

Glittering Red Exhibit Begins Stand Of 42 Days

NEW YORK (AP)—A glittering Soviet scientific and cultural exhibition began a 42-day stand today.

The Kremlin's No. 3 man, First Deputy Premier Alexei Kozlov, renewed the Soviet call for peaceful competition at formal opening ceremonies Monday night.

He also heard Vice President Richard M. Nixon say in a speech at the opening: "There is no magic formula which will settle the differences between us, no conference at the summit, which will dramatically end world tensions."

Today Kozlov—who shares with Anastas I. Mikoyan the rank of first deputy premier of the Soviet Union—goes to Washington, where he is expected to make a pitch for expanded trade between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Wednesday he meets with President Eisenhower, after a session with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter. Kozlov spent an hour Monday showing Eisenhower the exhibition.

The President seemed much impressed, and there was much to impress him. The 10,000 displays sprawl over six acres, and take up three floors of New York's Coliseum, a huge new building at Columbus Circle.

After paying the admission price, a dollar for adults and 50 cents for children, the first thing the visitor sees is a reminder of the Soviet strides into outer space—models of Sputniks, or space satellites.

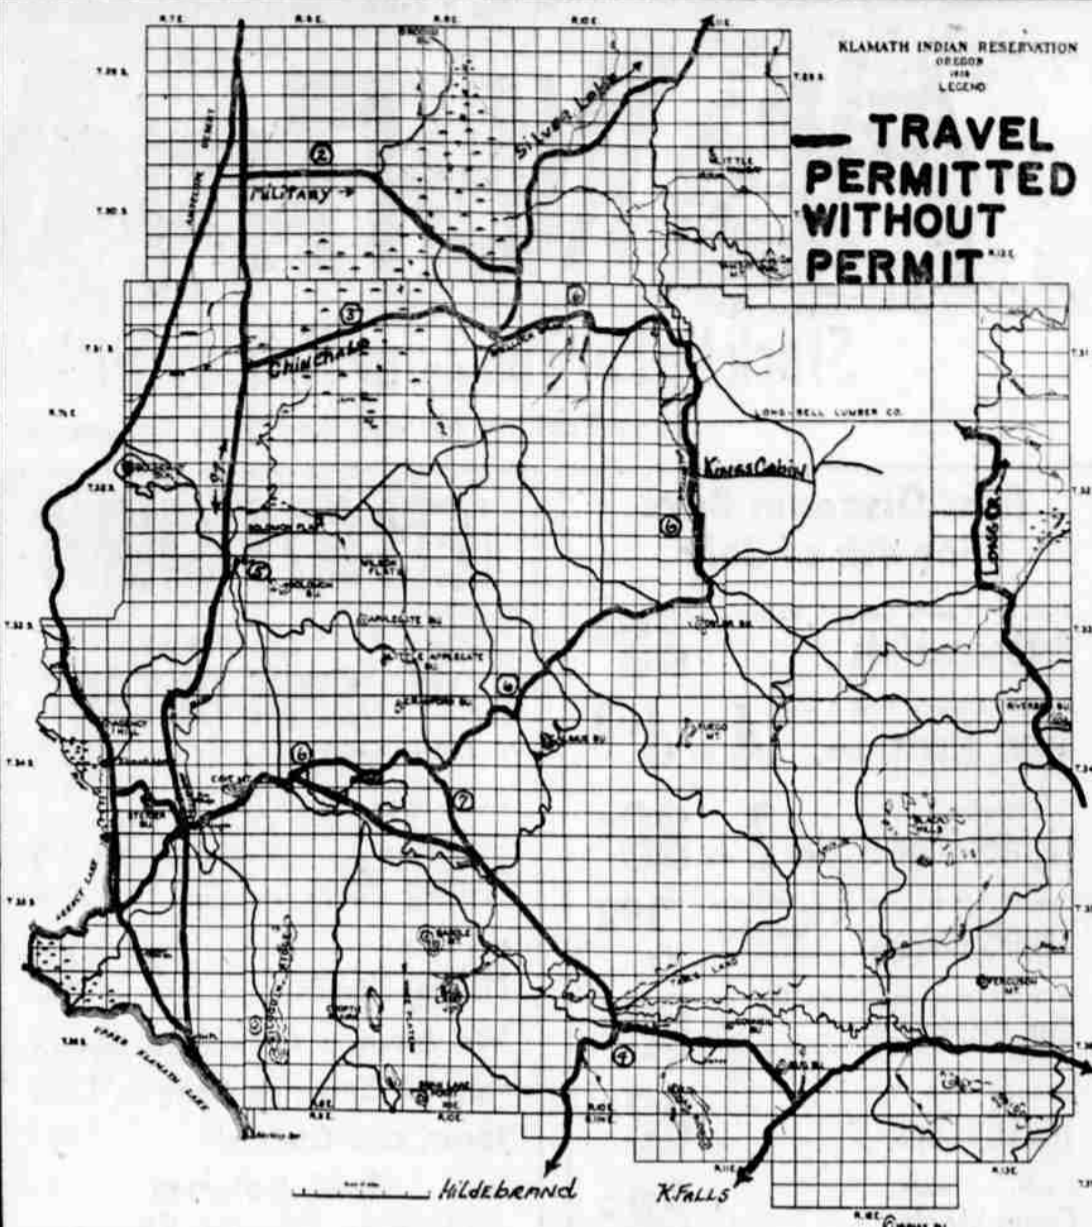

The exhibition, first of its kind here since the New York World's Fair 20 years ago, is held under an exchange agreement signed by the United States and the Soviet Union last year. The American counterpart will open in Moscow July 25.

Among the displays is a large model of the silver airliner that brought Kozlov to New York from Moscow. The airliner, the world's largest, made the first nonstop trip between the two cities—a distance of 5,092 miles.

A piano-shaped box of Soviet chocolates on exhibit bears the face of American pianist Van Cliburn, who took a Moscow music competition by storm last year.

There are Soviet automobiles, including several of the new, popular, foreign import size. They sell for $6,000 to $7,000.

Women's fashions, TV sets with a 12-inch screen, a miniature of the Bolshoi Ballet, and such subjects as public health, electronics, industry, and peaceful application of atomic energy make up the rest of the displays.

THE KLAMATH AGENCY has announced that after July 1, all roads within the boundaries of the Klamath Indian Reservation, except those listed, will be closed to travel by the public. The roads permitted to be traveled without a permit are all black-top highways; U.S. 97, military crossing to Silver Lake; U.S. 97, Lamm Road to Silver Lake; Sprague River to Hildebrand; U.S. 97 to Kirk; Skellock Draw, Yamsay Ranch to Sprague River Highway near Braymill; Lone Pine Junction to Box 1 and from Weyerhaeuser Timber Company Camp Six road junction to Long Creek. Permits to enter any closed area for business reasons will be issued to motor vehicle operators at the forestry office and the dispatcher's office in the agency. It is urged by the agency that on all occasions those using these roads should be careful with fires.

MDs Say Long's Illness Was Nervous Breakdown

COVINGTON, La. (AP)—Gov. Earl K. Long today was on the road to recovery from what psychiatrists have newly labeled a nervous breakdown rather than mental illness.

Along the road the governor carries plans to chop at least 40 persons from state payrolls. Some of them were somehow involved in his being committed to mental hospitals twice this month.

He already has fired three state officials — two of them medical men who held him in one mental institution — and he is divorcing his wife, who had him committed.

Three psychiatrists Monday night said Long, a voluntary patient in a small town motel, suffered from "a nervous breakdown from overwork."

Their report said the fiery, fast-moving 63-year-old governor recently suffered a small stroke or strokes which, combined with his overactivity, "resulted in a marked rundown state."

Noting that Long had a heart attack nine years ago, the doctors said: "At this time there is nothing that would indicate that the governor cannot make another recovery."

At present, the psychiatrists said, "the governor is rational, with no intellectual impairment."

Death Slated For Marine

BEAUFORT, S. C. (AP)—A 19-year-old white Marine, convicted of raping a Negro woman, 47, goes into court today to receive the death sentence.

The sentence was made mandatory when the jury of white men that convicted Pvt. Fred Davis Monday did not recommend mercy.

Davis was charged with raping the woman last April 7.

If Davis is electrocuted, it would be the first recorded execution of a white man in the United States for raping a Negro woman.

The trial began Monday morning in General sessions court. The jury deliberated an hour and 10 minutes.

The victim, who lives with her husband near Burton, four miles from here, told of being dragged into bushes near the National Cemetery and attacked.

Sheriff J. E. McTeer, testified that Davis admitted attacking the woman. He quoted Davis as telling him he sometimes had "an overpowering sex urge and got pleasure out of using force with women."

McTeer said it was the first case in his 33 years as sheriff in which a white man was charged with raping a Negro woman.

Davis denied that he admitted attacking the woman. He told the jury she consented.

'Hey Day' Set July 12

ASHLAND — The annual "Hey Day" sponsored each year by the Tudor Guild, is scheduled to take place on Sunday, July 12, at the Shakespearean Theater. It will be combined with the open house ceremonies of the new building.

No admission fee is to be charged and the public is invited. Booths will be set up to sell various articles and there will be entertainment for both youngsters and adults. Activities begin at 1 p.m., with guided tours of the theater until 7:30 p.m.

Members of the Tudor Guild will be dressed in costumes of the Elizabethan era, and a costumed crier will announce events. All proceeds will go into the Tudor Guild fund, which is used for the festival activities and to help members.

Hey Day is being coordinated this year through the general chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis.

Crews Probe Train Wreck

MELDRIM, Ga. (AP)—A full-scale investigation is under way to determine what caused Sunday's disastrous train wreck.

The death toll from butane flames reached 19 Monday night. Three persons are still in serious condition.

Sifting through the ashes and gathering eyewitness reports are investigators from the Interstate Commerce Commission, Georgia Public Service Commission and Seaboard Air Line Railroad Co.

The disaster, one of Georgia's worst, occurred about 3:30 p. m. Sunday at a recreation area on the Ogeechee River 18 miles northwest of Savannah.

Eyewitnesses generally agreed that several cars derailed, rupturing a tank car filled with butane gas. The gas floated downward over the recreation area like a ground fog, then ignited with a tremendous roar.

Another tank car filled with the highly explosive gas ignited almost simultaneously.

Sheets of flame streaked across the recreation area, burning everything in its path.

Seaboard officials said they found no track or car condition that might have caused the wreck. J. R. Thorne, executive vice president of the line in Richmond, blamed the explosion on "a most unfortunate set of circumstances, almost incredible (which) combined to produce the tragic events."
