Work Crew Said Busy

By MYRTLE WIMER
FORT KLAMATH—For the past month, a crew of workmen has been busy at Denton Park, located four miles north of Fort Klamath on Crater Lake Highway 62. The 37-acre tract is owned by Harry Smith Sr., and his son, Harry Jr., who are also concessionaires at Crater Lake National Park.

Denton Park was purchased in 1958 from the former owners, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Chouinard, who remained as caretakers and managers of the property until January of this year, when they returned to their former home at Burbank. Originally owned and operated for many years by the late George M. Denton and his wife (she is now Mrs. Martin F. Yegge of Lynwood, California), the business property consisted of two ponds, named the Old Swimming Hole, extensive adjoining picnic site with camping facilities, and four rental cabins. The property was sold in 1956 to the Chouinards.

Last year, the new owners built a large modern caretakers' residence in the park, and dressing rooms at the swimming pond were added, in addition to a stand where soft drinks, etc., were dispensed.

This year, the premises have been renovated, cleaned up and freshly painted where necessary; the two large ponds have been dredged out and a new diving board installed in the swimming pond, where a boat will be on hand for future emergencies; the second pond has been stocked with trout, and for a nominal sum, fishermen may enjoy their favorite sport this season at Denton Park.

With their small daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Happel of Crater Lake Park have moved into the caretakers' residence and will have charge of the business this year. Happel has been employed by the Smiths as maintenance foreman at Crater Lake Lodge, and will continue in that capacity. His wife formerly worked in the souvenir shop in the cafeteria building in the park, and she and her husband also operated the warming hut there during the winter snow season. This year, Mrs. Happel will manage the Denton Park during the day, with her husband returning from Crater Lake in the evening to assist her.

In charge of this spring's activities at Denton Park is Charles Garley of Ashland, who is employed seasonally in maintenance work in Crater Lake Park. Until he resumed work of the crew, his wife is year-round office employee of the Crater Lake National Park Service.

RAF To Bomb Mountain Top

LONDON (UPI)—The Royal Air Force announced it would bomb a Turkish mountain top near the Soviet border today to demolish secret rocket equipment lost in a plane crash.

The equipment was scattered near the top of 14,000-foot Mount Subhan Dag, about 100 miles from the Soviet border, when a British troop transport crashed 13 days ago.

The secret missile equipment aboard was en route to the Woomera rocket range in Australia when the plane smashed into the peak, killing 12 men.

British paratroopers and rescue squads reached the wreckage and buried the bodies of the victims but it was considered too hazardous to try to bring down the equipment and too dangerous to leave it where it might be found.
