Air Enthusiasts Attend Breakfast

Ten plane loads of Klamath Falls flight enthusiasts flew to Grants Pass Sunday to attend a fly-in breakfast and dedication of the newly constructed Josephine County Airport.

The group flew en masse on the hop to Grants Pass, and remained for the dedication at 1 p.m., then flew home at individual discretion. Some Klamath Falls pilots took part in flying skill contest—paper cutting, flour bombing, and dead-stick landing.

The airport, built jointly with county and federal funds, has a runway and taxi strip 4,000 feet long. It was built primarily to accommodate private planes and crop dusting facilities.
