A talk with a friend

START SOMETHING- WITH A GOOD IDEA!

All great projects at one time were merely undefinable dreams in the back of someone's head. All ideas considered sound and sensible today were at one time considered to be wild, unsafe, and radical—and in many cases led to the imprisonment of the originator.

The day these dreams stop, the world faces a dark future. Many people dream, but few do anything about their dreams. And this is what I'd like to talk about.

If you have an itching talent or a burning idea, do something about it. Now. Today! No matter how modest or vague or unlikely it may seem at the moment, continue to bring it to somebody's attention; you may change the whole course of your life.

When Mark Twain completed his first magazine story, he didn't think it was very good so he chucked it away. He pondered it for a minute, then dug it out of the wastebasket and sent it to an Eastern editor. It was recognized as an interesting piece of writing, and the nation's greatest humorist was launched on a career because some obscure stranger in a distant city recognized his talent.

What would we be riding in today if, when they jeered "Get a horse!" at Henry Ford, he had gotten a horse and rejected the whole idea of his automobile as a bad dream?

How many times have you heard the crowd say, "It can't be done!"

The Wright brothers heard it (but the sound of a propeller was louder).

Alexander Bell heard it (but the sound of a telephone was louder).

Tom Edison heard it (but the sound of a phonograph was louder).

Everyone who has a good idea always attracts a crowd of detractors who are sure it won't work. The "Society of Second Guessers" is the largest group dedicated to making the world stand still.

If you're a short-order cook, a mechanic, a nuclear physicist, a housewife, or a member of a student council, chances are you have ideas and dreams that will help you and the people around you. Put them to work, now!

Theodore Roosevelt said, "Do the best you can, with what you have, where you are." Heredity, education, economic status, even your health, have nothing to do with your opportunity. If you do something worthwhile, no matter how amateurish or crude you might think it is, if it has real merit, someone (probably in the least expected place) will recognize its value.

As the song says, "If you feel like singing, sing!" Explore that idea, develop that dream. America will be the richer for it.

And so will you!

Don't be a victim of TRAVEL CONSTIPATION

Irregularity due to lack of bulk often strikes when you're away from home

Millions swear by Kellogg's
All-Bran and milk for gentle, safe relief

If you've ever done much traveling, you know that your eating habits are very likely to change when you're away from home. And this often leads to a lack of bulk in the diet, a common cause of constipation.

That's why so many experienced travelers enjoy a bowl of Kellogg's All-Bran every day—wherever they are. You see, they've come to rely on this delicious cereal food to give them all of the bulk they need to stay on schedule naturally.

And Kellogg's All-Bran can do just that because it is a whole bran cereal. And since bran is nature's best bulk-forming food, only a half-cup of Kellogg's All-Bran with milk gives you all of the good bulk food you need for consistent regularity.

So, next time you have trouble with irregularity caused by insufficient bulk in your diet—at home or on the road—remember to eat Kellogg's All-Bran. It's America's favorite whole bran cereal by 3 to 1!
