

THE CAREER OF JOHN FOSTER DULLES —

SUCCESSFUL lawyer Dulles returns to New York from '34 Berlin banking conference.

SWITCH TO PUBLIC LIFE came as Dulles made foreign policy for GOP presidential candidate Tom Dewey in latter's campaign years of '44 and '49. They are shown in New York.

PERHAPS NO SECRETARY OF STATE covered so many miles (500,000 plus) in his nation's interest as John Foster Dulles. The world was literally his beat. Here he's off on plane trip to Ottawa in 1956. He traveled much, extending U.S. commitments from Suez to Far East.

BIG DAY FOR DULLES was Sept. 8, 1951, in San Francisco where 48 nations signed Japanese peace treaty, one year to the day after he got the job. He points to map, above, at conference.

HUG and kiss for his wife, the former Janet Avery, as Dulles explained, a common scene.

BRITISH FOREIGN Secretary Anthony Eden, later Prime Minister, was but one of many foreign officials with whom Dulles negotiated continually. Here, a few parting remarks.

AS CHIEF ARCHITECT and PRINCIPAL NEGOTIATOR of America's foreign policy, Dulles was the most active diplomat in the history of the United States. He was extremely close to President Eisenhower in a period when the whole world was in the midst of scientific, economic, political and social revolution. He worked for peace, bore critics tolerantly.

Grants Pass Couple's Dog Survives Crater Park Fall

A little dog with a charmed life is the black cocker spaniel belonging to Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Burton of Grants Pass. He has survived being run over by an automobile, surmounting an attempt on his life by a dog-poisoner and now has lived to bark about a 60-foot fall into Annie canyon in Crater Lake National Park.

TIBETAN REBELS FREED

LONDON (UPI)—Chinese Communist troops so far have released 315 captured Tibetan rebels, according to a Peiping Radio broadcast. The broadcast mentioned here said 96 Tibetans were released Saturday after promising to "turn over a new leaf."

DISOBEDIENT DEATH

NEW YORK (UPI)—A youth drowned Sunday shortly after his father forbade him to go skin-diving. Neighbors heard Murray Fligleman tell his son Jerry, 17, "I forbid you to go skin-diving." Later in the day Manhattan Beach swimmers heard the youth's cries for help but he drowned before they reached him.

The Burtons were driving on Highway 62 through the park on Sunday and stopped at the Annie canyon lookout. Apparently the dog misjudged his footing in the early dusk and went over the rim.

Burton notified John Bowdler, ranger on duty at the Annie Spring station, who called Lynn Williamson and Jack Raftery at their homes in the park. The three rangers set out to rescue the dog, equipped with ropes and flashlights. Williamson and Bowdler went over the rim about a third of a mile from the spot the dog disappeared. His barking could be heard but they expected to have to search for him and probably find him injured.

Instead, the eager pooch swarmed all over them when they reached the foot of the rope. He appeared to be uninjured and permitted them to encase him in a
