Coach Hi Hatfield and his Klamath Falls American Legion baseball team, currently hooked in a tie with Central Point for the District 4 league lead host the unpredictable Grants Pass club in a doubleheader beginning this afternoon at 1 p.m., in Gem Stadium.

Kubs Seek Nor-Cal 1st Place

The Klamath Kubs make a big bid for at least a tie in Northern California League baseball standings this afternoon when they face the Scott Valley Stars in Scott Valley at 2 p.m.

With 1-win and 2-losses under their belts at this point the Kubs, fortified with the addition of at least three new players, figure to make a big mark in Nor-Cal circles.

While the Stars are entertaining the Klamath Falls nine, Dunsmuir hosts Weed and Mount Shasta tangles with Yreka at the home of the Indians.

Manager Irv Whitt's Kub squad will feature at least one new face in this afternoon's lineup: Butch Kimpton, Oregon athlete home on vacation, working at second base. Others in the lineup include catcher Bob Kelly, first baseman Dean Dunson or Bob Jones, shortstop Butch Dollar and either Ron Owings or Dean Dunson at third, and outfielders Whitt, Floyd Linderman and possibly Rube Johnson. Johnson, a state policeman, may be unable to make the trip because of his duty hours. Should he be missing pitcher-outfielder Mike Dolan will take over the job in right field.

Either Dolan or Johnson provide power at the plate for the Kubs who are rapidly hitting their stride.

Whitt declined to name his starting pitcher but he has a choice between Ed Vegley, Wayne Hironeka, Dolan, Bob Lawery or Bob Jones.

"I believe we have one of the strongest hitting clubs we have seen here in recent years," commented Whitt. "This year we are shooting for the ABC baseball tournament, and I believe we have a good chance," he added.

The Kubs are working on a number of night games, outside of league action, to be played before home town fans. Among the teams expected are Fresno State College, Humboldt State, Hamilton Air Force Base, Merrill and others. Exact dates and times will be noted later.

23 Colleges Meet At UO

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—The 62nd annual national collegiate golf tournament will open Sunday with a best-ball match between eastern and western collegians.

There also will be a long-driving contest Sunday for the 152 contestants scheduled to tee off in the first round of qualifying play Monday.

The match Sunday will send 12 two-man teams from the East against an equal number from the West.

The East, which has a couple of Walker Cuppers, is favored to win its ninth match in the 16 years the teams have been competing as part of the NCAA tournament. The Walker Cuppers are Tommy Aaron of Florida and Ward Wetlaufer of Hamilton College, New York.

The collegians will be playing on the 6,500-yard Eugene Country Club course, which has a par of 37-34-71.

league play, while the second, a five-inning fray, is strictly kings-X.

Stadium gates will open at noon and the concession stands will be open. Admission is 75 cents for adults with youngsters 15 and under invited free as guests of the legion and its sponsors.

Grants Pass, with 2-2 to date, will field a starting lineup which includes catcher Gary Stevens or Glenn Davis, pitchers Bill Cole or Harry Parker, first baseman Jere Paterson, second sacker Dave Anderson, shortstop Denny Walker and third sacker Gary Holmes. Richard Daugherty may fill in for Holmes at third.

In the outfield the club has a choice between Rex Benner, Bob Varner, Jim Hamilton and Larry Janssen. Both Janssen and Benner serve as relief pitchers.

Coach Hatfield's powerful local legion nine will probably see Dave Saks as catcher, Blake Griggs as pitcher for the first game, with John Webb getting the nod for the second, Ross Paxton at first, Smiley Herrera at second, Bob Yuncak at shortstop, and Estin Kiger at third.

Charged with covering the outfield are Don Gresdel, Don Willey, and Rick Adams. Ken Womer, Steve Binney, who are both attending school, and Rich Dewey, who has a broken finger will be missing from the legion roster for the next week.

Standing by for relief assignments are pitchers Pat Carney and Gary Beber, both of whom have shown promise in early season work, according to Hatfield.

Dick Williams Gains Finals

CLARKSTON, Wash. (AP)—Defending champion Dick Williams of Seattle squeaked by young, determined Billy Welch Jr., 1-up, Saturday to gain the finals of the Washington state amateur golf championship.

Williams, a nerveless shotmaker who sells insurance, will square off against Spokane's surprising Hal Baker in the 36-hole final Sunday.

Baker pulled the upset of the 33rd annual tourney with a stunning 5-and-4 victory over Bothell's Jim Bourne in their semifinal.

Bourne—smooth as silk on his tee swings during the earlier going—lost his touch against Baker, an experienced shotmaker from Spokane's Manito country club who wields a superb iron when he's right.

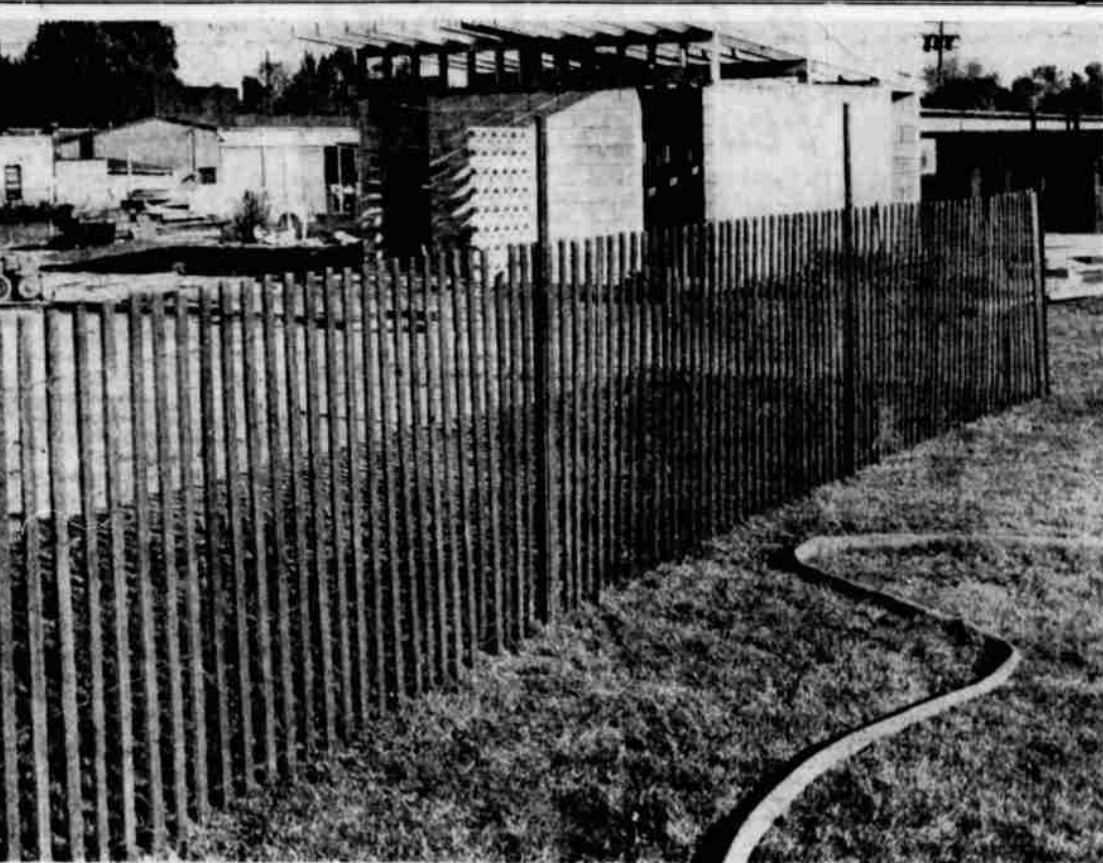

He wasn't right in the 18-hole morning round but managed to go to lunch with a 1-up lead. Then, his irons shied began falling where he wanted them.

However, he toured the 14 holes it took to dispose of the Bothell better in four under than par in the afternoon.

The muscular Williams shot a morning round as blistering as the heat, carding a four under par 67, but still couldn't shake the willowy, 18-year-old Welch.

An honor student at Kennewick high school, Welch fought back twice after being three down.

Williams racked up successive birdies on the 29th and 30th holes to again go three up only to have Welch close the gap on the next two with birdies of his own.

MILLS LITTLE LEAGUE PARK—The proposed new home of Klamath Falls Little League is rounding into shape as is shown by the above photo of the nearly finished rebar and a portion of one outfield fence. Many Klamath Falls construction people and contractors have volunteered their time, equipment, materials and manpower in bringing this project this far along. Additional help is badly needed from parents and fans of Little League baseball players.

Mills Little League Park is shaping up fine... but of course there is still a long way to go... and from here on the going will be a little tougher.

Time has run out for our foreman, Harold Sherman. Sherman, who has supervised the construction to this point through the courtesy of Morrison, Knudsen, has to get back to his own tasks.

He has earned a large vote of thanks for his ceaseless efforts in making the project a success.

Without Sherman on the scene to direct the operation things could be slow.

Not necessarily the... any one of a number of parents who have volunteered their time and ability so far, could step in and take over for Harold now. It's not an easy job that he vacates but it is a highly necessary one. Any takers?

And speaking of Mills Little League Park, and I usually am, thought it more than noteworthy that the mothers of the Car-Ad-Co LL team have taken it upon themselves to spearhead a "feed the volunteers" program on these Saturdays at Mills Field.

Yesterday a group of them followed Mrs. Dallas McNeill's example from the week previously and fed volunteer workers on the scene. Mrs. McNeill, also a Car-Ad-Co mother, singlehandedly undertook the project a week ago Saturday. Undoubtedly other Little League mothers will pitch in.

This Car-Ad-Co group of parents sets an admirable precedent. To date their boys have yet to win a league ball game and that, occasionally, is a sign for many team parents to lose interest... fast.

But not so... at Car-Ad-Co.

A very nice gesture has been made... one that we feel would be approved by the late Dr. Paul Noel, one of Klamath Falls' foremost sport fans and a tremendous Klamath Falls athlete of yesterday.

The Little League Ball Park Benefit Fund has received a check toward the new ball park in the name of Dr. Noel, from a Klamath Falls lady who prefers to remain anonymous. She was out of town at the time of his death and funeral and when she returned she felt that the help toward the park might be more in order than flowers.

Our friend also suggests that perhaps there are other friends of Dr. Noel and his family who might wish to do the same.

Tickets, tickets, tickets—Baseball season is just well started and the tub-thumpers are hollering football, football, football.

No note... Tickets are now available for the annual Shriners Hospital all-star football game set for Multnomah Stadium August 15. Pasteborders are on sale at game headquarters, 1119 SW Park Avenue, Portland, either in person or by mail. Prices range from $1 to $3.

And... educats fr: the pro ball game between the Philadelphia Eagles and the Green Bay Packers, scheduled for Multnomah Stadium August 29 are available by mail. Reserved seats $4... requests should be sent to Oregon Sports Attractions, Multnomah Stadium. The game pits a pair of treats, quarterbacks Joe Francis and Norm Van Brocklin... a

The new Klamath Union grid enach, the replacement for Andy Knudsen, who is leaving for St. Helens, remains a big mystery to date. A number of applications have been received, but the athletic department is not talking... now. Incidentally, KU may lose another coach shortly, also to St. Helens.

Some leads I wish I might have written... John Thompson, UW athletic publicity director says.
