

San Francisco Overthrows Milwaukee Reign; Newcomer Arrives, Yanks Back In Business

Sad Sam Becomes SF Hero

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If you think Sam Jones is the hero of the hour now that San Francisco has shoved Milwaukee's Braves out of the National League lead, forget it. Sad Sam is the Giants' hero of the month.

It took Jackie Brandt's two-run single in the bottom of the 10th to put the Giants 600 percentage points and a half-game ahead with victory over Milwaukee, the very least they could do for Jones.

The big right-hander had given up two runs and five hits in the first three innings—then allowed only three hits the rest of the way. Two of those came in the 10th and two were by Billy Brutto, whose fifth homer gave Milwaukee a 3-2 edge in the top of the 10th.

Then the Giants got busy, chasing Bob Buhl and ending Milwaukee's first-place stay that had begun May 13.

Ironically, it was Jones who was the loser when the Giants fell from first place May 5. And it was Jones who was beaten 4-2 by Milwaukee May 18, the day before the Braves took a 4½-game lead over the Giants.

Since then, a month to the day, the Giants have won 19—and Sad Sam has figured in more than a third of those victories. Now 8-6, Jones has won five of six decisions in that span and has added two saves in relief, having a hand in seven of the 19 victories in the Giants' comeback.

While the Giants and Milwaukee were having a bit in the opener of a three-game set at San Francisco, third-place Pittsburgh closed within two games of the top with a 6-0 victory over St. Louis. Los Angeles rapped Cincinnati 6-2, and Philadelphia defeated Chicago's Cubs 8-7.

Giants 4, Braves 3

The Giants, who tied it 2-2 on Jim Davenport's single, a walk and two force outs in the fifth, put it away after Buhl (6-5) walked Willie Mays leading off the 10th. Orlando Cepeda's only hit, a single, sent Willie scampering to third and chased Buhl. Reliever Don McMahon then walked Daryl Spencer, loading the bases for Brandt's third single that brought San Francisco's largest crowd of the year—22,984—to its feet screaming.

Jones struck out nine and walked but three while gaining a 2-1 season record last year with the Cards, who traded him to the Giants last winter.

The Giants, who had 11 hits, now have won three in a row, while the Braves have lost five of their last seven.

Bucs 6, Cards 0

Vern Law (7-4) shut out the seventh-place Cardinals, who had won nine of 11, on four singles, two by Gino Cimoli. The Pirates, winning seven of their last nine, backed him with eight hits, including homers by Ramon Mejias and Dick Groat against rookie Dick Ricketts (0-2).

Bums 6, Reds 2

Duke Snider drove in four runs with a pair of homers, his seventh and eighth, for the Dodgers. His first, with two on, triggered a five-run first inning that handed Brooks Lawrence (3-3) his seventh defeat in a row. Robert Craig was the winner. He walked but one, struck out six and allowed only five hits, two by Frank Thomas, who hit his fourth home run.

Phils 8, Cubs 7

The Phils had homers from Harry Anderson and Ed Bouchee while building a 7-2 lead, but needed an unearned run in the seventh to nail it. Gene Conley (4-3) won it, but gave way to relief after Ernie Banks' two-run, 19th homer in the sixth inning. Rookie Bob Anderson (3-6) was the loser for the sixth time in his last seven decisions.

Portland Boss Questions Frick

PORTLAND (AP)—Arch Kingsley, president of the Portland Beavers baseball club, Friday asked Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick how to apply for a franchise should a third major league be formed.

Frick recently said he thought the nation would be ready for a third major league in about five years.

Kingsley said he thinks Portland is ready for major league baseball.

Proper Pitching

Ed Lopat Tells Young Pitchers To Keep Eye Strictly On Target

Editor's note—Second of a series by ex-New York pitcher Ed Lopat.

By ED LOPAT

In order to pitch properly, a youngster must know what he is about to do. Don't get into the bad habit of looking at the sky, at the ground or to the sidelines. Look at your target. That would be the catcher's mitt.

The sooner you school yourself to the good habits, the sooner you will learn good control.

Don't try to pick up the target

when the pitch is halfway home. Get your eyes on the target when you come to the set pitching position, and stay with that target. This will also help your follow through.

Once you go into a pitching motion with your arms, your eyes should never leave the catcher's mitt. Even after releasing the ball, follow the ball all the way in with your eyes.

With this method of pitching you can see every reaction the batter has towards the ball. You can see what your pitch is doing and what the batter is doing.

I advise youngsters to refrain from pitching every day or even every other day. Working daily does quite a bit of harm to the arm. The arm must have proper rest.

When it comes your turn to pitch, say every fourth day, the warmup pitching on the sidelines should be done gradually. Throw the ball easy at first. Take your time so that the arm muscles will loosen up gradually.

Ten to 14 minutes should be enough for a pitcher's warm up.

Sacramento, Vancouver In Standoff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Sacramento Solons and the Vancouver Mounties, the Pacific Coast League's No. 1 and No. 2 teams, had at each other twice Friday night in their battle for the lead. It was a standoff.

The Mounties won the first game 4-3 and then lost the advantage they had gained when the Solons powered back for a 5-4 decision in the second contest. The opener was a completion of a suspended game of May 3.

The San Diego Padres dropped another half-game off Sacramento's pace, to 3½ games behind, by dropping a 6-3 decision to the Portland Beavers, who are in fourth spot, 4½ games behind.

The Spokane Indians gave the skidding Phoenix Giants another jolt, 5-1, and the Seattle Rainiers belted the Salt Lake City Bees, 3-2.

Vancouver's victory in the completion game came in the last of the seventh when Marv Breeding doubled in Barry Shetrone. The game had been suspended May 3 after five innings with Vancouver leading 3-2.

Clay Dalrymple's pinchhit single into rightfield in the eighth frame won the regular game for the Solons before a near capacity crowd of 8,039. Eddie Kazak plated the run. Ron Hansen and Brooks Robinson both got homers for the Mounties.

The runs came in bunches at Portland. The Padres picked up three runs in the first frame. Portland made it 4-3 in the second, then completed scoring with a pair in the fifth. Duane Pillette won it and ran his record to 2-0, although he needed help in the eighth when the Pads loaded the bases with only one out. Ken Johnson came in to retire San Diego without a run.

Rookie Chucker Fills Gap

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The old Yankees are back in business, with the help of a newcomer who was a long time coming.

Hank Bauer and Yogi Berra had the clutch hits Friday night as the Yankees, still fifth, closed within 2½ games of the top with a 3-2 victory over Cleveland's American League leading Indians.

But it was Jim Coates who put it away. The big rookie, 26, nailed the opener of a four-game series with one-hit pitching for 3 1-3 shut-out innings in relief of injured Whitey Ford.

Coates came on after Ford, who blanked the Indians on four hits for four innings, gave way because of a sprained ankle in a tying, two-run sixth.

That rally ended with Minnie Minoso's thwarted theft of home and the Indians lost their second in a row after winning seven straight. They now have only a one-game lead over the Chicago White Sox and Baltimore Orioles, who are in a virtual tie for second.

Detroit retained fourth place by beating Washington 6-4 in 13 innings.

Yanks 3, Indians 2

The Yankees, only .642 points behind Cleveland, scored the clincher with an unearned run on Bauer's two-out single in the sixth. Bobby Richardson raced home with the run that put them two games over .500 for the first time since April 23 after leading off with an infield single and reaching second on shortstop Woody Held's second error of the year.

Berra, whose tag on Minoso in a close play set off a ruckus between the Indians and Umpire Charley Berry, collected his 1,200th RBI with a two-out single for the first of two runs in the fifth. Loser Gary Bell (6-6), after blanking the Yankees on one hit for four frames, then wild pitched the other run home. Ford was injured sliding as he was forced at second in that inning.

Orioles 8-2, KC 2-0

The Orioles, winning four straight for the first time in more than a month, put away the sweep on a joint shoutout by Skinny Brown and Billy Loeb backed by Gus Triandos' 17th homer—the 100th of his career — and Bob Boyd's RBI single. Brown (4-2), gave up five of the A's seven hits in the last two innings. Loeb saved it by retiring pinch hitter Ray Boone on a fly with the bases-loaded in the ninth.

Gene Woodling and Billy Gardner each homered and drove in three runs for Baltimore in the opener. Billy O'Dell (3-6) won it, allowing only four hits, one Jerry Lumpe's first home run. Johnny Kuckes (1-4) and Rip Coleman (2-5) were the losers for the A's, who have dropped seven straight.

Tigers 6, Nats 4

The Tigers, who had lost two in a row, came from three runs back, tying it 4-4 in the ninth on singles by Ted Lepcio and Frank Bolling and a force play. They broke it up with a pair in the 13th on an error, singles by Cott Veal and Eddie Yost and Larry Osborne's sacrifice fly. Barney Schults won it with three innings of hitless relief.

'Hobos' Assisting At Gates

WENATCHEE, Wash. (AP)—"Medicine Men" and "HOBOS" are raising the turnstile temperature for a couple of financially shivering Northwest Baseball League franchises.

Last weekend the Wenatchee Chiefs played to an average crowd of more than 1,000 per night, the first time this season attendance there has reached four figures.

All but bankrupt and about ready to drop out of the league, Tri-City suddenly drew nearly 10,000 people in five nights of play.

The upsurge of attendance in the Kennewick-Pasco-Richland area was credited largely to a group of fans who organized a "Help Our Braves Operate" club and took its initials for the "HOBOS" nickname.

They sold tickets and programs, toured the area to drum up interest in the team and staged stunts to help entertain the fans at the games. So successful was the project that the HOBOS followed the team to Wenatchee for a series to help increase attendance here.

Dressed to match their nickname, they cavorted in the downtown district and at the game. One of them sold 240 scorecards—more than an entire crew has been able to sell any other night this season.

Now a group of Wenatchee baseball boosters have organized the "Medicine Men" to help their Chiefs and their first official act will be to "reopen the season" Tuesday when the Eugene Emeralds play here.

"We're anxious to remain in baseball," said a spokesman. "So we'll start all over to make the Wenatchee franchise a paying proposition. Our slogan is baseball's own national slogan for 1959—'It's fun to be a fan.'"

Mayor E. "Si" Simenson will throw out the first ball—only the ball will be an apple, in the Wenatchee tradition.

Another project will be a special "night" June 26 for Hub Kittle, Yakima manager and a favorite "villain" of Wenatchee fans. It will be called "Hub Kittle Nightmare."

Kittle has been one of the leaders in attempting to keep the league operating in the face of lagging interest. Only the Eugene franchise has been an outstanding financial success in a league in which all five teams are community owned.

Loggers Win First Game

McCLOUD — The McCloud Loggers opened their 1959 baseball season June 14 and dropped a 9 to 2 decision to the Anderson IWW in a much closer game than the score indicated.

Anderson jumped off to a 3-0 lead in the second inning and McCLOUD picked up a run in the fourth and one in the sixth to trail 3-2, but in the top of the eighth Anderson scored five runs when starting pitcher Don Kersten was knocked from the box, Butch Jordan relieved and retired the side and Anderson picked up two in the top of the ninth. Carl Long came in to relieve Jordan.

Leading hitters for the Loggers were Ron Caselli who tripled and doubled; Gene Hampton connected for a pair of doubles, Don Kersten had a pair of singles and Carl Long hit a double in his only appearance at bat. Defensively, the Loggers turned in four double plays, two from Hamilton to Huntze to Smith; one from Huntze to Hamilton to Smith and one from Kersten to Paolinetti to Smith.

Val Heckman, University of Florida tackle last season, is being counted on to play guard as a pro this fall with the San Francisco 49ers. He is 235 pounds.

Cuban Invasion Success

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cubans have landed and the situation is well in hand.

A three-man invasion team from Havana established a beach head Friday night at Madison Square Garden. All three will be back August 7.

The familiar cry of "arriba!" that used to greet Kid Gavilan's flurries echoed in the Garden for welterweight Florentino Fernandez and lightweight Carlos Hernandez and Douglas Vaillant. Although Hernandez was born in Caracas, Venezuela, Cuba claims him as its own because he has had all his pro fights in Havana.

Fernandez, the "big boy" of the trio, stopped Stefan Redl, Hungarian-born resident of Passaic, N.J., in 1:07 of the seventh round. Fernandez is a well-packed 144½-pounder with a solid left hook. Redl, stopped for the first time in his 28-bout career, weighed 147 pounds.

It was a strange ending. Fernandez was wimpy going away when he planted a left hook on Redl's jaw. Down went Stefan in his own corner. He came up at nine, just beating the 10 - count. Referee Harry Ebbets took a look and asked, "Are you all right?" Redl said, "Yes" and then proceeded to walk out with his hands down. Ebbets quickly jumped between the men to stop it.
