

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM KENT JACKSON

Jackson-Wood Wedding Solemnized In Willows

Conita Sue Wood of Tulelake became the bride of William Kent Jackson of Berkeley in a ceremony on June 13 at the First Baptist Church in Willows, California.

The double ring service was solemnized at 2 o'clock in the afternoon by the Rev. Glen Hammer before an altar lighted with white tapers and flanked with beauty baskets of pink and white gladioli.

Mr. and Mrs. Conley E. Wood of Tulelake are parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. William Cecil Jackson of Berkeley are the bridegroom's parents.

Mrs. Forest Borene, at the organ, played "The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin" and "Mendelssohn's Wedding March." She also accompanied Karen Coffen when she sang "I Love Thee" and Mrs. Don Miller who sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of tulle embroidered with flowers. High placed taffeta bands and a sash and back bow gave an Empire effect to the fitted bodice which featured a scalloped Sabrina neckline and long sleeves. The full floor length skirt was worn over a ruffled tulle underskirt. A shoulder length veil was held in place by an Elizabethan headpiece of lace and tulle. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid on an old Testament which had belonged to her grandmother, the late Mrs. Mary A. Hicks. For tradition she wore a blue garter, a borrowed veil and a lucky penny in her slipper.

Mrs. James Glander of Chico was matron of honor. Bridesmaids

Merrill Couple Wed In Church Ceremony

Doris Kathleen Bredeen exchanged wedding vows with Joe Wallace Collins at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of June 13 in the Merrill Presbyterian Church.

Baskets of blue delphinium and white daisies and candelabra holding lighted white tapers formed the background for the ceremony which was officiated by the Rev. Lloyd A. Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bredeen are parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Collins are the bridegroom's parents. All are of Merrill.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of imported white Chantilly lace over net and satin. The long sleeved fitted bodice, with a narrow yoke of tiny pleated net, featured a sweetheart neckline trimmed in sequin clusters. The skirt of lace fell in graceful folds from the pointed bodice to form a chapel train. A fingertip veil of illusion was held by a heart-shaped disc of pearl trimmed lace. She carried white roses centered with an orchid on a white ribbon.

Mrs. Raymond Mattson, matron of honor for her sister, wore an apricot taffeta dress, white hat with brief veil and carried a cascade bouquet of blue pom pom chrysanthemums. Another sister, Mary Bredeen, was bridesmaid. She was dressed in a frock of blue taffeta worn with a briefly veiled white hat. Her bouquet was of apricot pompons chrysanthemums. Junior bridesmaid was Beverly Jean Collins, the bridegroom's sister. She wore a blue nylon dress, white flowers in her hair, and carried a small bouquet of apricot pompon chrysanthemums.

Best man was Raymond Mattson, brother-in-law of the bride. Ushers were Bud Maupin and Neil Hodge.

Wedding music was played by Sherry Keck and soloists were Donna Conner and Glenda Story.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. Mrs. Bredeen greeted her daughter's wedding guests in a brown and white linen suit worn with white accessories and a corsage of apricot and white carnations. A white cotton dress and black accessories were selected by Mrs. Collins. Her corsage was pink and white carnations.

The wedding cake, baked by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Stella Darr, and decorated by her father and sister, was cut and served by Mrs. Raymond Mattson. Mrs. Darr presided at the coffee table and punch was served by the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Charles Alexander. The guest book was passed by Patsy Perry, cousin of the bride.

For her wedding trip the new Mrs. Collins changed to a tan summer suit with which she wore white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Both young people are graduates of Merrill High School. They will make their home in Oklahoma where he is stationed with the Army at Fort Sill.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Mildred Bray, Mrs. L. E. Lill, aunt and cousin of the bride from Medford; Mrs. Stella Darr and Patsy Perry, Ridgefield, Washington; Marvin W. Patterson of San Diego, brother of the bride.

FINGERNAIL CARE

Fingernails may have a rough time when you houseclean. Although you may prefer them long and tapered, there is less likelihood of chipping and breaking nails if you keep them even with the tips of your fingers. Well-manicured nails at this length are just as flattering to your hands as a longer length.
