Sing for Freedom or Tune Tag

Mabel Inglin

Here's a tuneful version of tag. The player who is IT chases the others, but they can't be tagged if they stop, stand still with hands clasped, and sing, even if it's only a song title. It must be a different song each time; if IT catches them singing the same song, they can be tagged. The person tagged then becomes IT. This game is harder than it sounds!

Let's Draw a Rose Ann Davidow

Here's a little swirl
that shows
The very center of a rose.

And are the fairest in
the world
When all their petals have unfurled.

In summertime the roses
bloom,
Giving off a rare
perfume,

To the eyes and to the nose,
There's nothing sweeter
than a rose!

OUR FLAG Ragna Eskil

1. What do the stars in our flag symbolize?
2. What is the meaning of the stripes?
3. Who is credited with making our first flag?
4. How many stars and stripes did it have?
5. Who wrote the Star Spangled Banner?
6. Name the fort flying our flag that inspired him.
7. How many stars does the flag have now?
8. Name our two newest states.

Answers:

1. Heaven; 2. Rays of the sun; 3. Betsy Ross; 4. 13 stars and 13 stripes; 5. Francis Scott Key; 6. Fort McHenry; 7. 49; and next July Fourth, 50; 8. Alaska and Hawaii.

Strike Up the Band Marion Ullmark

This Fourth of July why not have your own rhythm band? You can march, play patriotic songs, and have your own parade!

Here are some of the instruments you can make. A coffee can makes a fine drum, with pencils to beat out a loud sound. Two old pot lids make perfect cymbals. Dried beans in an empty baking-powder can add rhythm and zest. And if you can find an old washboard, put a thimble or two on your fingers and strum up and down it. Listen to the rousing racket that makes! In fact, after a practice session or two, you can surprise everyone with your special marching band and give a real holiday performance.

ON FOURTH OF JULY

by Nancy Clinton

On Fourth of July! On Fourth of July! We go in our for some rides, and Max takes his and I take my and my be-sides. We ride to a and we take off our and our and wade around, then we dig with our and we build a sand till a it over again. And we play with our until calls, Lunch! and then we eat and nice and too the kind only can make. And when lunch is over and we're tired of games we sit in the shade of a and tells us stories and we wave our and sing to the Land of the Free!
