3. COOLS and comforts hot, tired, aching feet.
4. SOOTHES over-exerted, stiff, aching muscles—arms, thighs, back, chest, legs. A gentle massage with DERMASAGE relaxes tense, frazzled nerves—induces restful sleep.
5. FIGHTS INFECTION with miracle Hexachlorophene. Complete antiseptic and deodorizing qualities of Hexachlorophene combat skin bacteria.

USED IN OVER 4,000 HOSPITALS IN PLACE OF SKIN-DRYING RUBBING ALCOHOL

It's no secret why your custodians of public health—the doctor, nurse, hospital administrator and pharmacist—have switched from rubbing alcohol to DERMASAGE. They realize that alcohol dries the skin, whereas DERMASAGE lubricates it. Medicated alcohol is toxic, while DERMASAGE is completely safe, even to children. Alcohol disinfects only temporarily, but DERMASAGE, containing G-11 (Hexachlorophene), destroys bacteria on contact and creates a continuous antiseptic action on the skin to resist new bacteria. Alcohol is flammable, while DERMASAGE is not.

A Turtle Toy Briana Smith

Cut two oval pieces of cardboard the same size. Cut out the inside of one of the pieces. Make the body of the turtle out of paper. Color, cut out, and place between the two layers of cardboard. Staple or paste on the two Xs. By putting your finger under the center of the turtle's body, you can pull him into his shell. Push body back up, and out pop the head, tail, and all four feet of Mr. Tommy Turtle!

Watch the Birdie!

Nat Bradford

This game is played with a group of boys and girls. Two packs of regular playing cards are dealt into a pile for each.

Each player takes the name of a bird—goose, robin, cardinal, bluejay, etc. Then the first player takes the top card and turns it over. Suppose he turns up a three, any suit. Then the next player on his left turns over a card. The first player who also turns over a three tries to call out the bird name of the player of the matching card who also tries to call out the other's bird name. The player who guesses correctly wins the other player's cards. Confusing to tell. Fun to play! The winner is the one who finally gets all the cards.

Beg Your Pardon

The gremlins got into the "State of the Union" puzzle (April 12) and made off with the letter "e" in "acknowledge." Sorry.

Let's Draw an Owl Ann Davidow

Draw a circle and divide it
By a little line inside it.

Two half-circles, small in size,
Make a pair of peer-ing eyes.

Those ears and bird-like feet of his
At last convince us that he is

None other than that famous fowl,
Mr. Hoot, the wise old owl.
