Gretchen Goertz Is Bride Of Charles Richard Davis

YREKA—One of the loveliest of June weddings was solemnized at the First Baptist Church of Yreka, when Gretchen Doris Goertz became the bride of Charles Richard Davis, on Saturday afternoon, June 6, with the Rev. L. Ray Sanford officiating the double-ring marriage rites.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Goertz of Montague, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Davis of Yreka, are the parents of the bridegroom.

The altar of the church was effectively decorated by a tall ivy screen, with altar baskets of white gladioli and stocks and lighted candelabra placed on each side. Pews of the church were decorated with white satin bows, centered with a single red rosebud and sprays of lily-of-the-valley.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was lovely in a ballerina-length gown of white Skinner's satin, which she had designed and made herself. It was fashioned with a short-sleeved bodice, and sweetheart neckline. The full skirt was smocked in a diamond pattern with tiny seed pearls. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place with a seed pearl tiara, and her only jewelry was a strand of pearls. A gardenia corsage nestled in a spray of stephanotis and tied with white satin ribbon, centered the white prayer book she carried.

Kathy Johnson of Oroville, a college roommate of the bride, was her maid-of-honor. She wore a ballerina-length gown of yellow moire taffeta with sash of turquoise blue chiffon. She carried a cascade bouquet of Marguerite daisies tied with white satin ribbons.

Kristen Smith of Oakland, served as flower girl, strewing yellow petals from the basket she carried. She wore a miniature replica of the gown worn by the maid-of-honor. Ring bearer was Paul Sherman, small son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sherman.

Best man was Joseph Koepke and ushers were Hank Nagel of San Francisco, and Ronald Washington of Yreka.

Candlelighter was Mrs. James Manton (nee Donna Mays) of Weed, and registering the guests was Ellen Higby of Alameda. Wilma Parker, soloist, prior to the ceremony, sang "I Love You," and as the newlyweds knelt at the altar, "Wedding Prayer." Judy Moore was organist.

Kathryn Crumrine Weds Kingsley Field Airman

Kathryn Virginia Crumrine became the bride of Freddie Blaine Morehead of Kingsley Field in a ceremony at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of June 7 at Peace Memorial Presbyterian Church. The nuptials were read by the Rev. Robert C. Groves of the First Presbyterian Church before the altar which was flanked by beauty baskets of blue delphinium and white asters and lighted tapers in tall candelabra.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert G. Crumrine of this city, was given in marriage by her father. She chose a ballerina-length gown of white nylon chiffon fashioned with cap sleeves and square neckline. Side and back panels of lace accented the full skirt. A bandeau of seed pearls held a shoulder length veil. She wore white mitts and carried two white orchids and stephanotis on a white prayer book. Her only jewelry was pearl earrings.

Karen Lee Hartley was maid of honor. She wore a blue flowered dress with matching headband and white shoes and carried a colonial bouquet of blue delphinium and white carnations.

Denis Marchand was best man and ushers were Jonas Higbee and Gilbert Dale Crumrine, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Ross Raglund played the organ wedding music.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Crumrine chose a navy blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink tea roses.

Parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Morehead of Maquoketa, Iowa, were unable to attend the wedding.

Immediately following the service guests were greeted by the newlyweds in the social hall of the church. A beautiful three tiered wedding cake decorated with love birds and topped with a bridal couple was cut and served to 50 guests. Assisting about the room were Mrs. William Crumrine, Mrs. Earl Kester, Mrs. Harley Hyatt and Elaine Jones.

The new Mrs. Morehead is a graduate of KUHS and is presently employed at Newberry's. Her husband was graduated from Baldwin High School and attended State University of Iowa. He is now stationed at Kingsley Field as airman second class, and an X-ray technician at the dispensary.

The couple is at home in Klamath Falls following a wedding trip along the Rogue River.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Soder and daughter, Marlene; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Stonelake, all of Coos Bay; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Elliott, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Larry McQuaid, Freeport, Illinois.

Grand chapter reports were given by Worthy Matron Madelyn Depuy, Edna Hunnicutt, Betty Halousek and Barbara Victorin; Refreshments were served in the dining room by Marie Hale, Gertrude Henderson and Helen Derry.

Approximately 150 guests gathered in the social room of the church, for the reception, immediately following the ceremony. The lace-covered bride's table was placed before a huge white satin heart, which was trimmed with red rose buds and lily-of-the-valley sprays, dotting the center of the white tulle ruffles that edged the heart. The four-tier wedding cake was decorated with white doves and roses, and topped with the traditional bridal couple set in an arch. Following the initial slice cut by the newlyweds, the cake was served by Mrs. Lonnie Parker and Mrs. Robert Singleton. Pouring the punch were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ruddell of Montague, assisted by Mrs. Norman Shaw, also of Montague.

In charge of gifts were Mr. and Mrs. Roger Van Buskirk. The reception room and the church were decorated by Mrs. Charles Phillips, Mrs. O. M. Walters, both of Montague, and Mrs. Lonnie Parker of Yreka.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Goertz chose a navy frock, complemented with white accessories. Mrs. Davis, mother of the bridegroom, wore a printed silk afternoon dress, with white accessories. Both mothers had corsages of white Marguerite daisies.

Tiny rice bags of net were made and distributed by Doris and Donna Wheeler of Montague.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Davis chose a turquoise blue linen frock, with white accessories and the gardenia corsage from her bridal bouquet. Following a brief honeymoon to Crater Lake the new Mr. and Mrs. Davis, both students at Chico State College, will return to Chico, where she will be employed in the office of the college. Her husband will enroll in a summer study course. Both are graduates of Yreka High School.

Following the departure of the newlyweds, out-of-town guests and a few close friends gathered at the Goertz' home in Montague for dinner. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Fitzhugh of Covella, California; Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Smith and daughter, Kristen, of Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Glazed Chintz Is Fine Portable Wall Cover

By KAY SHERWOOD NEA Staff Writer

Fabrics slip from the sewing machine this spring and head for the walls, where the paste pot and brush convert them to fresh backgrounds for rooms.

Some fabrics are especially processed for use as wall coverings—but not all of them.

Glazed chintz—and you know how many wonderful colors and patterns there are—can be used as successfully for wall coverings as for slipcovers.

One enterprising young homemaker points to an added advantage of chintz—when you move, you can take it with you.

She has rehung the same chintz three times in as many moves, and in various ways. Sharing her experience, she tells how she does it:

Measure the number of yards of material you will need to brighten the wall, or lower portion of a wall in foyer, dining, or bedroom. Don't forget to allow extra length for pattern repeats.

Powdered wallpaper paste, from the paint store, is mixed according to directions and applied to the walls.

Next, strips of chintz are applied like wallpaper. Mark the base line with a pencil and pull the bottom of the strip gently from the wall, cut with sharp scissors and press it back smoothly.

The glazed chintz dries without spots or lumps, says this gal.
