Jehovah Witnesses Of KF To Attend Eugene Meeting

The Klamath Falls Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses announced today that the majority of the congregation plan to travel to Eugene, to join 4,000 to 6,000 delegates in their "Awake Ministers" convention there, July 9-12.

"Knowing how enthusiastic we all are about attending the assembly, our friends in Eugene have been working for weeks to obtain rooming accommodations for us," said George Hriczisese, presiding minister of the local congregation. "Most of us have already received notification of reservations in private homes, motels and hotels."

The Klamath Falls man said that prominent speakers from the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society's headquarters in New York will be featured, including Max Harry Larson, director of the New York corporation and manager of the printing plant. He will, in addition, serve as convention chairman, and be assisted by Russel V. Mock, minister of a Brooklyn congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, who also works in the Bible printing plant as an engineer.

"The principal speaker will be E. D. Rosam Jr.," Hriczisese said. "His free public address, "When God Speaks Peace to All Nations," will begin at 3 p.m., Sunday, July 12. This will be the highlight of the assembly."

The Eugene convention is one of 29 to be held in the United States, Canada and Iceland this summer. Six are scheduled for the West Coast.

"Assemblies are as important to Jehovah's Witnesses as their regular meetings, which number five each week," the Klamath Falls minister said. "Our attendance at conventions affords us a unique opportunity to achieve deeper insight into God's word, the Bible, and thus increase our effectiveness as 'Awake Ministers.'"

SEATTLE (AP) — A Portland firm Wednesday submitted the low bid for construction work at an Air Force station in Baker, Ore., Army engineers here disclosed.

The engineers said George Moore and Associates Inc. bid $658,500 to build radar facilities at the Baker Air Force Station.

On another project, Max Kuney of Portland bid $690,600 for construction of a radar tower at the Mount Hebo Air Force Station on the Oregon coast, the engineers said.

Whopping Sum Paid For Stone

LONDON (AP)—New York gem dealer Harry Winston today paid $308,000 for a diamond tiara often worn by British royalty.

It was a second record for the auction of the late Duke of Westminster's estate, the highest price for a piece of jewelry.

Wednesday a London art dealer paid the record auction price for a painting, $770,000, for Rubens' altarpiece "The Adoration of the Magi." The dealer said he bought it for a private British collector whose identity he would not disclose.

Law Directs Official Duty

ROSEBURG (AP) — Douglas County Assessor Morris C. Bowker said Wednesday he is bound by state law to follow a directive from the State Tax Commission to increase timberland assessments.

That meant that a decision by the Douglas County Board of Equalization to hold firm to its lower assessment plan was only an empty gesture.

The State Tax Commission had ordered the county to withdraw an order to reduce assessments on standing timber by 15 per cent.

But the county board, through its chairman, said it will continue to oppose the state view. "We think we are right," said chairman Huron W. Clough.

The state and county agencies are in disagreement on how to arrive at timber valuations.

Critic Answer Given By Solon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore)—criticized by a colleague for name calling and the use of intemperate language—said Wednesday that he was amused by such tactics.

The criticism was made by Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) in a Senate speech. Goldwater quoted a number of Morse statements and said he was concerned that such remarks might damage the reputation of the Senate.

Morse replied by saying such attacks were not new. And he added that as long as he is a member of the Senate he intends to carry out his duties within the rules and in accord with his own judgment of what needs to be said.

Morse challenged Goldwater to sponsor a Senate resolution of censure.
