

THE PLANE'S contrail looked convincingly like an infant eruption of Mt. McLoughlin when Herald and News photographer Don Kettler waded across Klamath Lake near Rocky Point recently. By the time he set, aimed and clicked, the speedy northbound B-52 had crossed the path of a west-bound jet interceptor, scrawling an angular X in the stratosphere.

A LESSON in courage is displayed by Mrs. Frances Lindt, Dunsmuir, as she smiles from the bed to which she has been confined for nine years. Although she is physically disabled, she is active in community and church work. —Photo by Walsh

Patient Operates Business, Conducts Class From Bed

DUNSMUIR — "Activity of the mind is not necessarily limited by bodily inactivity," states Frances Lindt, a resident at the Dunsmuir Hotel. To prove it she runs a magazine subscription service from her special bed, and she conducts a weekly Bible study class.

Rocket Trip Best Answer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Next time Dr. Werhner von Braun comes to Texas, he expects to be riding a rocket.

from several operations. She has suffered setbacks, but is now sure she will be well again.

Until then she can read the Bible and engage in discussions with fellow members of the Methodist Church, with whom she has read the New Testament and part of the Old Testament in six years of weekly meetings.

She has been active in Girl Scout work, but finds her room size prohibits meetings of a large group, although she still helps girls with their badge requirements and with the organizing of new units.

Mrs. Lindt believes that her initial back injury occurred when she was sledding as a child in Dunsmuir, however, the spinal displacement which confined her is a result of a skiing accident.

Her husband, Percy, whom she married while teaching school at McCloud, is also disabled. He lost his arm in a mill accident, and now sells insurance.

But for both of them these are not handicaps, for they take a cheerful interest in others' projects. Also, they are looking forward to moving back to their home on Wood Street, where Mrs. Lindt says that it will be good to "stretch" out a bit in her home again—if only with her eyes.

Religion Plays Odd Role In Life Of Two Felons

By ROLLO TAYLOR
SPARTANBURG (S.C.) Journal
JEFFERSON, Ga. (AP) — A year ago Saturday, James Fulton Foster, 40, sentenced to death a second time for the murder of Charles Drake, calmly strummed his guitar in the Jackson County jail here.

ing law officers who spoke against his South Carolina pardon application.

He shows only infrequent signs of remorse for the Drake murder. "I know I did wrong and I know I must pay, but . . ."

But—he didn't know prison life would be so hard.

CAR'S IN GOOD HANDS

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (AP) — "Who has car four?" Patrolman Vincent Sansone inquired over police radio here after finding the cruiser missing from the department garage. "I have it," came the answer. Sansone then reminded the officer-driver it was his day off. The officer brought the cruiser in and went home.

LEE HUDDLE, DUNSMUIR

By PEGGY WALSH
DUNSMUIR—"A jeweler develops a great respect for time," Lee Huddle, Dunsmuir's only jeweler mused philosophically when asked about his profession of watch repairing.

'It's Like This,' Intruders Said

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—J. R. Heldenfels discovered a pair of young would-be burglars in his house. He cornered them in the garage.

After he called police, one of the youths asked:

"Why couldn't we get out the garage door?"

"It's a heavy door and takes an electric motor to operate," Heldenfels answered. "How did you get in my yard before you came in the house?"

The boys led him outside and said: "Like this," as they vaulted the high fence and escaped.

EMBARRASSING SWITCH

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Miss Corinne Geetersloh, Gov. Abraham Ribicoff's receptionist, was attracting special smiles and chuckles one morning recently. A little checking disclosed the reason—her desk nameplate had been reversed. The back of it carried the phrase: "Give them what they want."
