Social Security Payments May Prove Big Dividend

By ELMER C. WALZER, NEW YORK (UPI)—You may be richer than you think, thanks to social security, says a noted mutual fund company. If you earn as little as $80.77 a week you are building up a big annuity through your weekly payments deducted from your pay. Here is the way the firm of Hugh W. Long & Co., sponsors of Diversified Investment Fund, figure it out.

a long period of stock market advance. The firm itself warns that "programs of the type illustrated do not assure a profit or protect against depreciation in declining markets." The investment program illustrated assumes an initial investment by a man 51 years of age of $5,000 on Dec. 1, 1944 in diversified investment fund, and $100 a month thereafter—plus reinvestment of dividends.

Suit Seeks Display Ban

PORTLAND (AP)—Joe Dobbins, a Portland businessman who heads a group known as the Portland Taxpayers, Friday filed suit in Circuit Court here asking that commercial displays be banned from the Park Blocks during the Portland Rose Festival. The suit comes up for trial on Wednesday—the day after the big show opens in the Park Blocks. Dobbins contends in his suit the park was created for the purposes of meditation, rest and enjoyment of nature.

Maiden Flight Of X15 Delayed

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A burned out motor used to ventilate the cockpit has forced another delay in the X15 rocket ship's maiden flight. Test pilot Scott Crossfield smelled the electric motor burning and had the flight canceled 11 minutes before the mother B52 Stratofort was due to take off Friday with the rocket ship tucked under its wing.

Strange Paradox Exists In Godless Red Satellite

By JOHN BAUSMAN, BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Gracetic church spies hold newly graded crosses against Budapest's skyline. Red, neon-outlined stars top Communist government buildings. Here an atheistic state and still influential churches exist together, obliged to tolerate each other. The situation produces paradoxes. A government of nonbelievers uses taxes to support religion. Leading clergymen take oaths to the godless state. The government does not disguise its opposition. It sponsors lecturers, films and reading material to discredit religion. Official newspapers call for a big effort to root out "religious superstitions." But with memories of Hungary's 1956 uprising still fresh, the government is not anxious to stir up trouble. Imre Miklos, vice president of its church affairs office, explained the official position this way: "An important part of the population is religiously minded and wants to go to church. It is a demand that must be satisfied. Our state anticlerical ideology does not exclude help to the church. As long as people need religion, then it should be given to them. "Communists are convinced that after a certain period the people automatically won't need religion any longer." In the meantime, he said, the Communists are keeping up the annual church subsidy of 70 to 80 million forints ($2,800,000 to $3,200,000) paid from a chronically strained state treasury. The churches live under strict controls. Government and police keep a close watch to make sure clergymen do not become a rallying point for anti-Communist activity. Miklos said: "We give the churches every freedom to communicate their ideas. "But one thing they cannot do is undermine the system. They would not be able to do it, of course, but we don't even let them try." The churches give no sign of making trouble. In last fall's election both Catholic and Protestant governing bodies endorsed the Communist sponsored list of candidates. The old anti-Communist fighters are gone. Josef Cardinal Mindszenty lives in refuge and silence at the U.S. legation. Lutheran Bishop Lajos Ordass, who once gave the Communists trouble by not stepping out of office when they wanted him to, is in retirement. The state aid, plus money from congregations, has given the churches an appearance of prosperity that sometimes surprises visitors to Budapest. Sunday attendance varies. In many villages it is heavy. Some Budapest churches are overcrowded week after week. Other church-

New Doctor Ends Tests

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Joyce Saunders had a baby May 18. The same week she took four exams for her doctor's medical, that is degree. Her husband, Grier, spent his time as an expectant father grinding through final exams in economics at the University of Richmond. It's all over now but the diaper changing. Mrs. Saunders graduates today from the Medical College of Virginia. Grier graduates Monday. Mrs. Saunders' labor pains began about an hour before her first exam May 18. After the three-hour surgery test, she filled out hospital admittance forms, drove to her doctor, then called her husband. They met at their apartment, tossed her suitcase and a pile of textbooks into the car and rushed back to the hospital. Susan Elizabeth Saunders was born in late afternoon. On her way out of the delivery room, Mrs. Saunders called her husband with the news. Then she called her Pediatric professor to arrange to take that examination the next morning in her room. Wednesday morning, May 20, she took an oral exam in obstetrics because her hands were too stiff to write. Her last exam—in medicine and lasting all day—was May 22.

Indian Tax Bill Wins Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill by Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore) to exempt from taxes funds paid Indian tribes for the loss of Cello fishing rights was approved Friday by the Senate Interior Committee. The bill, which has the approval of the Eisenhower administration, exempts some 25 million dollars in indemnity payments which the Bureau of Internal Revenue had sought to tax.

Missing Youth Discovered Safe

FREDERICKTOWN, Mo. (AP)—Ralph R. Walton, Jr., 18, St. Louis, was found near here Friday night, more than 56 hours after he went on a hike alone Wednesday afternoon. Fifty people had been searching for him. The Missouri Highway Patrol said Ralph—whose father is a police officer—carried a portable radio with him and listened to news broadcasts describing the search. Ralph, turned over to his mother, did not give a reason for not notifying authorities he was safe. His father said his son may have suffered a loss of memory.

Cons Terminate Tower Perching

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Two Graterford State Penitentiary prisoners have ended a 36-hour perch on a catwalk on a 185-foot water tower. Raymond E. Thompson, 26, and Donald Brady, 24, both convicted burglars from Philadelphia, climbed down Friday night. Warden David Myers had said they "can stay up there as long as they want" and made no special effort to get the pair down. He said he thought they were seeking publicity. Myers had a talk with the men when they got down, but didn't say what he has in store for them. They're back in their cells.

PRAYER CRUSADE GENEVA (UPI)—Catholics, Protestants, Jews, Moslems and Buddhists will pray during the week end of June 25-28 for a solution to the problems of the world's 45,000,000 refugees in a prayer crusade it was announced today.

Actor's Son Weds French Girl

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Irish eyes were smiling when the Pat O'Brien welcomed a French bride into the family. "I'm the happiest father in the 50 states," the actor chortled Friday night at a reunion of the O'Brien clan to welcome home O'Brien's son, Sean, 22, an Air Force corporal. Sean had with him his new wife, the former Mbnique Monnet, 18, of Dreux, France. They wed in France last September.

CITY BRIEFS

Artifactor's Club — The Klamath Falls Artifactor's Club will have a "dig" for members only at the O'Connor Ranch on Lower Klamath Lake Road, Saturday and Sunday, June 13-14. The regular meeting will be held Monday, June 15, in the Klamath County Library. Artifacts from the club "dig" will be displayed and discussed. Refreshments will be served. Home—Mrs. Emil Albrecht, 319 Pacific Terrace, has returned home after receiving medical care at St. Mary's Hospital, San Francisco and a period of recuperation at the home of a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Howard, Orinda, California. KUHS Senior Wins Awards

Betty Sue Taggart, 1959 graduate of Klamath Union High School won two awards at the close of the school year, the Daughters of the American Revolution Homemakers award and the Women's Auxiliary to the Klamath County Medical Society. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Taggart, 934 Eldorado. She is the only known girl who has received the DAR twice, once in the eighth grade and later as a senior. The symbolic thimble was presented during an awards assembly at KUHS by Eva Burkhalter, DAR. Betty Sue received the scholarship from Mrs. Raymond Tice during commencement exercises. She will enter nursing training at Good Samaritan Hospital, Portland.

Gangland Chief Freed On Bail

NEW YORK (AP)—Reputed underworld leader Vito Genovese, 61, is free in $150,000 bail pending outcome of his appeal of a narcotics conspiracy conviction. Genovese, of Atlantic Highlands, N.J., posted the bond in federal district court Friday and walked out smiling. He had been confined without bail in the federal House of Detention since April 17. Genovese was convicted with 14 others last April 13 on the narcotics conspiracy charges and was sentenced to 15 years in prison and fined $20,000.

PAINTINGS DAMAGED SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Eight paintings, including one by Flemish master Peter Paul Rubens, were damaged by vandals a few minutes before the M.H. de Young Memorial Museum closed Friday. The Rubens, a religious scene, was deeply scratched. The seven others, by Flemish, French and Dutch artists, were deeply scratched with jagged crosses. All the marks were on faces.

Basin Scouts To Send Art To Roundup

Two Klamath Falls girls, winners in the intermediate category of a recent art contest for Girl Scouts of the Klamath Area Council, will send their entries to an international roundup art exhibit in Colorado Springs this month. They are Marsha Breitenstein of Fairview School Troop 55 and Linda Bonotto of Conger School Troop 90. They tied for first place in their division in the local contest. Art works from Girl Scouts all over the world will be displayed at Colorado Springs for two weeks starting July 6 at the annual Girl Scout Roundup, or international conference. Two local delegates planning to attend the roundup are Fay Brennon and Karen Ralston, senior scouts of Troop 37. They will leave Klamath Falls June 29. Other winners in the local contest were Brownies, Judy Pool of Troop 72 and Sue Tucker of Troop 128, a tie for first place; LaVern Scott of Troop 72, second; Ester Brown of Troop 87, third, and Kathryn Russell of Troop 120, Debbi Neipp of Troop 9 and Judy Smith of Troop 21, honorable mention. Jimmaly Kay Wayman of Adia Troop 33 won first place in pre-hand drawing, and Merry Parrot of Troop 93 won second. Sandra Stonebreaker of Troop 87 won first place in the painting category. Kay Potts of Troop 21 took first in photography and Judy Smith in prints. Judges were Mrs. Jack Warrick and Gordon Kensler. Judging took place early in May. Art depicted scenery and life in the Klamath Basin.

Patrol Duty — Army Pfc. Melvin O. Shills, Klamath Falls, is performing patrol duty with the 14th Armored Cavalry Regiment in Fulda, Germany. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester L. Shills of Route 2. He arrived in Europe in March, 1958. Promoted — Richard D. Durrell, a Marine of Klamath Falls, was promoted May 20 to Pfc. while serving at Adak, Alaska. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Durrell of 727 North Ninth Street. He enlisted last year after attending Sacred Heart Academy. Bible School — Vacation Bible School begins Monday, June 8, at 9:30 a.m. in the Immanuel Baptist Church. Mrs. E. V. Zell, Director, extends a welcome to all boys and girls to attend Monday through Friday of this week and next. A program of craft, Bible study and scripture memorization and recreation has been planned to keep the children active during the morning hours. Special magic object lessons will be presented by the marks were on faces.

COMMEMENCEMENT SPEAKERS FORT COLLINS, Colo. (UPI)—The theme of Dr. William E. Morgan's commencement speech Friday was that commencement speakers should be eliminated. The Colorado State University president told the institution's graduating students: "I have no convincing proof that almost nobody listens to a commencement speech except, perhaps a few parents engaged in one last effort to get something for their money."

Former AF Medic Dies In Portland PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Maj. Gen. John Morris Hargreaves, 58, former Air Force deputy surgeon general, died here, it was reported Friday. The body of Hargreaves, who had been dead since Tuesday, was found by the widow, Hattie, upon her return from a trip. Deputy Coroner William Farrell said. He said death was due to natural causes. Hargreaves retired five years ago after 30 years of active duty. Prior to his retirement he was command surgeon for the Air Force in the Far East.
