Great Pocahontas Visits Iona Council

YREKA—The recent official visit of Great Pocahontas Mickie Artz of Bellflower, California, to Iona Council No. 11, Decree of Pocahontas, was marked with a banquet at the Yreka Inn, prior to the regular business session, which was held at the IOOF hall in Yreka.

Sixty five persons were present to welcome the Great Pocahontas. Other distinguished guests included Great Sachem Alvin Lamphear of Red Bluff Redmens Idaka tribe, and Great Fraternal Mother Opal St. Clair of Antioch, California, with eleven Pocahontas councils also represented.

An escort team, headed by leaders Mrs. Opal Hast and Mrs. Hilda Reynolds, followed by Mrs. Beth Sturgis, Colleen Guill, Mrs. Goldie Moore, Mrs. Gay Guill, Mrs. Dora Burbank and Mrs. Wilma Patrick, presented the Great Pocahontas Artz with a bouquet of tulips, and an autographed copy of sheet music, "Mickie," which had been sung to her earlier by Pocahontas Madeleine Wiman of Iona Council. The escort team were attired in Dutch costumes, and carried tulips. Pianist for the occasion was Mrs. Mary Tusow. Following the presentation, a Maypole dance was performed by the team to the melody of "Tip-Toe Through the Tulips."

The great fraternal mother, Mrs. St. Clair, after being escorted to the center of the room was read a poem by its author, Mrs. Sylvia Thompson. Another gift was presented to Mrs. St. Clair, as Mrs. Wiman and Mrs. Tusow sang a duet rendition of "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You."

Dick Reeder Says "Charge It"

There is nothing quite so new for this Spring

as our Colorful, Alive

Mid-Tone

shades and the long line styling

We introduce these in the new clothes by KUPPENHEIMER

In our long experience we have not seen clothing that can hold a candle to a Kuppenheimer for satisfying every requirement you and we could wish for. The styling is distinctive without shouting; it generates the comfortable confidence of letting you know you're correctly clothed. With the best tailoring in the world to begin with, all that remains is the extreme care in fitting we're noted for. The advantages of having both is definite assurance of clothing comfort like you've never known before.

Two interesting developments deserving of special comment—the Continental influence, in Kuppenheimer suits and sport coats portray the slimmed-down look with exceptionally flattering results. The "Triple Play" designing of slacks and suit trousers which provides, for the first time, perfect fitting at hips, seat and abdomen as well as waist.
