CORRECTING CAUSE STOPS FORMATION OF KIDNEY STONES

Kidney stones are painful and can become serious. The larger stones do not cause a great deal of discomfort, but the smaller ones move into the urinary tubes and may cause pain and injury. It is not sufficient to remove the stones by surgery as more will be formed unless the cause of their formation has been corrected. The primary cause of stones in the kidneys is nerve interference. Nerve interference causes faulty chemistry in the kidneys directly or indirectly affecting the parathyroid glands in their control of body calcium and phosphorus. The chiropractor locates and removes interference, thereby allowing nature to normalize chemical function in these organs. This is one of a series of Chiropractic educational advertisements appearing in this paper through the courtesy of Dr. C. W. Davis, D.C., N.D., 134 North 3rd St., Klamath Falls, Oregon, TU 4-6033.

Matter of FACT

The earliest needles, made of bone or thorn, were really awls, such as a shoemaker now uses. They had no eyes. They were used only to puncture the material. Cords or strips of leather called thongs were then pushed through the holes. Even stone needles have been dug up in the ruins of ancient Egypt. Bronze and iron needles were known to the Romans; numerous well-wrought specimens have been found by explorers in the ruins of Pompeii.
