Brockman awarded the sum Thursday to the school district claiming a long dispute over a surplus World War II C-46 plane purchased by the Finns from the school district. The 43-year-old twins, George and Charles, were not in court, because they said they had taken legal steps to have the case transferred to Bakersfield. Raymond Mitchell, an official of the school district, testified that the twins bought the plane in 1951 but did not keep up the payments on it. The plane has been the subject of many court actions involving the Finns, the government and their creditors.

Billboard Regulation Bill Killed By Legislators

By JERRY REYNOLDS United Press International SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The bill to regulate billboards along scenic highways was killed Thursday. Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) asked that his bill be stricken from the file because "lobbyists, especially Foster and Kleiser, exert too much pressure." He said lobbyists had caused the bill to be amended so heavily that it was ruined. McCarthy did not give up the fight. He said he would sponsor an initiative to put a billboard proposition on the 1960 election ballot, "and, believe me, the proposal I will give them will be harsher than this bill ever would have been on the billboard industry." Sen. Fred S. Farr (D-Carmel) joined with McCarthy in the attack on the billboard industry.

Bees Flock To Scene Of Accident

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—A nightmarish highway crash attracted few spectators Thursday, but the scene literally buzzed with excitement. It made four million bees mad. Dewey Robson, 30, a Roseau, Minn., truck driver with 500 colonies of bees en route from the Rio Grande Valley to Minnesota, collided with a highway department road repair roller operated by Alfred Jacobs on Highway 287, ten miles south of nearby Decatur. Both men were slightly injured. They didn't wait for help. "I knew what I had to do," Robson said. "Get out of there, and I did!" Motorists were warned to roll up their car windows before proceeding through the infuriated mass of swarming bees. Robson said the grader swerved into the road after apparently striking a huge rock. The trucker jumped and yelled for Jacobs to keep going. "I knew the best thing for him to do was to keep going...to get distance," Robson said. Both men were stung. Robson received an injured arm in addition.

New Officers Installed By Etna Parent-Teachers

ETNA—The Monday meeting at the Etna kindergarten marked the installation of Etna Parent-Teachers Association officers and combining of the Mothers Club of the Greenview Elementary School with the Etna PTA. Donna Eller, president, presided at the meeting with Rose Mae Hovenden, past president, acting as installing officer. Installed as president for the second consecutive term, Donna Eller; Joyce Griggs, vice president; Marian Timmons, secretary; and Edna Deppen, treasurer. Appointed officers installed were Ruby Doggett, auditor and Lois Hayden, parliamentary. Santa Claus, complete with jingle bells and pack, highlighted the presentation to the PTA of all appearances accumulated by the Mothers Club during the existence of that organization. Upon emptying the contents of the pack, consisting of silverware, dishes, coffee pot, and blankets, pillows and sheets for a cot which was also a gift, plus other miscellaneous items, Santa, Georgina Mallow, revealed her identity by removal of costume and adding it to the pile of gifts. Preceding Santa's entrance, Mrs. Charles Maplesden introduced Mrs. Harvey Palmer who related many amusing incidents occurring during their Mothers Club days. Donna Eller warmly welcomed the Mothers Club to the PTA and thanked them sincerely for their generous contributions. During the business meeting, Betty Young, chairman of the annual play day planning committee, assisted by Jane Cassidy and Dorothy Corrigan, presented plans for play day on June 4. A panel, composed of Donna Eller, Nell Jenner, Janet Keinath and John Berry, discussed accomplishments of the PTA during the past year. Worthy mention was made of the fine cooperation shown by members and community as one of the accomplishments. Mrs. O. E. Dunnaway moderated the discussion. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting by kindergarten mothers.

Supervisors Of Siskiyou Take No Action On Letter

WEED—No action was taken by the Siskiyou County Board of Supervisors at its meeting this week on a letter written to them by the Weed Chamber of Commerce concerning juvenile delinquents and children from broken homes. The letter is as follows: "We are deeply concerned with the problems of the juvenile delinquent and the children who find themselves wards of the superior court at Yreka because of broken homes so would like to offer, for your consideration the building known as the 'Shasta Inn,' located on lower Davis Avenue in Weed for a juvenile hall. "This building is a three story structure, built substantially of wood, and patterned along colonial lines. The top floor contains 14 rooms and three baths; the middle floor has a huge dining room, extra large kitchen, toilet, living room, dining room (family), built-in food storage unit, commodious cupboard space and a large utility porch. The building is ideally suited to become a juvenile hall as it was formerly a company guest house, where visiting company officials and personnel were housed and fed when transportation was slower, thereby making it necessary for these people to spend days, even weeks at an operation. "The building is in good condition, particularly the first, or ground level, which has been converted into three apartments, consisting of three and four room units with private baths, and two additional bedrooms and bath for use of the family in charge of the inn. On the outside the building presents a striking and homelike appearance, with a generous expanse of well-kept lawn, and very attractive shrubbery. "Besides the building, and directly in back of it, there is a large level plot of ground, which could be converted with very little expense into a very desirable play ground for the children. "This offer is being made not only for the humane considerations involved, but also as a co-operation act to assist the board of supervisors in providing decent accommodations for the unfortunate without placing an undue tax burden on the taxpayer. "If time will permit, may we suggest that the board of supervisors explore the possibilities of this site." James V. Mallory is president of the chamber of commerce.

Mass Slayer Of Eleven Granted Two Week Stay

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) Charles Starkweather, 29, slayer of 11, won a two-week stay of execution today a little more than an hour before he was to go to the electric chair. Chief U.S. Dist. Judge Richard Robinson of Omaha stayed the execution until June 4. He said that would give Starkweather time to appeal a District Court denial of a writ of habeas corpus. Starkweather was scheduled for execution about 6 a.m. for one of the slayings during a murder rampage 16 months ago. The stubby red-haired youth admitted 11 gun and knife killings. Official witnesses and newsmen were already gathering in a pre-dawn thunderstorm when the acting state penitentiary warden, John Greenholtz, notified them the execution had been stayed. Protestant Chaplain Robert Klein had relayed the word of a possible stay to Starkweather. Half an hour later Starkweather learned the reprieve actually had been granted. "He was pretty shaky," said Greenholtz. "He was all prepared to go." Before the execution was called off, Starkweather had spent a nervous night drinking a good bit of coffee, the warden said. At the Women's State Reformatory in York, where Carl Fugate, Starkweather's murder tour companion, is serving a life sentence, Supt. Hattie Bowley said the girl had not been told of the stay of execution, and probably won't learn of it from reformatory officials. What Carl has learned of the case in the past has come from her attorneys, Mrs. Bowley said. The 11th hour effort to save Starkweather from death was conducted by his father, Guy. The elder Starkweather first phoned Judge Archibald P. Gardner of the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals in Huron, S.D. Judge Gardner referred Starkweather to Judge Robinson who was routed from bed at 1:45 a.m. Robinson called U.S. Dist. Judge Robert Van Pelt in Lincoln. Van Pelt was the judge who rejected the habeas corpus application. Judge Robinson observed that Starkweather had been without help of an attorney in seeking the habeas corpus writ and that he contends his constitutional rights are being violated. At 4:22 a.m. Robinson signed the order staying the execution. Word was phoned to Greenholtz and a U.S. marshal arrived at the prison with the signed order at 6:10 a.m. In denying Starkweather's writ, Judge Van Pelt noted the question of the youth's innocence was not raised in his application. Starkweather had said previously he thought he should have received no more than a life sentence. A bespectacled, bowlegged youth who stood 5 feet 5, Starkweather vaulted into notoriety in January of 1958.

Damage Suit Cites Sheriff

YREKA—Mark Brawman, Yreka attorney for Jesse Lee Harrington, Butte Valley cattleman, filed a $25,000 damage suit against Sheriff A. B. (Al) Cottar, on Tuesday, May 19, in the Superior Court of Siskiyou County. This complaint charges that Cottar refused to release Harrington from custody, after he had appeared in the Doris Justice Court on charges of cattle rustling, and he had posted his $5,000 bail. The case against Harrington, which charged him with having taken a cow from Mrs. Nellie E. Noakes, Macedoel, was dismissed later. Also, in his complaint against the sheriff, Harrington alleges that the sheriff "compelled" him to travel to Yreka for booking and detention, and sent his fingerprints and photographs to the California Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation and to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Harrington further stated that he had suffered invasion of privacy and was deprived of his liberty. A similar case was filed a few weeks previously by W. W. Wilson of Dorris, who had been arrested and accused of a pinball machine payoff, and which was dismissed. Wilson alleged in his suit that he had been arrested and taken to Yreka for fingerprinting even though the warrant for his arrest provided for release on his own recognizance; that fingerprinting facilities were available at Dorris; and arresting deputies could have taken him to the Weed Justice Court. The issue brought out by Wilson's attorney, Harry Hammond, was whether the arresting policeman have the right to book and mug accused persons prior to taking them before magistrates. It has been agreed by District Attorney Albert H. Newton Jr., that these cases may "make law" in California, but he has endorsed the sheriff's actions in these cases.
