cousin. A reception was held at the church parlor following the ceremony.

The tables were decorated with large bouquets of spring blossoms and ferns.

After the newlyweds cut the first slice of the tiered wedding cake, an aunt of the bride, Marie Barton of Salinas, served.

Gladys Haworth, another aunt of the bride, also of Salinas, poured punch, and the bride's mother.

Mrs. Mouser, served the coffee. The newlyweds will make their home in Tulelake, where the bridegroom is engaged in farming.
