

Mustangs Topped In Quarter-Finals

MAUPIN—An obviously jittery squad of Malin Mustangs saw its hope of an Oregon State B baseball championship snapped abruptly as the Maupin Redbirds won a 7-4 victory in the quarterfinals played here Thursday.

The victory moves the Redbirds into a semifinal game with Adrian next Tuesday while the loss means the end of competition for the Malin nine. The Mustangs returned to Malin immediately following the game.

"Maupin has a fine ball club and this Burgett (Joe, the winning pitcher) is the best we have faced this year. He's fast and has a good curve," stated Malin coach George Hanson.

Although neither pitcher, Burgett nor loser Randy Miller, allowed an earned run over the seven inning distance, shaky fielding support on the part of both clubs toughened their chores.

Burgett allowed only three hits, fanned six and walked two Mustangs while Miller gave up six hits, struck out four and also issued only two free passes. The Redbirds committed six fielding bobbles while the Malin club was charged with four.

In the first inning the Mustangs got off to a three run bulge as three Redside errors combined with a base on balls to allow catcher Rick Illian, centerfielder Ron Mullinix and Miller to score. Leftfielder Don Johnson was credited with a pair of RBIs although he got on through an error.

The Maupin squad came back in the bottom of the first to count one tally off a walk, an error and a clean single by rightfielder Herb Snodgrass. Snodgrass with two singles in four trips shared batting honors with Malin's Illian. Illian collected two for three.

The Redbirds caught up and passed the Mustangs in the last of the second on the combination of another walk, an error and a pair of Maupin singles.

Down one run, 4-3, in the fourth inning a Malin threat which saw a pair of Mustangs get on the sacks was stifled when Johnson hit into a neat double play.

The Malin nine tied the count 4-4 in the sixth when Illian scored on an error on pitcher Burgett after he had gotten aboard through an error on first sacker Frank Wall. He advanced on a single by Johnson.

The Redbirds cinched their win in the bottom of the sixth scoring three runs off three hits, a sacrifice and an error on leftfielder

TO BE MISSED — Genial Bob Bonney, who departs his present job as the Klamath Falls Park and Recreation director as of today, is snapped at his desk by Herald and News photographer Don Kettler, in the midst of wrapping up final details in preparation for his move. Bonney will step into the same position in El Cerrito, California, Monday, June 1.

Mixed Emotions Mark Departure

It is with mixed emotions that the Bonney family, Bob, wife Patricia, and sons Tracy, 10, and Carter, 7, depart from Klamath Falls tomorrow destined for El Cerrito, California, their new home.

Perhaps Tracy's observations best describe their feelings upon leaving the community which had been home since December 10, 1950.

Babe Ruth Schedules Complete

Babe Ruth League officials and coaches met Wednesday night in the city hall and completed final arrangements and full scheduling for the coming summer Babe Ruth baseball season.

The meeting was the last to be held prior to the opening of league play at Conger Field Monday, June 1, at 7 p.m. The opener, which finds both ends of the field in use, pits Eastside Electric against Moyina Heights on diamond No. 1 while Balsigers and K Amusement tangle on field No. 2.

Following the opener on Conger the 12-team league moves into Gem Stadium Tuesday night, June 2, for a doubleheader, the first game starting at 6:30, the second at 8:30.

For the balance of the opening week the teams will alternate between Gem and Conger.

The first game of the season finds the "Cinderella team," Moyina Heights matched with the veteran Eastside Electric nine.

The Moyina club was dubbed the "Cinderellas" because of the fact that the lack of a sponsor had nearly caused the team to miss this year's action, plus the fact that the club was formed of players left over at the completion of the player "auction."

New coach Vic Lancaster came forth at the crucial time and picked a team from among these would-be players and Harvey Martin and George Crane, the Moyina Heights builders, picked up the necessary tab thus enabling the team to become the 12th and last team to join the league.

After picking his team, Lancaster said, "We've got some good ballplayers on our club. We may have come in last at the start of the season but I just have a hunch we won't be last at the close."

The Babe Ruth season will culminate, locally, with the staging of the district tournament July 30 through August 2 which will be followed by the state BR tournament August 6 through 9, also at Gem Stadium.

Baltimore Orioles Sign Springer

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles signed Hugh Springer, University of Oregon pitcher, to a bonus baseball contract Thursday.

Newspapers placed the bonus "in five figures," but there was no official confirmation of this.

Baltimore scout Don McShane said Springer will report June 15 to Vancouver, B.C., of the Pacific Coast League.

Springer had a 1.20 earned run average and a 7-1 record at Oregon this season. He is 6-foot-3, 200 pounds and a righthander.

Cus, Bill Declare Armistice

NEW YORK (AP) — Peace, at last, settled on the troubled Floyd Patterson - Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight promotion.

How long the peace treaty — or truce — will remain in effect, considering the volatile characters involved, remains to be seen.

Anyway Manager Gus D'Amato says his champion positively will risk his crown against Johansson, the undefeated challenger from Sweden, at Yankee Stadium, June 25.

His statement came after promoter Bill Rosenzohn had blasted him in the newspapers and on radio and television.

Rosenzohn had charged that D'Amato told him he was thinking of moving the fight out of New York. The manager was angry at the New York Athletic Commission's action in rejecting lunchette owner Harry Davidow's application to become the "10 per cent" manager of Johansson.

"I feel that the commission acted precipitously, but in the public interest I feel obliged to abide by this decision," said D'Amato in his two-page statement.

"At no time did I state that the fight would be held elsewhere than in New York," D'Amato added.

"I hope that henceforth I will be able to concentrate on the job of getting Patterson ready to prove to all that he is the great champion I know him to be."

As for Rosenzohn's accusation that D'Amato had changed the terms of the promoter's share of the receipts, D'Amato said that was not so.

"I'm delighted over D'Amato's statement," said Rosenzohn.

"I'm happy it's all settled," said Johansson at his Grossinger, N. Y., training camp.

"Cus does the talking and the business," said the poker-faced champion at his Chatham, N. J., camp. "I do the fighting."

Dairy Maids Top Basinettes

The visiting Rogue Valley Dairy Maids pushed across two runs in the top of the eighth inning to defeat the Klamath Basinettes, 12-10, Thursday night at Gem Stadium in an extra inning game.

The local teams scored four vital runs in the bottom half of the seventh inning to send the exhibition contest into extra innings.

Next Thursday the local women's softball team will travel to Eagle Point for a single game for their second appearance of the young season.

Pat Barron, first of three Dairy Maid pitchers and former Basinette player, had the longest hit of the game for the visitors, a triple, while Karen Boardman also slammed out a three-bagger for the Basinette nine.

LAST DAY'S FASTEST QUALIFIER — Race driver, Bob Christie, of Grants Pass, Oregon, who turned the fastest qualifying time at the last day of time trials for the Memorial Day 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, gets a cigar and a light from Chief Mechanic Russ Snowberger. Traditional Start Restored In '500'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Officials of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway and U.S. Auto Club today called together the 33 drivers in Saturday's 500-mile auto race to explain the "old-fashioned" start. The traditional formation will be restored after two hectic and costly prologues to the world's richest auto contest.

Under the old system, the 33 cars were lined up at the starting line with dead engines. Then the engines were started and the racers slowly followed the pace car until they were in proper positions. If the alignment was good, the race was on when they hit the starting line.

Saturday there will be an extra lap—two in all.

A car plunged into the pits in the 1956 race, badly injuring a crewman. The Speedway then moved the pits away from the track edge and into the infield, separated from the track by a concrete wall and an access strip. Speedway cars do not have self-starters and it was thought the problem of moving portable starters off the track would make the old start impractical. For two years, the cars have stayed in the pits, with drivers expected to drive onto the track and take positions behind the moving pace car.

Two years ago, two cars tangled the parade lap and were out of the race. Last year, the first three cars got away ahead of the pace car. After an extra parade lap, they finally got in line — and then 15 cars banged together on the first official lap, killing driver Pat O'Connor.

In addition to returning to the old dead-engine lineup on the track, the Speedway has installed two-way radio communication between pace car driver Sam Hanks, the 1957 Memorial Day winner, and Chief Steward Harlan Fenger, USAC official in charge at the starting line.

Fenger will be in contact, by telephone, with eight observers stationed around the track. For the first time, the pace car driver will know where every car is located.

The official notice to the drivers warned that all must maintain their positions "until the pace car actually crosses the starting line (on the pit access strip) and the green flag is displayed as the pole car crosses the starting line."

American Trio Still In Action

SANDWICH, England (AP) — The British Amateur golf semifinals today looked more like the semifinals of the U.S. National Amateur.

Three Americans were among the last four survivors, with English champion Guy Wolstenholme the only home-grown player blocking the way to the fifth all-American final in history.

The 8-foot-5 Briton was paired against 21-year-old Dean Beman of Silver Spring, Md.

The other semifinal matched American Walker copper Bill Hyndman of Abington, Pa., and Lt. Bob Magee, a little-known American Army officer from Newton, Mass.

The semifinals are 36 holes, with the 36-hole final over the Royal St. George's Links Saturday.

The last time three Americans reached the semifinals was in 1952.

Hyndman, 43-year-old insurance broker who has yet to win a major title, is favorite for the championship after playing the finest golf of the week on this 8,728-yard links.

Wally Panel Inks For NY Yankees

He will be graduated Sunday. Scout Eddie Taylor said Panel will report to the Yankees' Kearney, Neb., farm team in the class D Nebraska League.

Panel batted .355 and drove in 16 runs for Portland this season.

Friend Breaks Ice; Wilhelm Unavailable

United Press International

Gentlemen, we give you Hoyt Wilhelm—except that Paul Richards says he can't be "even for a million dollars."

Money isn't everything and right now Wilhelm is to the pennant-minded Baltimore Orioles. No wonder!

The 35-year-old knuckleballer has won seven straight without a loss. He has a spectacular 1.12 earned every third day if necessary, and the confidence that no one can hit him when he's right.

Wilhelm's latest effort was a 5-0 victory over the Yankees Thursday night. The triumph boosted Baltimore to win 1½ games of first place in the American League and extended Wilhelm's streak against the Yanks to 21 1-3 consecutive scoreless innings.

"There comes a time," said the elated Richards after the game, "when a player is worth more money to a ball club than anyone could possibly pay for him. I wouldn't consider one million dollars for Wilhelm."

Baltimore 5, NY 0

Given a chance to start by Richards, the veteran National League castoff has now beaten the Yankees four straight times. During that span, he has allowed the world champions a total of two runs while pitching a no-hitter and a one-hitter against them.

New York 000 000 000—0 4 1
Wilhelm (7-0) and Triandos, Ginsberg (4), Terry, Shantz (3) and Howard-Loser—Terry (2-5). HR—Woodling.

KC 7, Indians 2

Southpaw Bud Daley, another knuckleballer who got a chance to start this year, pitched the A's to their win over the Indians. Daley scattered 10 hits and drove in three runs as he posted his third victory. Bill Tuttle collected four of KC's 14 hits, including a homer. Rocky Colavito hit his 13th for Cleveland. Jim (Mudcat) Grant was the loser.

Boston 3, Senators 1

Vic Wertz' two-run homer in the eighth inning along with Frank Sullivan's two-hit pitching enabled the Red Sox to down the Senators. The only run Washington scored was unearned, but Sullivan had no kick coming because all three Boston runs off loser Pedro Ramos also resulted from errors.

Pirates 3, Braves 0

The worm finally turned for Friend, loser of his first seven games, as he posted his first victory of the season with a fine four-hit shutout over the Braves. The Pirates scored all their runs off Joey Jay in the fifth inning. Danny Kravitz drove in two of the three runs in that frame with a looping single. Milwaukee didn't get a runner past second against Friend until the ninth.

Friend (1-7) and Kravitz, Jay, Rush (7) and Crandall, Loser—Jay (2-3).

Giants 5, Cards 4

The Giants won their game from the Cards in the eighth inning when Leon Wagner tripled and Daryl Spencer produced the winning run with a sacrifice fly. Stu Miller, second of three San Francisco pitchers, recorded his third victory. St. Louis jumped in front 4-1 but the Giants routed loser Lindy McDaniel and tied the score with a three-run rally in the fifth.

Phillies 4, Reds 3

Ray Semproch snuffed out a ninth-inning rally and preserved Jim Owens' third victory in the Phillies' triumph over the Reds. Wally Post's double scored Ed Bouchee with what proved to be the winning run in the top of the ninth. Frank Robinson clouted his 12th homer for Cincinnati and Gus Bell his seventh. Joe Nuxhall was the losing pitcher.

Walt Moryn's single with the bases loaded in the ninth broke a 5-5 tie and produced the winning runs for the Cubs in their game with the Dodgers. Loser Art Fowler set the stage for Moryn's blow when he loaded the bases on three walks.
