GSA Chiefs Take Training

DUNSMUIR — Girl Scout leaders are taking training this week in preparation for the day camp to be held at the Brown Shasta Ranch June 22-26. One hundred four Girl Scouts and 138 Brownies from southern Siskiyou County have signed up to attend day camp. Camp hours will be from 9:30 until 3. The intermediate and senior scouts will stay overnight one night. Camp activities will include fire building, outdoor cooking and other camp craft, nature study, safety practices, hikes, crafts, songs, games and stunts. Each girl is being asked to bring a pocket knife and a tarp or rug to sit on and wear clothes sufficiently sturdy for camp life. Everyone will bring a sack lunch the first day and be informed of needs for subsequent days. Mrs. Velma Brown, camp director, has announced.

Card Party Held By Club

MONTAGUE — The home of Mrs. George Flock was the setting for the regular monthly luncheon and card party of the Little Shasta Auction Club on Wednesday afternoon, June 10, with Mrs. Morris Prather as co-hostess. Following the dessert luncheon served by the hostesses, the afternoon play took place and was concluded with Mrs. Ernest Williams of Little Shasta as winner of the first high award. Other high prize winners, in the order mentioned, included Mrs. Orlo Davis, Mrs. Ina Bullock and Mrs. Ora McGregor, who also won the traveling prize. Mrs. Larry Walters was winner of the low prize. Present in addition to those mentioned were Mrs. Bruce Long, Mrs. Ralph Leavers, Mrs. Minnie Tamsieia, Mrs. Gladys Hart, Mrs. Allie Moore, all of Montague; and Mrs. Jennie Mathews and Jessie Conrad, both of Yreka. The group will meet again on July 22, at the home of Mrs. Ralph Leavers, Montague.

MEET HELD

FORT JONES — The Past Matrons' Association of the Stella Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, met at the home of Mrs. Bernard Davidson June 9 for their business meeting. Margerite Hayden acted as co-hostess. Members present included Lucy Van Sandt, Ruby Johnson, Boyd Simmons, Dorothy Johnson, Thelma Irvine, Pearl Parker, Lelia Steele, Mildred Long, Gladys Hart and Effie Butler. Special guests from Eastern Star Chapter were Merrilee Farley and Norma Riveller.

Montague Schedules Rodeo For Youngsters On Sunday

MONTAGUE — Bareback bronc and bull riders are showing their eagerness to participate in the "only all kids rodeo" to be held at Montague Sunday, June 21, and Mrs. Betty Cooley, rodeo secretary, stated that they are swamped with entries for these two events. Of interest to young rodeo fans the bucking horse event will feature stock from Dick Hemsted of Redding, and Jim Liskey of Hornbrook. Bulls for the bull riding event will be furnished by Stan Cooley, rodeo chairman, and Earl Flock. Cooley stresses that this is the "only all kids rodeo," in the state, that there may be "other kids' rodeos, but all are held in connection with regular adult events, but this one in Montague is held for kids and kids only." Anyone over 18 is not permitted to participate. Mrs. Cooley, stated that in addition to entries received for the bull riding and bareback bronc riding events, interest is being indicated in the various other events, and that she has received several entries from Redmond and Fort Klamath as well as several from the vicinity of Red Bluff and surrounding areas. She is also anticipating several entries from Klamath Falls and Medford. Entry blanks may still be obtained by writing to Mrs. Betty Cooley, Montague, or telephoning her at GLOBE 9-3188, or by contacting any of the junior queen contestants, who are Diane Fehlan, Montague; Lula Belle Whitton, Hornbrook; Elaine Hammond, Edgewood; Mary Crabbs Damron, Gazelle; Annette Hayden, Quartz Valley; and Bertine Zimmerlee, Yreka. Handley's and Siskiyou Sporting Goods in Yreka, and the Montague Variety store in Montague, also have entry blanks on hand. In addition to the Gibson Saddle award of a sterling silver trophy buckle to the first place all-around cowboy or cowgirl, and the handmade braided hackamore and reins for the second all-around contestant, Mrs. Cooley announced that she and her husband have added another sterling silver trophy buckle to be presented to the all-around girl contestant. Mrs. Cooley further announced that an additional feature has been added to the list of rodeo events, by popular demand, and that is the girls' stake race, contestants to be 14 to 18 years of age. Mrs. Cooley stated that so far she has more entries to date than she did at the same period of time last year. However, she adds the reminder that contestants must have their entry blanks completely filled out, signed according to the rules, and in her hands by Friday night, June 19.

Edna Thomas Rites Held

YREKA — Funeral services were held for Mrs. Edna Mae Thomas on Friday morning, June 10 in Girdner's Funeral Chapel, with the Rev. Wilbur Small, Montague pastor of the Methodist Church as officiant. Mrs. Thomas, 76, died Wednesday morning, June 10, in the Siskiyou General Hospital, where she was admitted following a stroke suffered at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Freeman of Montague. She had been living with Mrs. Freeman for the past several months, having formerly been a resident of Yreka. Mrs. Thomas had been a resident of Siskiyou County for 74 years, having traveled with her parents by covered wagon when she was two years old, from Durango, Colorado where she was born. The family settled in the old town of Klamath. Mrs. Thomas had spent most of her life in the Yreka area, and had been one of the first telephone operators, prior to her marriage to William B. Thomas on August 14, 1916. The couple had ranched in the Greenhorn district until they retired shortly before the death of Mr. Thomas in 1956. Mrs. Thomas held a membership with the Pythian Sisters and Greenhorn Grange. She is survived by her son, William R. Thomas, Yreka; three daughters, Mrs. Laura Roberts, Fort Jones, Mrs. Willa Hudson of Oroville; and Mrs. Freeman; a sister, Mrs. G. G. Berger of Lodi; two brothers, John Wellons of Yreka; and Bill Wellons of Ponderosa, and 12 grandchildren. Following the services at Girdner's, interment took place at the Evergreen Cemetery, where grange members conducted graveside rites.

Eastern Star Holds Lunch

WEED — The presiding worthy matron's of the seven chapters of District 2, Order of the Eastern Star, were entertained at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Lucile I. Gaynor, deputy grand matron of the district, Saturday, June 13, in Weed. Plans were formulated by the group for the official visit of Annie Picknell Mills, worthy grand matron, and Henry Lee Wintz, worthy grand patron of the Grand Chapter, State of California, OES, to the district Saturday evening, June 27. The official visit will be held in Weed with the seven chapters participating in the ceremonies. In addition to the presiding officers of the grand chapter, many grand officers are expected to be present and a breakfast at the Mount Shasta Ski Bowl was planned for the entire contingent of officers and district and visiting OES members. Table arrangements for the luncheon were in pink and green, the colors chosen for the year by the worthy grand matron. Dainty wild rose corsages topped the special gifts presented to the matrons from the deputy and hostess. Matrons present were Mrs. Dorothy Johnson, Stella Chapter, Yreka; Mrs. Eugenia Astmann, Siskiyou Chapter, Mount Shasta; Mrs. Viola Stone, Evening Star Chapter, Etna; Mrs. Genevieve Tillotson, Fidelity Chapter, Dunsmuir; Mrs. Selma Porter, Dunsmuir Chapter, Dunsmuir; Mrs. Elsa Wetzel, McCloud Chapter, McCloud; and Mrs. Madge Gilliam, White Pine Chapter, Weed.

Grader Blamed In Damage Suit

YREKA — A $5,797 damage suit was filed in Siskiyou County Superior Court last week by Castle E. Stewart, charging that exhaust flames from a Siskiyou County road grader ignited a fire which destroyed three buildings on his ranch, located about a mile and a half north of Montague on the Ager Road. Stewart alleges the incident occurred July 9, 1958, while the grader was operating on the Ager Road, and he stated it burned a milk house, hog house, and an equipment shed, after sparks and flames from the exhaust set fire to the grass. ROUND TABLE MEET MOUNT SHASTA — The Mount Shasta Chamber of Commerce at a meeting last week held a round table discussion relative to a contemplated advertising campaign for Southern Siskiyou County. Chambers of commerce of Weed and Dunsmuir will be invited to join the program. A representative of a national advertising firm will attend a July meeting to discuss terms of the proposed campaign. The campaign is to stress the varied attractions, and recreational advantages of Southern Siskiyou County. NORSTAD VISITS BAVARIA MUNICH, Germany (UPI) — Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme NATO commander, arrived here Tuesday for a two-day visit as guest of the Bavarian state government.

Pupils Wanted For Vandalism Governor's Bat Average Approaches 1.000 Mark

YREKA — Warrants have been issued to the Palo Alto police by the Siskiyou County Sheriff's Office, for the arrest of three Stanford University men, who had signed statements wherein they admitted the malicious mischief to county road equipment and vandalism on Everett Memorial Highway totaling over $2,500. According to the sheriff's office, the warrants were issued for James J. Kroeter, 23, Los Gatos, Stuart Gildred, 21, San Diego, and William H. Juvoenen, 22, Tustin. Bail has been set for the three men at $500 each. According to Mel Cazzallo, chief criminal deputy, the break in the case came after questioning over 60 persons during a two-day period, who had been on the Everett Memorial Highway to the Mt. Shasta Ski Bowl on the night that the damage occurred. Local citizens were praised by Sheriff A. B. Cottar for their assistance in searching for the vandals. Last week the Siskiyou County Board of Supervisors had offered $200 for the apprehension of the vandals, with Supervisor W. A. Barr adding $50 from his personal account. Sheriff's deputies also reported that vandalism was reported occurring at the Little Shasta area, where the fence at Little Shasta Cemetery was knocked over, in addition to knocking over several headstones. No arrests have been made, but officers stated that it is believed possible damage was caused by a pickup.

Chief Lauds Safety Mark

DUNSMUIR — A commendable safety record during the first winter season's operation of the Mt. Shasta Ski Bowl, was announced by Bill diCristina, manager, in a final news release before his resignation becomes effective July 1. Only 1.2 per cent of the total skiers were injured, primarily beginners and the over-fatigued, diCristina said. He was high in his praise of the volunteer ski patrol which helped handle the 185 accidents of the season. The oldest skier to be injured of the 15,953 persons who purchased ski facility tickets was 33 years old and the youngest four, diCristina said. There was only one compound fracture and that a broken leg, happened on May 30. By providing free use of the facilities and lunches for the ski patrol members, the corporation saved thousands of dollars in patrol salaries, diCristina said. Captain Fletcher Hoyt and patrol members Russ Luddon, Gus Odegar, Dick Sias, Ted Runyon, Lloyd Gass, Jim Nile, H. Gunther, Orneal Kooyers, Nancy Piper, Dick Chitwood, Larry Stille, Charles Chitwood and Betty Odegar worked over 200 working days, diCristina noted. diCristina said that skiing is now confined to the upper bowl area and is attracting only the hardy skiers. But the sightseer and camera fan traffic is increasing daily. The bowl has attracted 160,000 visitors to date and another 275,000 are expected this summer. "Siskiyou County communities will feel the great revenue increase this summer because of this attraction high on the slopes of Mt. Shasta," diCristina said.

Law Officers Name Chiefs

WEED — The annual installation of officers for the Siskiyou County Peace Officers Association was conducted at the June 11 meeting held at the Fawn Club near here. Al Gross, past president and California Highway Patrol officer, McCloud, served as the installing officer. Harold Barum assumed duties as the president of the association for the ensuing year and installed to serve with him were William Auman, fish and game warden, Weed, first vice president; Terry Gilzean, CHP, Mount Shasta, second vice president; Mel Cazzallo, sheriff deputy, Yreka, third vice president; Mrs. Lucile I. Gaynor, Weed justice court clerk, treasurer; Dick Newton, sheriff deputy, Etna, sergeant at arms. Jerry Gilliam, Mount Shasta police officer, director, and James Berrian, Siskiyou County undersheriff, director. The new president Barum, appointed Marilyn Sirriani to serve as the association secretary for the year. Music and entertainment for the dinner dance was furnished by the Weed High School Band. Arrangements for the evening were made by Mrs. Gaynor, David L. Dawson, Weed police chief and Auman. The July 9 meeting will be held in Yreka. The past president's pin was presented to C. W. Champlin, Dunsmuir, special agent for the Southern Pacific who had served an elected term and an unexpired half-year term of R. O. Rust, CHP captain, transferred.

New Member Joins Club

MONTAGUE — Jim Dow, owner and operator of the Jim Dow Radio TV Service in Montague, was welcomed as a new member to the Montague Rotary Club at last week's dinner meeting held at the Montague auditorium. Featured guest speaker was Carol Peterson of Montague, who spent last summer in Germany as a foreign exchange student through the American Field Service. Miss Peterson, who graduated from Yreka High School on June 4, showed several of the colored slides she had taken in Germany and Denmark while she was a visitor there, giving the commentary on the various scenes shown. Jim Dow was also requested to give a brief report on progress of Nor-Sis TV Corporation campaign, which the Montague Rotary has assumed the responsibility to obtain memberships in the Montague area, the committee being headed by Jack Churchill. Dow reported that the site for the translator installation had been selected, and negotiations to purchase the equipment had been completed. He further stressed that the campaign must continue, as more money is needed to complete the project.

Governor's Bat Average Approaches 1.000 Mark

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown had almost everything he wanted today from the Legislature. With both houses driving toward a windup of the session at midnight Friday, the freshman Democratic governor, in office barely six months, could recall these goals: He has a water program, which if approved by the people at the 1960 election, will launch the state on a multi-billion dollar construction program to spread surplus northern California water to all parts of the state. He has the bulk of his tax program which he said the state needs to wipe out a deficit and bring "fiscal responsibility" to state finances. He took a beating from the oil lobby and to a lesser degree from beer and horse racing interests, but he won tax increases of about $215,000,000 out of an original request for $236,600,000. He has won legislative approval of the lion's share of his program for "responsible liberalism," notably enactment of a fair employment practices act, abolition of cross filing and creation of a consumer council and an economic development agency. He has a budget which is a record breaker at $2,225,000,000 but which even some of his Republican critics admitted is one of the tightest spending programs in recent years. And it will be in "shaky balance" at the end of the fiscal year on June 30, 1960, instead of in the red by more than $200,000,000.

HOVERCRAFT NOT AIRCRAFT

LONDON (UPI) — The government ruled Tuesday that Britain's new flying saucer is not an aircraft. The House of Commons was told the experimental SRN-1 Hovercraft "is a vehicle for sea or land transport rather than an aircraft." The Hovercraft, which has been undergoing trials near Cowes in the Isle of Wight, is capable of travelling over land or water on a cushion of air. Brown didn't get every single thing he wanted. Indeed, even with his party holding a 28 to 12 edge in the Senate and a 47 to 33 majority in the Assembly, the governor's labor program was almost junked completely. A Senate committee, with more Democrats on it than Republicans, dumped his bill which would have set a $1.25 an hour minimum wage for industrial workers and a 90 cent an hour minimum for farm workers. And the same committee, loaded with rural representatives, killed an administration bill which would have repealed the jurisdictional strike act. Farm lobbyists went all out on that one. Labor, which wanted the strike act repealed, then withdrew its support for another Brown bill to regulate the internal affairs of labor unions. The measure still is alive, but its prospects for passage in the Assembly in the closing hours of the session are not bright. As for the governor's proposal for a so-called "purity of elections" law, it appeared to be dying a slow death in the Senate and probably will be lost in the last minute rush on Friday. It would require candidates for public office to make a full accounting of money they receive and spend during campaigns. To offset his comparatively few setbacks, the Assembly's action Wednesday in voting final approval to a water program certainly ranked as a major achievement for the administration. For five long years, the Senate and Assembly were deadlocked because of regional fears that the north wouldn't play fair with the south and vice versa. Brown didn't completely eliminate those fears with his proposed solution, but he was able to muster a 25 to 12 margin in the Senate for his bill and a 30 to 30 vote in the Assembly.
