SHASTA VALLEY GARDEN CLUB

MONTAGUE—Reports and demonstrations highlighted the meeting of the Shasta Valley Garden Club held Wednesday afternoon, July 1, at the home of Mrs. Mary Lilly in Montague, who was assisted with business duties by Mrs. Alta Coatsworth of Montague.

Mrs. Henrietta Terwilliger, president of the club, conducted the meeting, at which time she reported on the recent meeting held at Paradise, California, of the Cascade District, which the Shasta Valley Club is affiliated with. Mrs. Terwilliger described to the group, the highlight of the district session, which was a complete course in the art of oriental floral arrangements, presented by a Japanese woman demonstrator, Mrs. Grace Morimoto of Sacramento, who not only discussed the subject, but demonstrated the "how-to" of the oriental arrangements.

Mrs. Terwilliger also told how the national organization of garden clubs recently dedicated a $450,000 building in St. Louis, Missouri.

Also reported by Mrs. Terwilliger was the results of the recent project "Pennies for Pines," conducted by the Cascade District, to raise funds to aid in replanting trees in national forests. Between all the clubs in the district, which is comprised of 789 members, enough money had been raised during the campaign to pay for the planting of two 10-acre tracts in the national forest, each tract to be marked with a plaque, crediting the Cascade District with the contribution. Mrs. Terwilliger said that the two tracts will be either located in the Bogus or Haystack Burns in Siskiyou County.

Mrs. Alta Allen, recently installed secretary of the Shasta Valley Garden Club, added to the Wednesday afternoon program with a discussion on the preservation of cut flowers, and preparing them for floral arrangements. Mrs. Allen demonstrated the use of wax and wire to achieve various effects of attractive arrangements. The next meeting of the group, to be held Friday, August 7, at Mrs. Allen's home will be devoted to further study of floral arrangements, and members are being requested to bring flowers for the purpose of creating arrangements, for discussion and constructive criticism.

Also discussed were plans for a garden tour at various homes in Montague and Little Shasta, to be held in September, with the group to stop at the home of Mrs. Jessie Terwilliger for lunch, and the business session.

The afternoon's activities were concluded with the serving of refreshments by Mrs. Lilly and Mrs. Coatsworth.

Welfare Director Granted Extended Powers Over Aid

YREKA—Siskiyou County Welfare Director W. M. vanOver appeared before the Siskiyou County Board of Supervisors with the request that he be given authority to rule on whether to "grant, deny, terminate, increase or decrease aid" under the county welfare program.

The board granted vanOver's request for authority to act, saving the board from having to give attention to each individual welfare problem, but with the added clause entitling the board to overrule vanOver by minute order.

With this resolution, vanOver is allowed to act between board meetings, which as of July 1, sessions of the board will be held only twice a month, namely the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

During the afternoon session, the matter of gas credit cards was brought up for the second time that day. After considerable discussion, the board made the decision that hereafter the company making the lowest bid on gasoline and oil contracts for the county, will also have the county credit card business for the contract year. This policy will be effective at the termination of this year's contract, currently held by the Shell Oil Company.

L. A. Hermit 'Improving'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dennis Farrell, the hermit of Griffith Park, is suffering from schizophrenia — but should be mentally sound after a few months' treatment, doctors say.

Farrell, 32, World War II combat veteran, emerged last Monday from the 4,200-acre park to which he retreated six years ago. He lived in caves and thickets and existed on berries, fruit and picnic scraps.

Psychiatrists who examined him at General Hospital said he is unpredictable and potentially dangerous.

However, Dr. James McGinnis, chief psychiatrist, said "providing that his condition is of fairly recent duration he should require only a few months' hospitalization."

Police Chief Says Officers Now Living Hand To Mouth

DUNSMUIR — The city council, looking at the city's needs before facing the problem of fitting these needs into a limited budget, Councilmen were told by John Petty, superintendent of public works, that it would take $163,000 to put the city streets in first class shape. He said under present pick and shovel methods, the city was losing ground.

Police Chief Lee Clark told the council his officers are living from hand to mouth on their present salaries and need a minimum seven per cent raise. He estimates salary raises for the entire department would cost the city $2,022 annually. Clark now makes $415 and patrolmen make $340 a month.

Councilman E. A. Christensen is getting professional advice on remodeling the decrepit city hall and estimated about $20,000 would be needed for this project.

Councilman George Wendell announced the city needs $36,000 worth of street equipment. He listed a used grader, a used roller, a new four-wheel-drive truck and a cement mixer as imperative needs.

Whether or not the money will be available for any of these needs was not determined. The city has a tax limit of $1 per $100 assessed valuation. Last year, with special assessments the rate was 1.12.

The city uses the county tax assessments for its own tax program and to some extent circumvents the low tax rate by doubling the county's figures.

Telephone Company, PUC Report On Cost Survey

By HELEN PARKS

FORT ROCK—A telephone committee hearing arranged by the Public Utilities Commission represented by engineer Sam Maerz from the PUC office, was held here recently, with some 85 people attending.

The purpose of the meeting was to obtain a report from Beaver State Telephone Company, represented by Lyle Cross, on the cost of service to the north Lake County area.

At a hearing in Lakeview in February, 1958, the PUC requested that the Beaver State show reasons why they could not serve the Fort Rock-Silver Lake area. The telephone company has received a government loan to serve rural areas.

As a result of this request Beaver State's plan, on a cost estimate basis, would involve a $250 contribution per subscriber, plus a monthly revenue of $15.55 from a possible 112 users. The per member subscription would amount to $28,000 of the total investment of $139,700 for plant and equipment.

Under such a plan, PUC would furnish toll facilities to a central office in the Fort Rock-Silver Lake area coming in from LaPine. Beaver State would be in charge of distribution.

Cross pointed out to the public and the chairman, Rube Long, that the figures he submitted were neither a proposal nor a commitment, only a cost study. Any proposal he said, would come only after a detailed study. He added that the cost study was based on a preliminary survey by Robert Welte and Associates, The Dalles, consulting engineers for Midstate Electric Cooperative, which serves the area.

C. H. Goetting, RTA field representative proposed that RTA and Beaver State make a cooperative detailed study. Potential users presented voted to request such a study. All local telephone committee members were urged to contact all residents promptly in order to obtain a new list of potential customers for use in the proposed study. The two communities are entirely without telephone service at the present time.

Maerz stated, "The PUC commissioner and his staff are vitally interested and we will provide any service we can."

After that he built and operated the first box company in Alturas. Later he was the manager of the lumber yard in Bieber and operated sawmills in Burney and Weaverville.
