

BASIN BRIEFS

Guest Speaker — at the dinner meeting of the Montague Rotary Club on Monday evening, June 29, was Willie Osborn of Oakland, a past district governor of Rotary, who took the members on a verbal tour of Russia and its satellites, East Germany, Warsaw, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Montague — Mr. and Mrs. Larry Walters and three children, Patricia, Chris and Vanita, have returned home from Portland, where they visited at the Oregon Centennial.

Recovered — from a 10-day illness, Charles O. Larsen, Yreka, is now able to resume his work.

Home — Mrs. Lula Penner has returned to her home in Langell Valley after spending a few weeks at Squaw Flat with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gitt.

Akuras — visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Peppie, Bonanza, is Mrs. O. C. Wells.

Returned To Inglewood — Earl B. Geldson left July 3 for his home in Inglewood, after spending 12 days visiting with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Dow in Montague.

Wiener Bake Picnic — Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Davis entertained guests last week with a picnic in their patio-garden. Guests present included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carey of Walnut Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mallory and children, Ronnie, Kenny and Rene of Weed.

Visitors — from Santa Barbara are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Givan and children, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ern Givan of Bonanza, and her father, Hank Ring of Klamath Falls. Bob returned to California July 6, but his wife and children will spend two weeks in Klamath County.

Houseguests — at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kelleston, Bonanza, have been his sister Mrs. Henry Bolts, Yakima, and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Bolts, Seattle, and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Blatman of San Antonio.

Visiting — their sister Mrs. Ruby Brown, Langell Valley, and other relatives in the Basin area are Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nichols and Mrs. Artie Freeze, all of Portland.

Home — Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Keyser and daughters have returned to their home in Langell Valley after visiting relatives in Southern California.

Spending — the holiday weekend in Langell Valley with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wooten, and Susie and Scott were Mr. and Mrs. Gail Reynolds, Garberville, California.

Langell Valley — Mr. and Mrs. Dee Chandler, Lakeview, spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Les Leavitt. Their daughter Gloria is a princess, as was Deanna Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown of Bonanza for the OTI rodeo. They will also attend the rodeo at Tulake July 19. The Chandlers are former Langell Valley residents.

Visitors — in Langell Valley at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brown, and sons is Mrs. Lula Brown and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Cook, Long Beach. They will also visit her other son, Marvin Brown of Bonanza.

Building — Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan, Langell Valley, are building a new home on the property they recently purchased from W. D. Campbell. The Sullivans sold their ranch in Upper Langell Valley to W. D. Campbell. Bob Hartley brought in an artesian well on the property.

Convicted Killer Will File Appeal — INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Connie Nicholas will appeal her manslaughter conviction in the pistol slaying of her married lover of 15 years, Forrest Teel, wealthy executive of the pharmaceutical firm of Eli Lilly & Co. The 45-year-old, twice-divorced Connie was convicted April 15 by an all-man jury. She had been sentenced to 2 to 21 years. Her motion for a new trial was overruled. She is out on bond.

Council Tells Final Count

CHICAGO (AP) — Accident deaths over the Independence Day weekend totaled 520, including 276 in traffic mishaps and 179 drownings, a final count showed. Sixty-five other persons were killed in miscellaneous type accidents from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

The traffic toll was 74 lower than the pre-holiday estimate of 250 by the National Safety Council. It compared with 310 deaths on the highways during the Memorial Day weekend.

The only recent uncomparable Fourth of July two-day holiday was in 1933 when the count was 262 traffic deaths, 121 drownings and 51 miscellaneous accident deaths, a total of 434.

An Associated Press survey for a recent 54-hour non-holiday weekend showed 240 traffic deaths, 70 drownings and 47 miscellaneous accident deaths, a total of 357.

Loan Rejected; Bank Held Up

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A bandit held up the G. A. C. Finance Co. in South Philadelphia Friday and escaped with $210.

Five minutes later police arrested James Powell, 33, of Jamaica, N.Y. Officers said they found the stolen money and a revolver in Powell's pockets.

Detective Joseph Maxwell said Powell admitted the holdup after being turned down on a $300 loan earlier.

BUILD DAM MODEL — CAIRO (UPI) — United Arab Republic and Russian experts plan to build a full-size dummy dam to learn the best way to construct the huge Aswan Dam in the Nile River, the semi-official U.A.R. Middle East News Agency reported Friday night.

"Frankly, good experience isn't what I'm after. I happen to be real gone about money!"

Herter Begins Final Plans For Showdown With Soviet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter begins final preparations today for showdown talks with the Soviet Union over Berlin. There is no sign he will offer new concessions to win Soviet agreement.

Herter, who spent the weekend in Massachusetts, returns to his desk for a four-day review of diplomatic strategy.

Saturday he will fly to Geneva for a new effort to crack the East-West deadlock on Berlin's future. He is to resume talks Monday with the British, French and Soviet foreign ministers, picking up where the conference bogged down three weeks ago.

Herter and top State Department aides are reported determined to keep the second round short. A two-week session at the most is looked for.

The U. S. view is that if the conference is to succeed, the Soviet Union and not the West must offer concessions.

A detailed review of the prospects has reinforced Herter's determination that no further concessions can be offered to meet Soviet demands the West pull out of West Berlin in 18 months.

Backstage diplomatic talks with the British and French governments are understood to have yielded no promising new suggestions for a compromise which would preserve Western rights without surrendering important principles.

Herter probably will speak out anew about the West's refusal to bow to Soviet demands at a new conference later this week.

The State Department said he probably would meet with newsmen before leaving for Geneva. He is reported ready to re-emphasize that the President will shun a summit meeting unless the Geneva sessions make sufficient progress to guarantee the likely success of a top-level parley.

Negro Held For Rape

YADKINVILLE, N.C. (AP) — A Negro construction worker, charged with raping an 18-year-old white housewife, was being held in an undisclosed jail today.

The man, Bobby France, 25, of Rt. 1, East Bend, was tracked down by bloodhounds Monday in a patch of woods behind his house. He is married and the father of one child.

He was charged with raping Evelyn Matthews, who said her husband had left home about 12:15 a.m. to drive a truck to Statesville. She said she was in bed asleep when France entered the house and assaulted her about 2 a.m.

There were several other boating accidents which killed more than one person.

Tragedy in many boating accidents was prevented by the work of Coast Guardsmen, life guards and individual boaters.

The holiday weekend climaxed a 9-day "Safe Boating Week" supported by boating organizations. The campaign ended Sunday.

Wife Refused To Leave During Impending Danger

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of three articles written about the Klamath Indians.

By ELIZABETH M. LOOSELEY
Clear and true on the cold air sounded the bugle from the fort. It seemed reassuring and it impressed the redman, as any ceremony did.

Captain Kelley put an extra sentry on duty and he watched both the sentries. He begged his wife to go to one of the larger forts, such as the Presidio or Vancouver. Her answer was always the same, "I knew you were an officer when I married you. My place is here."

After Allen David's talk the situation quieted down. The Modocs were giving the soldiers and the white volunteers a bad time in the Lava Beds.

Grapevine fashion the Klamaths heard the news, and they were like sleeping dogs, whose leg muscles twitch while they let out little yips—asleep, and not asleep. The snow was swirling, swishing, careening madly around corners and demanding admittance to the captain's home, when he heard a scratching sound at the door. He opened it, or rather the wind did, for he had opened it only a crack when the sucking, raging wind flung it wide to reveal a lurking snowplastered figure. Captain Kelley's hand fell to his revolver and he called, "come in."

The huddled form moved — stepped into the warm room. It was Molly!

She announced that the drums of war were not going, but the heart beats of the tribe were. They were inflamed. There had come into their camp an Indian, a prisoner from the barracks who had broken guard and escaped sometime ago, Rogue River John. He was saying fight, kill the Modocs—the soldiers. Kill! Kill!

They had been planning to quietly sneak out and set fire to the hay stacks at the fort. They reasoned that the soldiers would rush to the fire in an attempt to save the hay. While the whites were fighting the fire, the Indians would rush in, get the arms and ammunition, annihilate the fort, and then in triumph they would join the Modocs at the Lava Beds!

Though Molly was afraid for her own life, she had braved the storm and the chance of being discovered to save the fort. She would not stay, though Captain Kelley offered her the protection of the fort. Like a gray, gaunt wolf she faced the lashing wind to slink back to the Indian encampment, knowing if she were found out that worse than death awaited her.

Boat Mishaps Claim Many

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The increase of dangers accompanying the boom in boating was demonstrated tragically by the deaths of at least 60 persons in boating accidents during the nation's two-day Independence Day celebration.

Collisions were rare in the fatal accidents, but the crash of a cabin cruiser and an auto ferry was the holiday's most serious accident, killing six occupants of the cruiser. The collision occurred Saturday on Lake Michigan off Muskegon, Mich.

Four of eight persons in a home-made motor boat died when the boat capsized in Elmer Lake near Corinth, N.Y.

There were several other boating accidents which killed more than one person.

23 Years Ago

Monday, July 5, 1936 — Seventy-five guests called at the J. Royal Shaw home on Pacific Terrace on Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Shaw entertained at tea in compliment to Miss Carol Cunningham. Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. Carl C. Reynolds, Mrs. George McIntyre and little Miss Wanda Shaw.

Tuesday, July 6, 1936 — Mr. and Mrs. Jay Fairclo and family and Miss Janis Blackman have returned from a trip to Corvallis, Portland and Columbia River scenic points. In Corvallis they visited Betty Fairclo who was attending the 4-H summer school.

Wednesday, July 7, 1936 — Artistry of arrangement, a profusion of summer flowers and the spaciousness of the high school gymnasium, which afforded ample space for display, combined to make the second annual flower show sponsored by the Lost River Garden club one of the outstanding community events of the year. Mrs. Hugh O'Conner acted as general chairman for the exhibit; Mrs. E. T. Crawford and Mrs. Scott McKendree served as the decorating committee; Mrs. Dan Cashman and Mrs. Dan Barry arranged exhibits.

Thursday, July 8, 1936 — Mrs. Scott McKendree with Mrs. O. T. McKendree, both of Merrill, returned Friday evening from a motor trip to Marshfield and other coast points. Their itinerary was to have included a return by way of the McKendree pass, prevented by snow blockaded roads necessitating a detour.

Friday, July 9, 1936 — Members of the Klamath Falls Business and Professional Women's club will be entertained at a picnic Sunday by the Medford club, it was announced Wednesday. Members of the Klamath Falls group who desire transportation or further information, are asked to call Mae King Conradi at the May King studio.

Saturday, July 10, 1936 — Ed Davis was elected president of the Klamath Ad club Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the organization. Ben Pernigotti was chosen vice president, and Ronald LoForge secretary and treasurer.
