

LENThERIC

Hawaii's our 50th State . . . and the lure of the luau and lei is proving to be irresistible for "vagabonds" in the other 49.

For, of all exotic vacation lands who can resist the promise of the South Pacific . . . it's luring music . . . fascinating people . . . delightful customs . . . unbelievable scenery.

Unquestionably, the most "fun" way to travel is on one of the fabulous Matson Golden Sun Cruisers . . . the S. S. Lurline or the S. S. Matsonia. You are in Hawaii the moment you step aboard . . . the music, the food, the mood . . . all reflect the joys of the islands.

There is a sailing every week (from San Francisco or Los Angeles) for you to choose from.

To be sure you are the most sea-worthy vagabond ever to board ship, here are a few clues to guide you.

The baggage allowance on a ship is completely unlimited, but since you will be traveling ashore, too, it is wise to confine yourself to two suitcases. A light weight pullman case and a cosmetic case or carry-all should do the trick.

Dressing for dinner is not customary for men or women the first and last nights at sea. Since the trip is only four days, one evening dress and one cocktail costume, with accessories for both will see you through.

Bring your own wash cloths. Ships never supply them.

In your effort to "travel light" don't forget to take along the beauty aids and comforts so necessary to the enjoyment of your trip.

Happily, Lentheric has solved the problem of carrying fragrances without spilling, with the travel-perfect refillable flacon "Vagabond." Available in a choice of three of Lentheric's famous fragrances, Tweed, Adam's Rib, Miracle, the "Vagabond" is an indispensable companion.

What wonderful fragrance news! Carrying bottles has always presented many travel problems. Notoriously difficult to pack, the graceful shapes that look so pretty on your dressing table defy being tucked safely into a corner of a bag. And how often have you experienced the horror of broken bottles and leakage!

Lentheric's "Vagabond" is so elegant, too, an accessory you will be proud to have seen in your bag or on your ship's dresser. Its chic cylinder of shimmering gold is topped by a ship's black cap. The famous Lentheric signature appears across the front of the flacon in dramatic black.

As for your fashion needs, plan on wearing a casual suit for your departure and arrival in Hawaii. It should be the type of suit that looks well without a hat. Hats and gloves are rarely worn on the islands and certainly not on shipboard.

Your daytime shipboard wardrobe needs (swim and sportswear mix and match mates) will include:

- 2 bathing suits
  - 2 or 3 pairs of shorts
  - 2 cotton drip dry dresses
  - 1 pair of tapered pants
  - 2 or 3 shirts and/or sweaters
  - 1 pair of flat shoes for deck walking, and playing shuffle board
- Of course, most of your shipboard clothes will be perfect for island wear too. And, when your Matson liner docks in Hawaii, you will step ashore, right into summer. Orchids bloom on these glorious islands 365 days a year. The strains of the hula will fill the air, the lulling breezes will draw you.

PICNIC SEASON is here and Container Corporation is doing its part to make picnicking easier and more fun. Ray Summers, left, and Keith George, of the Portland headquarters of Johnson-Lieber Company, were in Klamath Falls recently to introduce Container Corporation's new Pak a Picnic.

'PAK a PICNIC'

Container Corporation, which makes the popular waxed container called Vapocans for home freezing convenience, has now come out with a real addition to picnicking. Called "Pak a Picnic," it combines the advantages of the old-fashioned container but hers used to use for dill pickles out of the barrel with the newest ideas in disposable dishes.

So far, Pak a Picnic containers come only in pint size. They are packed six to a carton and are designed for carrying food. The cartons are wax coated to make them leakproof. They seal by means of four large funnel shaped flaps resulting in flat surfaces making it easy to stack one on top of another.

They are completely disposable so there is no messy cleaning up when you use them for a picnic. They are sturdy and unbreakable. They are so easy to use. If you are making potato salad, for example, it can be put into the cartons and refrigerated until ready to travel to the outdoor eating spot. Remember, too, in making potato salad, it is a lot safer to stir the ingredients with a wooden (instead of metal) spoon and to make the salad in a dish or glass bowl rather than a metal pan. Don't run the risk of contamination of cream dressings (cream pies, too, are especially susceptible to metal poison in summer).

Bringing the new product to Klamath Falls were Ray Summers and Keith George of Johnson-Lieber Company, 2505 NE Pacific Street, Portland, food brokers and manufacturers agents. Johnson-Lieber represents Container Corporation.

June and July temperatures of 70 degrees to 80 degrees, evenings are sometimes cool, so it is also wise to bring along a fur or cloth stole. Hawaii, is casual by day . . . dressy in the evening. Altogether your Hawaiian wardrobe needs will be adequately covered by a light-weight-coat, summer suit, sheath and jacket, shirt dress, two swimsuits, beach coat or shirt, a selection of shorts and shirts (mix and match) festive dresses for festive evenings and after-dark separates.

Hawaiian daytime atmosphere, though casual, does not suggest shorts or bathing suits for sight-seeing. Skirt and blouse separates are always in the best of taste.

Choose drip dry and synthetic fabrics like dacron, tycora, and nylon, whenever possible. They will add much to your enjoyment and add hours to your leisure.

Once your wardrobe plans are made, make a complete list covering every item so that you may study it carefully to determine whether or not it includes everything you will need. When your list is as complete as you feel it should be, consider the actual packing.

Since many of the clothes you will be wearing on the island, will be the same ones you will be wearing aboard ship, pack the ones you will wear on shipboard last. This will save you from having to unpack and pack twice.

ORANGE FROTH

Real Gold Orange Froth is made from the little six-ounce can of Real Gold Orange Base found in the fruit section of most food stores. It contains the concentrated juice of six to eight California oranges, plus added vitamin C. Just add four juice cans of cold water to one can of base. Mix vigorously. Makes a full quart.

Real Gold Orange Froth disguises the egg completely, yet gives this nutritive pepper-upper a milk shake consistency which all children—and adults—love. Best of all, minty Real Gold "Orange Froth" (or any of its variations) is so easy to make that a second grader can whip it up in two minutes or less.

REAL GOLD ORANGE FROTH

- 3/4 cup Real Gold orange juice drink (mix orange base as above)
  - 1 egg
  - Peppermint stick candy (1/2 inch crushed)
  - Crushed ice
- Combine juice, egg, crushed candy, and crushed ice in blender, mixer or shaker with tight lid. Mix or shake until foamy. Pour into tall glass. Garnish with sprig of fresh mint, if desired. Makes one serving.

REAL GOLD FLIP

- 3/4 cup Real Gold orange juice drink (mix orange base as above)
  - 1 egg
  - 1 tablespoon peanut butter
  - 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- Combine juice, egg, peanut butter, and vanilla in blender, mixer or shaker with tight lid. Mix or shake until foamy. Pour into tall glass. Makes one serving.

REAL GOLD PEP-NOG

- 3/4 cup Real Gold orange juice drink (mix orange base as above)
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons instant non-fat dry milk
- 1/4 teaspoon vanilla

REAL GOLD finds new ways to feed your family eggs and, hence, more nutrition to the family diet. It's Real Gold Orange Froth, a tasty combination of vitamin C-enriched Real Gold Orange Juice Drink and an egg whipped or shaken.

Combine juice, egg, dry milk, and vanilla in blender, mixer or shaker with tight lid. Mix or shake until foamy. Pour into tall glass. Makes one serving.

REAL GOLD PEP-UP FLOAT

- 3/4 cup Real Gold orange juice drink (mix orange base as above)
  - 1 egg
  - 1 or 2 drops almond flavoring
  - 1 small scoop vanilla ice cream
  - Nutmeg
- Combine juice, egg, almond flavoring in blender, mixer, or shaker with tight lid. Mix or shake until foamy. Pour into tall glass. Top with ice cream and a sprinkle of nutmeg. Makes one serving.

Kubla Khan

Kubla Khan's quick-frozen foods, now available in Klamath Falls, make summertime cooking so simple.

One new idea from Kubla Khan's kitchen for adding zest to patio barbecues is fried rice-in-foil.

This is delicious served with steak, chicken or lamb indoors and Kubla Khan's fried rice also takes to the outdoor charcoal grill like the proverbial duck to water. Quick-frozen and pre-cooked, Kubla Khan fried rice is available in three varieties—chicken, shrimp and pork.

Here's how to prepare fried rice-in-foil for that outdoor feast: Thaw one 12-ounce package of Kubla Khan fried rice for each two servings desired. Mold Alcoa or Reynolds foil wrap around individual servings, closing securely at the top. Place on the charcoal grill and heat while the lamb riblets or other meat is sizzling. Serve both meat and fried rice-in-foil piping hot. It's easy and so good.
