LEATHER CARVING has become a profitable small part-time business for Lloyd Lung, McCloud postal clerk. A year ago he began his hobby with one stamp. Now, he has 75 stamps and 50 hand tools and finds himself "swamped with orders" from friends and interested persons. — Photo by McKinney

2 Employees Get Awards

YREKA—Personnel of the supervisor's office of the Klamath National Forest held an award meeting recently and presented two employees with length of service awards.

Al Crebbin was presented with a pin by Charles Yates, supervisor, for having completed 30 years of service in the department of agriculture. Crebbin entered the service as an assistant ranger in May, 1928, on the Lassen National Forest. He served on the Lassen, Sierra, Stanislaus, San Bernardino and Angeles forests before finally settling on the Klamath for the major portion of his career. His present job on the forest is assistant supervisor in charge of grazing, wildlife, lands, recreation and watershed management.

Kathleen M. Dowling was awarded a pin by Robert Ground, administrative officer, for 10 years of service. She is a secretary in the supervisor's office in Yreka.

Inventory Completed

YREKA — The Siskiyou County Conservation Needs Inventory Committee has completed an inventory on the project needs for each of the watersheds in the county.

They have made an estimate of the acreage in each watershed needing project action to reduce floodwater damage, sediment damage and erosion damage. They also estimated the land needing group action for drainage and irrigation projects.

This is part of a study to make an inventory of the nation's soil and water resources.

The Siskiyou County inventory was compiled by the soil conservation, Farmer's Home Administration, forest service, California State Division of Forestry, and the California State Soil Conservation Commission.

Chapters in the district and presiding officers participating in the ceremonies were McCloud Chapter, Mrs. Elsa Wetzel, worthy matron; and Robert McIntosh, worthy patron; Fidelity Chapter, Dunsuir, Mrs. Genevieve Tillotson, worthy matron and Charles Langdon, worthy patron; Dunsuir Chapter, Dunsuir, Mrs. Selma Porter, worthy matron and James Haley, worthy patron; Sisson Chapter, Mount Shasta, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Astmann, worthy matron and worthy patron; White Pine Chapter, Weed, Mrs. Marge Gilliam, worthy matron and Thomas Watt, worthy patron, and Evening Star Chapter, Etna, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stone, worthy matron and worthy patron.

New Pocahontas To Be Installed

YREKA — Mrs. Opal Hast, Yreka, will be installed as the new Pocahontas of Iona Council No. 11, Degree of Pocahontas, July 9, with a potluck dinner to be served following the ceremony.

Election of new officers was the high point of the recent meeting of the council, with current Pocahontas, Mrs. Madeleine Wiman, presiding.

Other officers to be seated with Mrs. Hast, July 9, are Mrs. Barbara Schable, Wewahatchi; Mrs. Bonnie Stanshaw, Ponnahat; Mrs. Kay Schuler, keeper of the records; Mrs. Hilda Reynolds, keeper of wampum; Vernice Beem, collector of wampum; Mrs. Mary Tusow, musician and Mrs. Estella Severns, trustee.

Also during the meeting, two new members were initiated into the council in adoption ceremonies for Diane Schable and Lorna Taber, with Pocahontas Mrs. Wiman, conducting the initiation.

Following the business session, 27 members present enjoyed refreshments served by the committee for the evening. Mrs. Barbara Schable, Mrs. Bonnie Stanshaw and Mrs. Alice Hogan.

FIREARMS TO MINORS
SACRAMENTO (UPI) — It will be a misdemeanor to sell a firearm to a minor under 18 without the consent of his parents or guardian under a new law signed Thursday by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The law was proposed in the Legislature by Assemblyman Myron H. Frew (D-Dunbar).

MARAUDING BEAR and destructive porcupine damage to signs in the McCloud USFS ranger district are discouraged by the novel means pictured above. Jack Prevey, USFS ranger said, "It is just another way of saving taxpayers' dollars. Without the spikes, the signs would not last a year. Using spikes to discourage the animals will extend the life of a sign tenfold." Not all animals are respectful of the signs; nails or no nails. Some of the more aggressive animals destroy the signs even when heavily studded.

Business Women In Yreka Honor Two 4-H All-Stars

YREKA—Carol Hammond, all-star 4-H girl and James Brooks, all-star 4-H boy, were the guest speakers at the dinner meeting of the Yreka Business and Professional Women's Club, Tuesday evening, June 23.

Present to introduce them was William Ruddiman, Siskiyou County farm adviser.

Following the formal opening of the evening's events by Mrs. Betty Dow, club president, Mrs. Marge LaFever was introduced as program chairman for the evening.

Mrs. LaFever introduced Ruddiman, who spoke briefly and explained that it was the outstanding work performed in 4-H that determined the selection of the boy and girl for the year. Before introducing the two young people, he thanked the Yreka club for its part in sponsoring the all-star 4-H girl on her trip to Berkeley last March. This is an annual project of the Yreka club.

Carol and Jim exchanged various phases of the convention, and described the activities they enjoyed during their stay in the Bay Area. They also related how

4-H NEWS

PROJECT TOUR
BIG SPRINGS—The Big Springs 4-H Club held its first project tour, with M. V. Maxwell, farm adviser and Kenneth Waters, 4-H leader present to point out judging of animals.

The tour started at the home of Big Springs 4-H dairy leader, Oliver Solus. The group stopped at the community hall for a picnic lunch, followed by the June business session.

The meeting was opened by the Big Springs club president, Brian McPeters, and song leader Susan Peters, first led the group in singing.

Jim Zediker reported on the skating party held at Montague Skating Rink June 13.

Rae Silva gave a report relative to club members appearing on a radio broadcast over KSYC, Yreka, where they reported on the dress revue held at a community club meeting. Those appearing on the program were Patty Machado, Kay Zediker, Brian McPeters and Rae Silva. Girls participating in the dress revue were Anna Kretzmer, Carolyn Stroud, Susan Waters, Millie Miller, Patty Machado, Rae Silva, Ray Zediker, modeling the garments they had made.

The roll call for next month will be answered by each member stating what he would do with a million dollars.

Following the meeting, the group continued the tour, which ended at Mr. Miller's ranch.

Shasta Police Taking First Aid

MOUNT SHASTA — Mount Shasta Police Chief Harold Captain and Auxiliary Police Captain Ove P. Nielson are having their crews take first aid lessons. Four city policemen and 16 auxiliary members are being instructed.

The schooling is being held each Tuesday evening in the National Guard Armory by Lt. Thorne Cummings of the California Highway Patrol. The course will cover 18 hours instruction.

The auxiliary police unit is made up of volunteer workers. They serve without pay, buy their own uniforms and equipment.

Eight stretchers for emergency use were bought recently by the members. They plan to purchase a respirator soon.

Supervisors Award Hospital Bid

YREKA—With a base bid of $17,540, low bidder, E. R. Cummins Construction Co., was awarded the contract for the remodeling of the Siskiyou County General Hospital kitchen, during the recent session of the Siskiyou County Board of Supervisors. Included in the base bid is general construction, heating, ventilation and installation of equipment to be purchased.

Equipment to be purchased will consist of such items as ranges, tables, steam tables, and dish washers, was set up under separate bids, with bids ranging from $11,215 to $14,825.

After some discussion with Robert Keeney, Medford architect; Robert McKean, county hospital administrator, and Jess O'Roke, county administrator, the supervisors agreed that McKean and O'Roke could probably purchase the required equipment for less money than the low bid, saving the county money.

It was indicated by the bids submitted that the cost of construction and estimated cost of equipment would come to about $50,000, whereas the supervisors had originally allowed $35,000, leaving a deficit of $15,000.

Following a suggestion made by McKean, the board agreed to add $15,000 of this year's unappropriated hospital funds to the already allocated $35,000 of next year's funds to complete the project. A unanimous vote was cast by the board to accept the bid and complete the construction.

At the urgent request of airport coordinator, F. H. Christiansen, that the supervisors establish uniform standards for hangars and other buildings and on leases of county airports, in an effort to eliminate unsightly buildings, the board agreed to request the planning commission to draw up a master plan and specifications for each county-owned airport.

The proposed purchase and installation of two-way equipment in county mobile units was brought up for discussion, when Frank Brockway of Esco Radio, Mount Shasta, appeared before board members to ascertain if the work will be let out to bid, as he understood specifications were so designed that only one manufacturer could bid on the system.

Assurance was given by County Road Commissioner Al Powers that specifications will be set up so that all manufacturers and any licensed person in communications will be in a position to bid. Funds in the amount of $14,040 have been allocated to apply toward purchase of the system, and will probably be offered for bidding about November 1.

A report on the canvass of the June 2 election on the proposition to annex the Highland School District to the Fort Jones School District was also given to the supervisors. There were eight yes votes, no one voted against it, the annexation to be effective July 1, 1960.

The supervisors also heard a letter from the Mount Shasta City Council protesting any road assessment funds raised within the city limits of Mount Shasta being expended on county road work outside the city limits.

Instructions were given to Powers to draw up a speed limit ordinance for the town of Sawyers Bar, changing the current 25 mile speed limit to 15 miles per hour.

Steamfitter Gets Payment

CHICAGO (AP) — Using a pen taped to his hand, a 47-year-old former steamfitter, paralyzed from the shoulders down, signed a settlement giving him $200,000 cash and $20,000 a year in medical payments for the rest of his life.

The settlement, signed with an "x" by Felix Kowalski, was approved Thursday by Circuit Court Judge Cornelius J. Harrington.

Kowalski will receive the cash settlement from Abbott Laboratories, North Chicago. The medical payments will come from the Northwest Heating and Plumbing Co.

The plumbing firm was Kowalski's employer when he fell from a scaffold March 7, 1958 suffering the paralyzing injuries. Kowalski was working on a new building Abbott was constructing. He alleged Abbott was negligent in use of unsafe scaffolding.

Governor Signs Two Water Bills

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Two bills designed to speed acquisition of San Joaquin Valley water storage facilities have been signed into law by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The new laws enable several water storage districts to begin to acquire permanent rights in Inabella Reservoir on the Kern River.

Both bills were introduced by Sen. James M. Cobby (D-Merced). They are both emergency measures. One of the bills signed Thursday allows districts to issue bonds so they may pay the federal government for reservoir rights.

Northwest City Honors General

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) — Gen. George C. Marshall, former U.S. chief of staff and former Secretary of State, has been honored by having a street named after him at this Western Washington city.

In the 1930s, Marshall was commander of the old Vancouver Barracks here.

The City Council decided Tuesday night to rename East Reserve Street and call it Gen. George C. Marshall Way.

Marshall now is gravely ill in a Washington, D.C., hospital.

Hawaii voted more than two to one in favor of statehood as far back as 1946.

The name of the state of Arizona comes from the Spanish name of "Arida Zona," meaning "dry area."
